Woman Dies Of Injuries In Marin Auto Smashup

Several Accidents Over Thanksgiving

A San Francisco woman died early today from injuries suffered in a Highway 101 automobile crash north of San Rafael in which six others were injured last night.

California Highway Patrol investigation was under way today to determine whether charges should be brought against 18-year-old Jerry Murie, a mechanic of 202 Ridge Way, Fairfax. Patrol officers said his car caused the accident by swinging backward across a divider.

The victim was Mrs. Vera Collins, 73, a member of a Thanksgiving Day family party riding in a car driven by her son-in-law, Salvatore E. Misuraca of 17 Cove Road, Belvedere. He was southbound on St. Vincent's Hill, north of the Miller Creek Road intersection.

14TH THIS YEAR

Her death was the 14th fatality this year on Marin County streets and highways, as compared with 24 at this time last year.

The accident was one of many on rain-slick Marin roads during the holiday.

Misuraca, a telephone supervisor, said he was driving in the left lane next to the divider when he suddenly saw a car coming at his vehicle backward across the divider strip.

The other driver, Murie, said he had been driving with his girl friend to Novato and "the next thing I knew I was in an ambulance."

SECOND STRIKE

Misuraca told the highway patrol he tried to swerve from the path of the backward-moving car, but was unable to get clear. An instant afterward his car was struck a second time, by a southbound car driven by Robert S. Glazier, 32, of San Leandro, who suffered no injury.

Five of the seven hurt were admitted to San Rafael General Hospital, the other two receiving emergency treatment.

Mrs. Collins was pinned under the car and suffered head injuries and fracture of the right leg. She died early today in Kaiser Hospital in San Francisco, where she and her husband, Frank, 78, were taken after emergency treatment at

BURNING BAN IS LIFTED IN COUNTY

The ban against open burning in unincorporated areas of Marin County will be lifted tomorrow, County Fire Chief Charles Reilley announced today.

From tomorrow, residents in the unincorporated areas will be permitted to do open burning during daylight hours except on extremely windy days. Any extensive night burning still will require a permit.

Regulations pertaining to air pollution control will still have to be complied with, Reilley said.

YOU CAN SURVIVE

How To Conduct Fallout Cleanup

(Fourteenth in a series)

By PROF. WILLARD F. LIBBY

After a nuclear war, a first job would be to decontaminate homes, yards, streets, offices, and factories from lingering fallout radiation.

Two weeks after fallout comes down, it is only one tenth of one per cent as intense. Most of the radiation has been emitted. But long-lasting atoms remain, particularly strontium-90 and cesium-137, with an average lifetime of 40 years.

Though relatively feeble, this radiation could amount to a damaging cumulative dose over the years if you lived closely with it in areas which had been heavily dusted with fallout.

It can be washed off your house, or any building, or trees, with a hose. Even if your water supply has been contaminated with enough fallout to be unsuitable for drinking, it can still be used for this washing job.

Cutting grass closely and carefully, and removing the cuttings to a safe distance can help clear up lawns.

Areas within 200 yards of homes should be cleaned of lingering fallout. If the dust has entered your house, as through a broken window, it must be swept out, or vacumed up, and the vacuum bag discarded along with its contents. Automobiles, tools, any thing that has been dusted needs thorough cleaning.

In doing all this, you need a geiger counter to tell if your grounds or streets have residual amount of residual fallout.

Food is safe to eat if it's been canned, packaged, or wrapped. Radiation going through it doesn't harm it, or make it radioactive. Vegetables can be washed carefully, or outer exposed portion thrown away.

Water from contaminated reservoirs can be purified, by normal filtering, but probably will need repeated purifications, and careful testing to be certain that fallout particles are removed. In an emergency, you can evaporate or distill that water—pure water will be collected, with fallout particles remaining behind. Merely boiling water is useless—fallout particles are not germs that can be killed by heat.

Anywhere from 10 to 50 per cent of farmland, in various areas, might be dusted. Some would have sufficient amounts of strontium 90 to be a considerable hazard. On some fields, fallout atoms could be removed by taking off the crops, mulches, and other

Remains Found —Possibly Amelia Earhart

GUAM (AP)—Skeletal remains of two bodies, possibly those of famed American aviatrix Amelia Earhart and her navigator, Fred Noonan, who disappeared over the Pacific during an around-the-world flight in 1937, were found recently in a grave on Saipan Island, it was disclosed today.

The remains, including dental plates and bones discovered in September, were in a box being flown today to University of California at Berkeley for anthropological study.

Willis Snyder, Pan American Airways district manager at Guam, related that those who recovered the remains said they included dental plates.

The plates and bones were being sent to Dr. Theodore D. McCown, professor of anthropology at U.C., for study.

In Medford, Mass., Mrs. Albert Morrissey, Amelia's sister said she had been advised of the Guam finding but expressed little confidence that it was that of her sister.

Civic Center Area Bank Requested

A group of Marin business and professional men have filed application with the state superintendent of banks for permission to organize an independent state bank with the county civic center vicinity as its place of business.

The bank would be known as the Marin Civic Center Bank. Among those signing the application are L. Earle David of Kentfield; Samuel W. Gardiner, attorney of San Rafael; Matthew E. Hazeltine, retired doctor of Kentfield; Edgar T. Lindner, investment counselor of San Rafael; Thomas D. Minto, Kentfield realty broker, and A. Von Rotz, San Anselmo builder.

If granted the permit, the group will seek from one million to two million dollars in local capital for the bank, said Gardiner. He said the application is the first on file for a bank in the civic center neighborhood.

Rockefeller Still Hopeful

MERAUKE, New Guinea (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said today he is still hopeful his son Michael is alive and that he will remain in New Guinea a few more days.

But the New York governor indicated the chances of his son's survival were slim, saying: "I am a realist and I know what he faces if he reached that jungle."

A dispatch from Hollandia, the capital of Dutch New Guinea, said Rockefeller was expected to return there Sunday and to leave for New York Monday.

Michael set out to swim more than two miles through shark infested waters for shore after his catamaran raft capsized last weekend in treacherous currents off the wild jungle coast. No trace of him has been found.

Debaters On Sale Of Miller's Book Defend, Score Obscenity Law

Repeal of the obscenity law under which a San Anselmo bookseller is being prosecuted for selling Henry Miller's "Tropic of Cancer" was advocated today by a San Rafael bookseller and an attorney while San Rafael's city attorney and a Novato school librarian defended the law.

The sharply conflicting views were expressed on Radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board," moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer.

A listener asked whether Section 311-2 of the State Penal Code, under which F. B. Pershina, manager of the Golden Hind Bookshop, faces trial, should be rescinded.

Attorney Carl Shapiro replied: "I would, because such laws are philosophically wrong."

John Liddell, owner of the Cottage Book Shop in San Rafael, said: "I agree, because of the difficulty of defining obscenity."

A. E. Bagshaw, San Rafael city attorney, said, "Why not then take the drunk driving law off the books because of the difficulty of proving whether a driver is drunk?"

John Gallas, librarian for Novato United School District and chairman of the advisory board for Marin County Schools declared: "I wouldn't repeal it. It is some protection even if the protection is imperfect."

Shapiro said the conflict over protection against pornography versus freedom of writing and art was historic and was "involved with the Bill of Rights of the Constitution."

Bagshaw said he would be happy to "have a board of censorship by literary people who are decent people." Shapiro said this would do "more evil than good."

Parking Meter Money Theft Arrest Made

A former convict carrying three paper bags filled with dimes, nickles and pennies was arrested in San Rafael early today on a charge of emptying parking meters.

Joe Junior Johnson, 33, who gave no address, was caught by police in a taxicab after he had walked out of a tavern with the small change totaling less than $200.

He told police he had won the money about three weeks ago in a Reno, Nev., slot machine.

Police were first alerted when Dave Berwin Lucas of 2 Berkeley Avenue, San Anselmo, bartender at George's Recreation Parlor, 842 Fourth Street, notified them a strange man had left a sack of money with him for safekeeping.

Johnson was watched by police as he left George's and entered the Old Fashioned at 1105 Fourth Street. At about 1 a.m. he went back to George's coming out moments later with three sacks. Lucas later told police he had retrieved two of the sacks from the men's rest room.

He was arrested as he got in a cab. Held without bail on a charge of petty theft with a prior record—a felony—Johnson was to appear in municipal court later today.

Police said he had served time in San Quentin from 1955 to 1959 for grand theft in San Mateo County.

Cuba Charges Are Denied

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—The Dominican Republic today denied Cuban charges of U.S. intervention in its affairs and said the presence of American naval units off its coast was "most healthy" for the Caribbean area.

Dominican ambassador Carlos Sanchez y Sanchez said U.S. warships and planes sent to the Caribbean last weekend when the return of leaders of the Trujillo family threatened a crisis in the island republic did not violate international law.

He said the security council should declare "non-receivable" Cuba's request that it condemn the U.S. as an "aggressor."

13 On Transit List —Names Kept Secret

Thirteen bridge engineers, five of them recommended twice, will be considered for a review panel to study feasibility of putting rapid transit on the Golden Gate Bridge.

The names of the 13, not yet made public, were submitted by the presidents of California Institute of Technology, who named eight, and of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who named 10. Five names appeared on both lists.

The bridge directors, meeting today, referred to their rapid transit committee the study of how to select the panel, what results they should seek and how much it would cost. Rapid transit chairman Ben K. Lerer immediately called a committee meeting for next Friday at 10 a.m.

The directors indicated they would prefer a three-man panel, but gave the committee no direct instructions.

Whether to make the list of names of the engineers public brought a sharp division on the board. Marin Director Leland Murphy urged secrecy about the list, saying they should "make it clear we are doing it to protect the other engineers who are not selected."

But Directors Dan Del Carlo of San Francisco and Charles Reinking of Sonoma insisted the lists of names submitted were "public record," and that any engineer should be honored to have his name there.

The rapid transit committee will decided whether to release the names, and whether to invite Bay Area Rapid Transit District officials to attend its deliberations. It appeared, however, the committee would hold an executive session to discuss the individual qualifications of the engineers.

War II Leader Dies

WASHINGTON (AP)—The man who led America's first troops into England in World War II is dead.

Maj. Gen. Russel P. Hartle, 72, of Hagerstown, Md., died in Walter Reed Medical Center here yesterday. He had been hospitalized earlier this year at Brooke Army Medical Center in San Antonio, Tex., after surgery for a blood clot.

A veteran of 36 years in the Army, Hartle was given command of the 34th National Guard Division shortly after Pearl Harbor. It was the first Army unit to leave for Europe.

Food For Belgrade

WASHNIGTON (AP) — The United States says it is willing to sell more surplus food to Yugoslavia.

Belgrade sources said yesterday that Washington already had agreed to the sale of another 500,000 tons of wheat asked by President Tito. He said the grain was badly needed because of Yugoslav crop failures.

But the State Department said last night the two governments still are discussing terms of the deal and the amount of farm commodities to be sold.

Renewed Relations

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) —Brazil renewed diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union yesterday in a move apparently intended to demonstrate its freedom from U.S. domination —but it could mean trouble for the wobbly young government of Primier Tancredo Neves.

After a 14-year break, Foreign Minister Francisco Santiago Dantas announced the resumption of formal ties with Moscow during a tumultuous session of the Chamber of Deputies in Brasilia. Anti-Communist deputies almost shouted him down.

Angry congressmen, shouting "shame" contended that the Communists already had a strong enough hold in Brazil without the presence of Soviet diplomats in Rio de Janeiro and the inland capital.

Neves told newsmen that the renewal of relations did not mean that Brazil—which is 95 per cent Roman Catholic is selling out its democratic Christian ideals.

Flowers For Rhee

HONOLULU (AP)—Gen. Chung Hee Park, who came to power in South Korea with a pledge to wipe out the "inefficiency and corruption" of the Syngman Rhee Regime, made a sentimental gesture to the elderly, ailing Rhee yesterday.

Park sent flowers to the 86-year-old former president and his wife, who live here in exile.

Refitting Job

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Kitty Hawk, the Navy's missile-packing aircraft carrier, is in San Francisco Bay for a three-month refitting job.

The 60,000 Kitty Hawk, commissioned last April in Philadelphia, docked at Hunter's Point yesterday. She is the first ship to depend solely on Terrier guided missiles for protection instead of mounted guns.

The Navy said the Kitty Hawk will join the Pacific Fleet when the three-million-dollar refitting job is completed.

Mrs. America

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Cleve B. Masson is a lucky fellow. Not only is his wife the new Mrs. America, but serving her the traditional breakfast in bed is no great problem—she seldom eats much in the morning.

Auburn-haired Lila Masson, a pretty 5-foot-5 mother of three, had her mind more on the extensive trips she will make in the next year on behalf of sponsors of Mrs. America, 1962.

"I've never traveled much," said Mrs. Masson, who lives in Redford Township, Mich., near Detroit. "I'm really looking forward to it."

Mrs. Masson, 39, was chosen Mrs. America yesterday in the climax of the rivalry that began Nov. 13 with arrival of homemaking queens from all 50 states and the District of Columbia.

Runner-up was Mrs. Arizona, Angelyn Almond of Phoenix. Mrs. Minnesota, Gloria Schultz of St. Paul, was third.

Five Die In Crash

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — An Air Force transport carrying 10 men crashed and burned 17 miles south of Whitehorse yesterday. Five men died, two are missing and three parachuted safely.

The pilot was trying to nurse the crippled plane to Whitehorse, where he had taken off moments before. He reported an emergency but did not say what it was.

Adenauer Sick

BONN, Germany (AP) — The cold that prevented Chancellor Konrad Adenauer from filling some of his engagements in Washington is still plaguing the West German leader. The 83-year-old chancellor, who returned from Washington yesterday, was confined to his home today.

STATE SENATOR DIES—State Sen. John J. Hollister, 60, of Santa Barbara died yesterday. A Democrat, he had been a member of the upper house of the state legislature since 1955. Gov. Edmund G. Brown praised him as a dedicated legislator and close friend. Hollister's wife is the former Cynthia Boyd of San Rafael. (AP Wirephoto)

SAD HOLIDAY

Raft Girl May Go Home Soon

MIAMI (AP)—Terry Jo Duperrault, who lost her parents, brother and sister in the Bluebelle tragedy, could look forward today to returning to familiar Green Bay, Wis. scenes for a while.

The administrator of her parents' estate said the pretty blonde 11-year-old probably would go to live with an aunt, Mrs. Ralph Scheer, at the Green Bay suburb of Depere until a court names a guardian.

Attorney Colburn C. Cherney said Terry Jo herself "will have something to say as far as the appointment of a guardian is concerned."

Mrs. Scheer spent Thanksgiving Bay with Terry Jo in the Miami hospital room where the child is recuperating from exposure and exhaustion she suffered in three and a half days adrift on a life raft in tropic waters.

It was a glum holiday for Terry Jo. Her physician said she was "down in the dumps" on her first Thanksgiving Day as an orphan.

There was no word on when Terry Jo will be discharged from the hospital.

Dr. Arthur Dupperault, 49, a Green Bay optometrist; his wife, Jean, 38; their son, Brian, 14, and daughter, Renee, 8, and Mary Harvey, 34 were lost Nov. 12 in the mysterious sinking of the Fort Lauderdale ketch Bluebelle which the Dupperaults had chartered for a Bahamas vacation sail.

Mrs. Harvey's husband, Julian, 44, captain of the yacht, was rescued from a small boat Nov. 13 and came to Miami. He committed suicide less than 24 hours after hearing that Terry Jo, who had managed to launch a life raft, also had been found alive.

Harvey had told Coast Guard investigators that a squall broke the masts of the Bluebelle and knocked a hole in her hull, and that all on board jumped into the Atlantic Ocean when fire broke out. Terry Jo said the masts did not topple, she saw no fire and smelled no smoke, but did see her mother and brother lying motionless on a bloody deck.

The Coast Guard has not announced completion of its inquiry. The officer conducting it said he saw no reason to doubt Terry Jo's story of the last moments of the Bluebelle.

Navajo Songfest Ends In Death For Indian

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Nine Navajo Indians, all young and all homesick for Arizona, gathered in the pre-dawn mist of San Francisco's Ocean Beach and began to sing the tribal songs of home.

While the surf boomed behind them and the wind set the cypress trees rustling, they drank chilled champagne and sang in Navajo.

But the drink began to tell. A fight started. And when it was over a tribesman, 23-year-old Wayne Etsitty, lay dead.

Another of the group, Herbert Billah, 19, was held on suspicion of murder.

The Indians had come to San Francisco recently in a resettlement program under the auspices of the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

Tuesday night, as police reconstructed events, they started drinking in a downtown bar named The Apache. At about 12:30 a.m. Wednesday they moved the party to the beach near Fort Funston.

The men sat down in their traditional rows—five on one side and four on the other—and sang the songs they learned in childhood. The songs were sung as solos, successive members taking up the chant when a singer stopped.

At about 4 o'clock the fight started. Police said Danny Cobani, 21, one of the group, told them that Billah became angry when Etsitty sang out of turn.

In the melee that followed Etsitty fell to the sand. Police said Billah kicked him three times in the head and chest.

Billah told police Etsitty fell to the ground after he took a swing at him. "That was my only chance," he said, "so I kicked him," police quoted him as saying.

Billah's left hand was in a cast because of a knuckle fracture. He said he was powerless to defend himself except with his feet.

Dominican Riots Broken Up By Troops

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Tanks roared through the streets of the newly renamed Dominican capital and jet planes zoomed overhead last night to break up mobs looting Trujillo-owned properties.

President Joaquin Balaguer proclaimed a dusk-to-dawn curfew after the most violent rioting since assassination removed Dictator Rafael L. Trujillo's iron control and started the nation on the heady path of liberty.

Troops cleared the streets of the capital and patrolled through the night amid fears of continuing new outbursts of vengeance against the Trujillos, all of whom have now fled the island.

Argentine Jetliner Crashes, Killing 52

SAO PAULO, Brazil (UPI) — A British-built Argentine jetliner on the way to New York crashed near here early yesterday, killing all 52 persons aboard.

The dead included two men believed to be Americans, three Argentines on their way to join relatives in New York and an Austrian. The other 46 crash victims were Argentines.

The casualties increased the toll of Argentine air crashes in the past year to 173 dead. Thirty-one were killed in the wreck of an Army transport last Dec. 12, 23 in a domestic airline crash Jan. 7, and 67 on another internal flight July 19.

The comet jet wrecked yesterday plunged to earth from an altitude of about 3,000 feet, less than two minutes after taking off from the Viracopos Air Base, 60 miles west of here. One of its refueling stops.

Ocean waves are so powerful they have been known to hurl rocks weighing many tons onto the top of cliffs more than 100 feet high.

SAD HOLIDAY

Raft Girl May Go Home Soon

MIAMI (AP)—Terry Jo Duperrault, who lost her parents, brother and sister in the Bluebelle tragedy, could look forward today to returning to familiar Green Bay, Wis. scenes for a while.

The administrator of her parents' estate said the pretty blonde 11-year-old probably would go to live with an aunt, Mrs. Ralph Scheer, at the Green Bay suburb of Depere until a court names a guardian.

Attorney Colburn C. Cherney said Terry Jo herself "will have something to say as far as the appointment of a guardian is concerned."

Mrs. Scheer spent Thanksgiving Bay with Terry Jo in the Miami hospital room where the child is recuperating from exposure and exhaustion she suffered in three and a half days adrift on a life raft in tropic waters.

It was a glum holiday for Terry Jo. Her physician said she was "down in the dumps" on her first Thanksgiving Day as an orphan.

There was no word on when Terry Jo will be discharged from the hospital.

Dr. Arthur Dupperault, 49, a Green Bay optometrist; his wife, Jean, 38; their son, Brian, 14, and daughter, Renee, 8, and Mary Harvey, 34 were lost Nov. 12 in the mysterious sinking of the Fort Lauderdale ketch Bluebelle which the Dupperaults had chartered for a Bahamas vacation sail.

Mrs. Harvey's husband, Julian, 44, captain of the yacht, was rescued from a small boat Nov. 13 and came to Miami. He committed suicide less than 24 hours after hearing that Terry Jo, who had managed to launch a life raft, also had been found alive.

Terry Jo said the masts did not topple, she saw no fire and smelled no smoke, but did see her mother and brother lying motionless on a bloody deck.

The Coast Guard has not announced completion of its inquiry. The officer conducting it said he saw no reason to doubt Terry Jo's story of the last moments of the Bluebelle.

Navajo Songfest Ends In Death For Indian

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Nine Navajo Indians, all young and all homesick for Arizona, gathered in the pre-dawn mist of San Francisco's Ocean Beach and began to sing the tribal songs of home.

While the surf boomed behind them and the wind set the cypress trees rustling, they drank chilled champagne and sang in Navajo.

But the drink began to tell. A fight started. And when it was over a tribesman, 23-year-old Wayne Etsitty, lay dead.

Dominican Riots Broken Up By Troops

ACCIDENTS

San Rafael General Hospital. Her husband, who suffered face cuts, was reported in good condition today.

Misuraca, with injuries to mouth, teeth and chest, was reported in satisfactory condition. His wife Virginia, 48, daughter of the Collinses, suffered a broken left arm and cuts on the left leg and also was reported in satisfactory condition. Their daughter Barbara Misuraca, 21, was treated for leg scratches.

Murie was treated for scalp cuts and injury of the left shoulder. His passenger, Glenna Kilgore, 17, of 10 Napa Street, Fairfax, was in satisfactory condition but suffering from a neck injury and bruised right knee.

A Vallejo truck driver was critically injured when his sewage-filled tank truck went off the west end of the Panoramic Highway down over the Shoreline Highway at 8:45 a.m. yesterday.

John Henry Walker, 34, was en route up Panoramic Highway from Stinson Beach when his truck skidded, went over a bank, rolled 75 feet downhill, crossed the Shoreline road and continued another 30 feet.

Walker was pinned under the cab of the truck. As the truck body tumbled, its sewage tank broke loose and remained on the Shoreline Highway, blocking traffic for half an hour.

Walker was under treatment today at Marin General Hospital for severe injuries of the spine and head. He underwent surgery yesterday.

"Bad tires" were blamed by Harold S. Wood of Richmond, a Southern Pacific railroad switchman, for a crash early yesterday on the Greenbrae offramp from Highway 101, in which he and a passenger were hurt.

Wood was driving from Sausalito, Richmond-bound, at 3:50 a.m. when the left front tire of his car blew out. The car crashed against the abutment. Wood's passenger, Robert D. McClellan of Point Richmond, employed by a Sausalito dredging company, was flung 12 feet from the vehicle.

McClellan was treated at Marin General Hospital for rib injuries. Wood, suffering minor hurts, refused treatment.

A San Anselmo man and his wife were taken to the hospital Wednesday about 7:30 p.m. after they were struck by an automobile at a San Rafael intersection.

Elmer S. Palmquist, 59, of 88 Hilldale Road, and his wife, Thelma, 59, were reported in fair condition today at San Rafael General Hospital. Both of his legs were broken, while she suffered a broken left leg. Palmquist is part owner of Palmquist-Nilsen Co., a linoleum firm in San Anselmo.

Driving the car that struck them was Marvin Robert Stauts of 408 Forbes Avenue, San Rafael. He was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

A two-car collision at Francisco Boulevard and Irwin Street Wednesday night sent a San Anselmo woman to the hospital with facial cuts.

Cars driven by Mary Marcella Townsend, 27, of 815 C Street, San Rafael, and Melvin Manor, 30 of 25 Ancha Vista Way, San Anselmo, collided as they started under the underpass.

Released yesterday from San Rafael General Hospital after treatment for cut forehead and nose was Manor's wife, Sharon Lee, 21.

Patrick Edward Murphy, 55, Inverness, was injured when his car skidded into a ditch beside Shoreline Highway just south of Olema at 4 p.m. Wednesday as he was returning from work.

Murphy was taken to Marin General Hospital for treatment of scalp cuts and chest bruises.

Jewelry Store Tapped For $45

The cash register at Rafael Jewelers at 1144 Fourth Street in San Rafael was tapped for about $45 Wednesday afternoon, Eugene T. Baglietto, proprietor of the store, told police.

Baglietto said two men entered the store about 1:45 p.m. on Wednesday. One of the men remained in the front of the store while the other accompanied him to the rear of the store to "look at some jewelry."

The money, in $5 and $10 bills, was discovered to be missing from the cash drawer after the men left the store, Baglietto said.

Butler's Condition Slightly Improved

Retired Judge Edward I. Butler, 87, was reported slightly improved at San Rafael General Hospital today.

Hospital officials said he is able to talk and took some nourishment. The former Marin Superior Court judge was stricken last Saturday and has been critically ill for several days.

Good Deed Backfires At Station

Luther Jackson of San Rafael, manager of the Smilin' Ed Wood Service Station at 619 East Blithedale Avenue in Mill Valley, discovered last night he had been taken.

Tuesday night Jackson picked up a hitchhiker, fed him, housed him and gave him a part-time job. Last night he learned the man had taken $433 from his safe, and driven away in a stolen 1951 sedan. With the station unattended, people were helping themselves to gasoline.

Grand theft warrants were issued for the man, who gave his name as Ken Vanessi.

Jackson told Capt. Joe Canet he picked up Vanessi Tuesday night near Ignacio. Vanessi, who is about 38, is 5 feet and 3 inches tall, weights 165 and wears glasses, and said he was from Southern California.

At 7:14 p.m. yesterday, police received a call from a Mill Valley resident who said the station was unattended.

The automobile which Vanessi took was owned by Richard Weeder of Mill Valley, who had left it at the station for servicing.

$3,000-Burglary In Tam Valley

Richard Lee Carter and Lynn Haslett Emrick of 301 Live Oak Drive in Tamalpais Valley didn't have much to be thankful for yesterday.

They returned home last midnight to find their home had been cleaned out of about $3,000 worth of household items.

Carter, 39, a bank worker, told sheriff's deputies he and Emrick, a hairdresser, had been away for Thanksgiving. When they got home last night, they found the front door open and their home ransacked.

Among missing items were a television-phonograph worth $800, a $1,000 diamond ring, $1,200 worth of records, a clock radio, and blankets.

Thief Gets Away With —Nothing

A strong-arm thief not only had a fight on his hands but got nothing for his pains as he grabbed a purse from a woman walking alone on a San Rafael street Wednesday night.

Eleanor Madeline Williams, 43, of 520 D Street told police a "young man wearing a white jacket and black trousers" jumped from behind a hedge at Second and D streets as she was walking home about 11:15 p.m. He grabbed her around the face, she said, causing her to drop her purse.

Apparently frightened by her screams and fighting, the man picked up the purse and ran, she told police.

It was then that she discovered that her wallet and keys had fallen out of the purse, which contained only a few papers. She did not say how much was in the wallet.

Witnesses, attracted by her screams, chased the man to a waiting car at Second and Shaver streets, in which he escaped.

SURVIVAL

types of ground cover, and burning them or depositing the ashes and sod at safe distances.

In other areas, the residual fallout could be removed by scraping off the top inch of bare soil.

Some of the most heavily dusted areas might have to be abandoned, for a time, or used carefully in special ways.

Milk cows should not be permitted to graze on lands heavily contaminated with strontium, because strontium enters their milk, and strontium tends to concentrate, like calcium, in bone.

But the strontium-contaminated land could be used to grow corn, or hay, which then could be fed to cows and pigs to produce beef and pork or it could be used for grazing beef cattle. The strontium-contaminated grazing lands could be used in this indirect way to produce safe meat—but not milk, and not vegetables for human consumption.

Crab Fishing Is Still Poor

Poor crab catches continue and some fishermen today were considering demanding 25 cents a pound because of the scarcity.

It was also reported that fishermen are heading north to Eureka.

"The situation is very bad," Cass Gidley, fisherman and crab wholesaler in Sausalito, said. "I don't think there will be any crab this year off the gate."

Sausalito Battle Puts Five In Jail

What started as a fight between two women early today required six law officers to quell and landed five Marin City residents in jail.

At 12:15 a.m., Sausalito Police Sgt. David Cooper received a report of a fight in progress at a parking lot at 621 Bridgeway.

He arrived to find two fights under way. Mrs. Clenzell Marbury of 107 Drake Avenue was swinging a long piece of tin at Barbara Jean Bailey of 62 Cole Drive. A second fight was going on in the car of William Kennedy of 1 Cole Drive, with Kennedy attempting to be peacemaker.

Sergeant Cooper grabbed the piece of tin from Miss Bailey. But the two women were too much for him. He raced back to his car and radioed for assistance.

Kennedy, meanwhile, overpowered one combatant, Charles Blande of House 223. While Cooper was handcuffing Blande, Nayland Mitchell of Box 12 got embroiled with the two women.

"At one point," reported Cooper, "while holding Mrs. Marbury, Miss Bailey slipped up behind me with two large bricks in her hand and raised her arm to throw a brick."

Cooper deflected the throw. Next, his flashlight was knocked from his hand. He looked for it and found one of the battlers using it as a bludgeon.

Things were really warming up by the time reinforcements arrived. Sheriff's Deputies Boyd Burnham and Carl E. Head, Sausalito Policeman Robert Ward and two highway patrolmen soon joined the fray.

When the battle was over, the half-dozen officers took Miss Bailey, Mrs. Marbury, Mitchell, Blande, and Alberta Roary of 409 Drake Avenue to the county jail and booked the lot for disturbing the peace. Mrs. Marbury and Miss Bailey were charged also with assault with a deadly weapon.

San Rafael General Hospital. Her husband, who suffered face cuts, was reported in good condition today.

Misuraca, with injuries to mouth, teeth and chest, was reported in satisfactory condition. His wife Virginia, 48, daughter of the Collinses, suffered a broken left arm and cuts on the left leg and also was reported in satisfactory condition. Their daughter Barbara Misuraca, 21, was treated for leg scratches.

Murrie was treated for scalp cuts and injury of the left shoulder. His passenger, Glenna Kilgore, 17, of 10 Napa Street, Fairfax, was in satisfactory condition but suffering from a neck injury and bruised right knee.

A Vallejo truck driver was critically injured when his sewage-filled tank truck went off the west end of the Panoramic Highway down over the Shoreline Highway at 8:45 a.m. yesterday.

John Henry Walker, 34, was en route up Panoramic Highway from Stinson Beach when his truck skidded, went over a bank, rolled 75 feet downhill, crossed the Shoreline road and continued another 30 feet.

Walker was pinned under the cab of the truck. As the truck body tumbled, its sewage tank broke loose and remained on the Shoreline Highway, blocking traffic for half an hour.

Walker was under treatment today at Marin General Hospital for severe injuries of the spine and head. He underwent surgery yesterday.

"Bad tires" were blamed by Harold S. Wood of Richmond, a Southern Pacific railroad switchman, for a crash early yesterday on the Greenbrae offramp from Highway 101, in which he and a passenger were hurt.

Wood was driving from Sausalito, Richmond-bound, at 3:50 a.m. when the left front tire of his car blew out. The car crashed against the abutment. Wood's passenger, Robert D. McClellan of Point Richmond, employed by a Sausalito dredging company, was flung 12 feet from the vehicle.

McClellan was treated at Marin General Hospital for rib injuries. Wood, suffering minor hurts, refused treatment.

A San Anselmo man and his wife were taken to the hospital Wednesday about 7:30 p.m. after they were struck by an automobile at a San Rafael intersection.

Elmer S. Palmquist, 59, of 88 Hilldale Road, and his wife, Thelma, 59, were reported in fair condition today at San Rafael General Hospital. Both of his legs were broken, while she suffered a broken left leg. Palmquist is part owner of Palmquist-Nilsen Co., a linoleum firm in San Anselmo.

Driving the car that struck them was Marvin Robert Stauts of 408 Forbes Avenue, San Rafael. He was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

A two-car collision at Francisco Boulevard and Irwin Street Wednesday night sent a San Anselmo woman to the hospital with facial cuts.

Cars driven by Mary Marcella Townsend, 27, of 815 C Street, San Rafael, and Melvin Manor, 30 of 25 Ancha Vista Way, San Anselmo, collided as they started under the underpass.

Released yesterday from San Rafael General Hospital after treatment for cut forehead and nose was Manor's wife, Sharon Lee, 21.

Patrick Edward Murphy, 55, Inverness, was injured when his car skidded into a ditch beside Shoreline Highway just south of Olema at 4 p.m. Wednesday as he was returning from work.

Murphy was taken to Marin General Hospital for treatment of scalp cuts and chest bruises.

Jewelry Store Tapped For $45

The cash register at Rafael Jewelers at 1144 Fourth Street in San Rafael was tapped for about $45 Wednesday afternoon, Eugene T. Baglietto, proprietor of the store, told police.

Baglietto said two men entered the store about 1:45 p.m. on Wednesday. One of the men remained in the front of the store while the other accompanied him to the rear of the store to "look at some jewelry."

The money, in $5 and $10 bills, was discovered to be missing from the cash drawer after the men left the store, Baglietto said.

Butler's Condition Slightly Improved

Retired Judge Edward I. Butler, 87, was reported slightly improved at San Rafael General Hospital today.

Hospital officials said he is able to talk and took some nourishment. The former Marin Superior Court judge was stricken last Saturday and has been critically ill for several days.

Good Deed Backfires At Station

Luther Jackson of San Rafael, manager of the Smilin' Ed Wood Service Station at 619 East Blithedale Avenue in Mill Valley, discovered last night he had been taken.

Tuesday night Jackson picked up a hitchhiker, fed him, housed him and gave him a part-time job. Last night he learned the man had taken $433 from his safe, and driven away in a stolen 1951 sedan. With the station unattended, people were helping themselves to gasoline.

Grand theft warrants were issued for the man, who gave his name as Ken Vanessi.

Jackson told Capt. Joe Canet he picked up Vanessi Tuesday night near Ignacio. Vanessi, who is about 38, is 5 feet and 3 inches tall, weights 165 and wears glasses, and said he was from Southern California.

At 7:14 p.m. yesterday, police received a call from a Mill Valley resident who said the station was unattended.

$3,000-Burglary In Tam Valley

Richard Lee Carter and Lynn Haslett Emrick of 301 Live Oak Drive in Tamalpais Valley didn't have much to be thankful for yesterday.

They returned home last midnight to find their home had been cleaned out of about $3,000 worth of household items.

Carter, 39, a bank worker, told sheriff's deputies he and Emrick, a hairdresser, had been away for Thanksgiving. When they got home last night, they found the front door open and their home ransacked.

Among missing items were a television-phonograph worth $800, a $1,000 diamond ring, $1,200 worth of records, a clock radio, and blankets.

Thief Gets Away With —Nothing

A strong-arm thief not only had a fight on his hands but got nothing for his pains as he grabbed a purse from a woman walking alone on a San Rafael street Wednesday night.

Eleanor Madeline Williams, 43, of 520 D Street told police a "young man wearing a white jacket and black trousers" jumped from behind a hedge at Second and D streets as she was walking home about 11:15 p.m. He grabbed her around the face, she said, causing her to drop her purse.

Apparently frightened by her screams and fighting, the man picked up the purse and ran, she told police.

It was then that she discovered that her wallet and keys had fallen out of the purse, which contained only a few papers. She did not say how much was in the wallet.

Witnesses, attracted by her screams, chased the man to a waiting car at Second and Shaver streets, in which he escaped.

SURVIVAL

types of ground cover, and burning them or depositing the ashes and sod at safe distances.

In other areas, the residual fallout could be removed by scraping off the top inch of bare soil.

Some of the most heavily dusted areas might have to be abandoned, for a time, or used carefully in special ways.

Milk cows should not be permitted to graze on lands heavily contaminated with strontium, because strontium enters their milk, and strontium tends to concentrate, like calcium, in bone.

But the strontium-contaminated land could be used to grow corn, or hay, which then could be fed to cows and pigs to produce beef and pork or it could be used for grazing beef cattle. The strontium-contaminated grazing lands could be used in this indirect way to produce safe meat—but not milk, and not vegetables for human consumption.

Crab Fishing Is Still Poor

Poor crab catches continue and some fishermen today were considering demanding 25 cents a pound because of the scarcity.

It was also reported that fishermen are heading north to Eureka.

"The situation is very bad," Cass Gidley, fisherman and crab wholesaler in Sausalito, said. "I don't think there will be any crab this year off the gate."

Sausalito Battle Puts Five In Jail

What started as a fight between two women early today required six law officers to quell and landed five Marin City residents in jail.

At 12:15 a.m., Sausalito Police Sgt. David Cooper received a report of a fight in progress at a parking lot at 621 Bridgeway.

He arrived to find two fights under way. Mrs. Clenzell Marbury of 107 Drake Avenue was swinging a long piece of tin at Barbara Jean Bailey of 62 Cole Drive. A second fight was going on in the car of William Kennedy of 1 Cole Drive, with Kennedy attempting to be peacemaker.

Sergeant Cooper grabbed the piece of tin from Miss Bailey. But the two women were too much for him. He raced back to his car and radioed for assistance.

Kennedy, meanwhile, overpowered one combatant, Charles Blande of House 223. While Cooper was handcuffing Blande, Nayland Mitchell of Box 12 got embroiled with the two women.

"At one point," reported Cooper, "while holding Mrs. Marbury, Miss Bailey slipped up behind me with two large bricks in her hand and raised her arm to throw a brick."

Cooper deflected the throw. Next, his flashlight was knocked from his hand. He looked for it and found one of the battlers using it as a bludgeon.

Things were really warming up by the time reinforcements arrived. Sheriff's Deputies Boyd Burnham and Carl E. Head, Sausalito Policeman Robert Ward and two highway patrolmen soon joined the fray.

When the battle was over, the half-dozen officers took Miss Bailey, Mrs. Marbury, Mitchell, Blande, and Alberta Roary of 409 Drake Avenue to the county jail and booked the lot for disturbing the peace. Mrs. Marbury and Miss Bailey were charged also with assault with a deadly weapon.

Mill Valley Planners Favor 4-Lane East Blithedale Plan

Mill Valley planning commissioners have discarded a proposal for the use of Altamont and Alta Vista avenues as a one-way westbound alternate to East Blithedale Avenue.

The commission favors widening East Blithedale Avenue to four lanes from Highway 101 to Lytton Square.

The decision was made at the commission's meeting Tuesday night on circulation and parking in reference to the proposed new Mill Valley master plan.

The commission said the city should take immediate action to work on precise plans and engineering studies for widening East Blithedale, the most heavily traveled entrance to the city.

Traffic controls on four-laned Miller Avenue, the city's second most used entrance, should be restudied to try to increase traffic flow and take some of the load off East Blithedale, commissioners agreed.

Much discussion was held on the proposed recreation route from Panoramic Highway at Mountain Home to tie in with the proposed Corte Madera Ridge Road. The commission said that, though this route would exist some day, for the present it would vote to delete it from the master plan and hold the Marin Municipal Water District land as open area.

A Marin green belt society was discussed with the suggestion made that citizen action be taken to see that green belts are secured.

The commission also:

1. Voted that the master plan should show grade separations over or under the Northwestern Pacific Railroad at Ashford Avenue and to the north of Edna Maguire School at Garden Hill Subdivision.
2. Voted to delete the route from Cushing Drive to Greenwood Way because of costs. Too, it was suggested that it would remove the back yard of commissioner John Castleman.
3. Spoke in favor of the two-lane Sycamore Avenue extension connecting Camino Alto to Highway 101, to serve as the main route between Mill Valley proper and Enchanted Knolls.
4. Agreed that there is a primary parking need for development of all-day commuting parking areas which would not conflict with daytime shoppers' parking areas.

Highway Job Bids

Bids on modification of the highway lighting system on Highway 101 at county road connections to the Waldo Interchange have been called by the California Division of Highways to be opened Dec. 5 at 10 a.m. at the division's district office in San Francisco.

Realty Firm Files For Incorporation

Directors of the company were listed as Eugene N. Wilson, 1601 Second Street, San Anselmo; and Robert P. Ritter, 1539-B Fourth Street, and A.C. Agnew Jr., Fifth and Cottage Avenues, both of San Rafael.

The commission favors widening East Blithedale Avenue to four lanes from Highway 101 to Lytton Square.

The decision was made at the commission's meeting Tuesday night on circulation and parking in reference to the proposed new Mill Valley master plan.

The commission said the city should take immediate action to work on precise plans and engineering studies for widening East Blithedale, the most heavily traveled entrance to the city.

Traffic controls on four-laned Miller Avenue, the city's second most used entrance, should be restudied to try to increase traffic flow and take some of the load off East Blithedale, commissioners agreed.

Much discussion was held on the proposed recreation route from Panoramic Highway at Mountain Home to tie in with the proposed Corte Madera Ridge Road. The commission said that, though this route would exist some day, for the present it would vote to delete it from the master plan and hold the Marin Municipal Water District land as open area.

A Marin green belt society was discussed with the suggestion made that citizen action be taken to see that green belts are secured.

The commission also:

1. Voted that the master plan should show grade separations over or under the Northwestern Pacific Railroad at Ashford Avenue and to the north of Edna Maguire School at Garden Hill Subdivision.
2. Voted to delete the route from Cushing Drive to Greenwood Way because of costs. Too, it was suggested that it would remove the back yard of commissioner John Castleman.
3. Spoke in favor of the two-lane Sycamore Avenue extension connecting Camino Alto to Highway 101, to serve as the main route between Mill Valley proper and Enchanted Knolls.
4. Agreed that there is a primary parking need for development of all-day commuting parking areas which would not conflict with daytime shoppers' parking areas.

Highway Job Bids

Bids on modification of the highway lighting system on Highway 101 at county road connections to the Waldo Interchange have been called by the California Division of Highways to be opened Dec. 5 at 10 a.m. at the division's district office in San Francisco.

UNDERWATER WORLD—Craig Gillman's interest in the tidal pool life within Bolinas School's fifth and sixth grade aquarium shows in his face as seen through the waters of the aquarium itself in teacher Peter Auer's room. Marine biology project has linked classroom with the sea life at the school's "front door." (Independent-Journal photo)

Bolinas School Takes Dive Into Life In An Aquarium

By BRUCE COLEMAN

"We had an octopus but he died."

That's one of the few sad notes of the Bolinas Elementary School's fifth and sixth graders, who have a marine museum and aquarium in their classroom.

With the ocean at their door, it is a natural thing to do. With the assistance of their able teacher, Peter Auer, it is educational and pleasurable activity.

Pupils specialize in denizens of the tidepools—hermit crabs, chitons, urchins, eels and such—which they collect with jungle netting on net frames made of wire coat hangers.

"It's better than raising beans," said Auer. "More vital." Pupils collect the specimens, see where they live, feed and watch their habits.

The 22 pupils are divided into five groups, each group taking a day's turn at feeding and changing the water. Each Wednesday the whole class goes to the ocean and gets sea water in gallon jugs.

A daily record is kept on aquarium activities.

For example: "The snails all headed out of the aquarium so an isolated place was made for them. We did have a mussel worm but we can't find it. He may have been eaten. A sea anemone turned inside out. We don't know why. We intend to see Dr. Joel Hedgpeth at Pacific Marine Station, Dillon Beach, and ask him."

It was feeding time. Today's "watch" was feeding minute pieces of scallops on long wooden sticks.

"This is a spider crab," said Peggy Hall, feeding him. "He looks more like a spider than a crab. And this is a chiton, a mollusk."

"The kids are wonderful in seeing that each individual gets something to eat," Auer said. They feed by wooden tweezer to avoid bits of food falling to the bottom and polluting the water.

"The crabs grab the fish," Peggy said. "One bit the tail off one of the fish but the fish was still swimming around the day after."

"There's a small perch down there—a shiner," said Kathy Sherfey. "We have a whole bunch of sea anemones but they're all closed up."

Craig Gillman said, "It's like Marineland."

Feeding is done with wooden tweezers, because if metal were used it might cause electrolysis, a metal charge poisonous to fish.

"They all eat scallops, except the chiton which is a vegetarian," Auer said.

Pupil Tom Roark usually handles the daily temperature check. Water is changed completely once a week and two gallons changed daily to maintain a 59-degree tidepool temperature.

North Marin Soon To Get River Water

The North Marin Water District will be receiving Russian River water in about two weeks, Jerome B. Gilbert, district manager told district directors Tuesday night.

"Rationing gave us enough water to get us over the hump," he said.

The district has about 360 acre feet left in the Stafford Lake Reservoir. This is about 10 per cent of capacity, Gilbert said.

The line between the North Marin District and Petaluma has been pressure tested, Gilbert said. Both it and the line between Petaluma and Russian River must be sterilized before they can be used.

The directors approved annexation of the David Sweeney Ranch in Sonoma County. Under terms of the agreement, Sweeney is subject to all past bond issues. He also granted an easement to the district for the pipe line through his property.

In other action, the directors:

Approved a $3,570 contract with the Linscott Co. of San Rafael, for installation of water lines in the Sutter Hills subdivision.

Approved an agreement with Paul Brindel for a six-inch extension down Maestro Road, to be installed at Brindel's expense.

Zack's in Sausalito will be the scene of a party sponsored by the Sausalito Democratic Club on Dec. 1 at 8:15 p.m., according to Bob Green.

PISCATORIAL ANATOMY — James Ellis, shown with teacher Peter Auer, made blackboard drawing showing gills and fin as part of Bolinas School pupils' study of marine life. The project "opens children's minds to question things they see," said Auer, whose own interest in marine life includes being a commercial fisherman while school is closed in summer.

we tried to keep but they won't keep overnight so he's in the museum in formaldehyde," said the teacher. The tiny baby octopus was caught by pupil Erling Haroldson.

The museum has many specimens in sealed bottles, all labeled with common and Latin names. Specimen pictures are on the wall, paper mache fish made by the class hang from the ceiling, and there was a chalk drawing of a fish by James Ellis on the blackboard. Pupils also have a group of biology books in the classroom.

Auer, who was a commercial fisherman last summer with his own boat out of Bodega Bay, said, "We really don't known how long they will last," but the students are studying and learning. He said the class made a field trip to Steinhart Aquarium in San Francisco.

Mark McReady, who said he wants to be a marine biologist, showed slides made by the pupils which included a hermit crab's foot ("something you hardly ever see"), a red cod fish scale, a hermit crab's eye (Auer: "I didn't know he was making that one," a dorsal fin of a rock fish, and a blue shark's tooth.

The class is looking forward to receipt of a male and female sea horse from Florida, for which they chipped in 22 cents each.

The project will be one month old Sunday, and it is planned to be continued for a few more months.

"It opens children's minds to question things they see and ask why," Auer commented.

When they finish, he added, "We will have a pretty good biological laboratory which we can save."

When students get sea water on Wednesdays they observe specimens but, unless it is a new one, they do not catch more but let them live.

"At the end of the term, we will take them back and put them into the ocean," said Auer.

LOOK WHO'S HERE AGAIN!

Santa Claus made his first Marin appearance of the new Christmas season today at the Corte Madera Shopping center, greeting children in his traditional fashion after riding up in a Corte Madera fire engine. First to see Santa as he got off the fire truck was 4-year-old Howard Hoeflein, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Hoeffein of San Anselmo, seen here in St. Nick's arms. What did Howard want? A fire truck. (Independent-Journal photo)

Grocery Supplies

NEW YORK (UPI) — The average U.S. family spends $938 a year in grocery stores, according to the Nielsen Food Index. The index also indicates low-income families spend nearly as much as high-income families on groceries.

Dope Case Going To Grand Jury

The case of the $18,000 dope smuggling operation at San Quentin Prison will go before the Marin County Grand Jury next Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Three women, one suspected as being the source of the dope supply, and six inmates at the prison are accused of conspiracy to smuggle heroin, marijuana and peyote into prison since last March. Mrs. Pauline Herrera, 31, is free on $5,250 bail. Anne Marie Kellam, 25, Oakland, and Mrs. Marie Frances Hall, 47, Hayward are free on $1,050 bail each.

Grand Jury Foreman William L. Hughes said today he has not received a letter from a Mill Valley woman, who asked for a grand jury investigation of County Clerk George S. Jones. "It may be in the mail when I get home tonight," said Hughes.

Mrs. Jerome F. Downs of 73 California Avenue, Mill Valley, complained that the county clerk would not give her an application for absentee ballot for the Dec. 5 election to recall Supervisor J. Walter Blair.

Marinwood School Building Approved

A two-stage construction development on a 17-acre Marinwood site was unanimously voted by Dixie School District trustees Wednesday night.

The first structure, at Las Gallinas Avenue and Miller Creek, is to be an administration unit, made up of portable classrooms so that if district reorganization later occurs this building can be removed and used for class purposes.

Next a structure of about 18,000 square feet will house seventh and eighth grade pupils from Marinwood, Lucas Valley and a new Eichler development west of the Nunes Ranch.

Supt. Dennie B. Willis was directed to arrange for engineering topographical surveys. Planning will be done by Reid, Rockwell, Banwell and Tarics, San Francisco architects.

Although the Don Timeteo School has not yet opened, the board adopted a resolution asking county supervisors to sell bonds to an amount of $195,000 for construction of an addition. It is to open initially with 10 classrooms but seven more must be provided by next September, it was found.

A letter sent Wednesday by the construction firm of Wright and Oretsky of Santa Rosa, but not received in time for the trustees' meeting, complained that "due to vandalism and malicious mischief by children of the area" work on the school has been delayed.

The firm said extra work caused by the vandalism has been "extremely costly."

"We feel," said the letter, "that if the parents do not have proper discipline to control these children, they will have to suffer their turn at double sessions. The exact amount of days of delay is undetermined at this time."

Favorable decision was made on a request by the Terra Linda Recreation District to make boundaries of this district and the Terra Linda Community Services District co-terminus, thus including the Santa Margarita and Marindale schools in the recreation district.

ELIZABETH AMUSED DURING GHANA VISIT

Queen Elizabeth II, Prince Philip and Ghana President Kwame Nkrumah appeared to be amused at a festival in Sekondi, Ghana, this week as they watched a presentation by tribal chiefs of 100 bunches of bananas to the officers and crew of the royal yacht Britannia. Elizabeth is on a state tour of the former West African colony. (AP Wirephoto)

Eisenhower Deplores Extremists

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower deplores what he calls "super-patriots" and the recent "rise of extremists" in this country.

He also urged armed forces officers to shun partisan politics.

Among other points covered by Eisenhower in filmed television interview last night:

1. He learned at the first Geneva summit conference that Nikita Khrushchev, and not Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin, was the boss of the Soviet delegation.

2. The Soviet Union would never start a nuclear war because of America's destructive power.

3. Sooner or later the Soviet people will get the word that the free world is against aggression.

4. The foregoing will create pressure inside the Soviet Union for disarmament.

5. The erection of a wall between East and West Berlin is a sign of Soviet weakness.

6. The removal of the body of former Premier Josef Stalin from the tomb in Moscow's Red Square shows Khrushchev is uneasy about something.

New Yell, Song Teams At Drake

New song leaders are the "Pep-Steps," with Betty Chatham as leader and Carol Isola, Ellen Ahola, Claudia Wilcox, Alison Giesea, Jo-Ann Smith, and Sharl Lytle as members.

East German Stowaway On U.S. Train Given To Reds

BERLIN (AP)—A young East German stowaway aboard a U.S. military train was turned over to Soviet authorities because Americans lack extraterritorial rights on such trains, Gen. Lucius D. Clay was quoted as saying today.

Clay, President John F. Kennedy's envoy to Berlin, made the explanation to West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt, a West Berlin spokesman said.

The reported explanation meant that the four U.S. military trains which daily cross East German territory between West Berlin and West Germany are not U.S. territory as is a U.S. Embassy in a foreign country.

The train, with 80 Americans, including many women and children, was held up at gunpoint by Communist troops for nearly 15 hours yesterday when it reached Marienborn, on the Communist side of the crossing point into West Germany at Helmstedt.

The Army said the Russians learned from interrogation of the East German conductor that a young East German was aboard. He apparently broke a window and climbed in when the train stopped at Gerwisch in East Germany.

U.S. military guards aboard the train rejected a request of the Russians to search the train.

The train was held up until Col. Ernst von Pawel, head of the U.S. liaison mission at Soviet headquarters in East Germany, showed up and agreed to hand the East German over.

California Traffic Deaths Hit 3,066

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The California Highway Patrol reported today that 3,066 persons died in traffic accidents during the first 10 months of 1961.

Commissioner Bradford Crittenden said that the total was 1.25 per cent higher than the deaths listed at the same time last year. Last month, 328 persons died in traffic, a drop of 53 from October 1960.

Educational TV To Be Tried At Fairfax Central School

The Fairfax School District board this week authorized a pilot study of educational television at the Central School.

Supt. Homer L. Sisk was granted permission to call for bids for installation of an antenna and television set at the school.

The study, which will be held in cooperation with Channel KQED, will be started immediately at a cost not to exceed $400, said Sisk.

Board members approved refund to school teacher June Meese of $1,821 workmen's compensation which had been deducted from her salary while on sick leave. The board acted upon the opinion of the county counsel which held that an employee entitled to workmen's compensation should receive it in addition to accrued sick leave pay.

In other action, the board agreed to take out insurance coverage of $1,500 per pupil for accidental death or injury while on school - sponsored trips.

Educational TV To Be Tried At Fairfax Central School

The Fairfax School District board this week authorized a pilot study of educational television at the Central School.

Supt. Homer L. Sisk was granted permission to call for bids for installation of an antenna and television set at the school.

The study, which will be held in cooperation with Channel KQED, will be started immediately at a cost not to exceed $400, said Sisk.

Board members approved refund to school teacher June Meese of $1,821 workmen's compensation which had been deducted from her salary while on sick leave. The board acted upon the opinion of the county counsel which held that an employee entitled to workmen's compensation should receive it in addition to accrued sick leave pay.

In other action, the board agreed to take out insurance coverage of $1,500 per pupil for accidental death or injury while on school - sponsored trips.

3 Novato Highway Plans Deserve Careful Study

The State Division of Highways has come up with three reasonable plans for carrying Highway 101 through Novato, replacing the one unreasonable plan they had insisted on before.

They made a major change in their earlier proposal for a route following the existing highway. They discarded the obviously objectionable elevated highway on a solid fill, which would have physically and visually divided the city. Instead, they now propose depressing the freeway through Novato so that all existing Novato downtown streets will continue to cross, above the highway and at their present level.

The second plan is to take the highway across the railroad tracks south of town, then run it parallel to and just east of Davidson Street until it recrosses the railroad and rejoins the existing route just north of the Atherton Avenue intersection.

The third route is still farther east, swinging through the hills and eliminating by far the fewest number of both homes and business enterprises.

According to the highway engineers, this last plan is the most expensive because much of it is through marshy areas; the old route, depressed and destroying by far the largest number of business establishments, is the cheapest.

We haven't had an opportunity yet to study the three plans in any detail. We do think that besides construction cost, maintenance costs also should be considered before reaching a final routing.

In a low area like Novato, sinking a roadway 20 feet below ground — and nearly 20 feet below sea level too — could provide some mighty fancy maintenance problems. Highway officials say their borings show the depression would be in solid earth, not Bay mud. But rainfall won't flow out of such an excavation, necessitating pumping.

We assume the engineers are studying all these things. We hope they also are studying the economic impact of routing the highway in any of the locations.

It is important that the city officials, businessmen, and residents of Novato inspect the proposals in detail. Then, when the public hearing is held next January, they'll have opinions based on facts and backed up with data.

AN HONEST THIEF

When a man phoned police headquarters in Santa Monica, Calif., to report a stolen automobile, a curious officer asked:

"How do you know it was stolen?"

The stranger at the other end of the line replied promptly and candidly: "Because I stole it!" Then he hung up.

Persons who own up to their mistakes are few and far between. But they suffice to renew one's hope in the human race.

They at least affirm that, wayward and mischievous as man may be at times, he is always capable of doing better.

When tempted to become cynical because of widespread human failure in these critical times, renew your determination to bring out the hidden nobility in man.

A Twisted Little Tale Of Life On Actress' Visit To Big City

NEW YORK (AP)—The piano player hung from a rafter with one arm and leg while he waved the other arm and leg wildly as if he were being stung by a thousand bees.

The dancing mob below him went mad with delight.

"That fellow up there sure is having himself a ball," said my date, as we sat down at a table so small it would crowd a midget.

My date was actress Shirley MacLaine.

The place was the home of that new dance craze, "the twist," where beatniks and cafe society notables bump hips in a new and moving form of democracy — very moving.

Shirley had come to New York to get a little "big city" background atmosphere for her next picture.

But like most visitors from Hollywood—or Peoria — the first place she wanted to see was "the twist."

At midnight the club resembled a cross between the Long Branch saloon on pay night and a hospital psychopathic ward during manic hour.

The band blared "Irresistible You" to a mad jungle beat. The patrons were screaming and jabbering as if 10,000 biting ants were crawling over their bodies, and they were trying to shake them off. That is the basic movement of "the twist."

"I said I never saw anything like this before!" Shirley shouted.

The ear-cracking noise and the beat of the band went on and on and on. The packed dancers twisted and twirled like sardines full of pep pills, helpless in the grip of a frenzy that would not let them stop.

After a time I found I was twitching in my seat in time to the music. Some of the ants must have brushed off and fallen on me. Then I noticed Shirley was twitching too.

She looked over at me with a question in her eyes.

"I'd love to!" I shouted. "But I've got the gout. No, no! I didn't say, 'Let's get out.' I said I've got the gout!"

THE BANDLEADER, young Joey Dee, then stepped over to Shirley. She was on her feet in an instant.

Shirley's blue eyes flashed, her red hair bounced. For 10 minutes she wiggled and jiggled and shook and shimmied while the room rocked with screams of delight. Finally, exhausted, Shirley waved "no more."

"YOU HAVE TO be 12 years old to do 'the twist,'" she said, and gave a wonderful belly laugh, the kind that takes a man's heart away.

As we left one young beatnik smiled at me and said pityingly:

"Better wrap your muffler around tight, Daddy-O. It's cold outside."

Cooperative Effort To Rebuild Tunnel

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I just read the article in this evening's I-J (Nov. 16) wherein the labor unions represented by the Marin County Labor Council voted to protest the abandonment of the Puerto Suello tunnel by NWP Railroad.

I have no personal interest in the tunnel other than the fact that I hate to see anyone deprived of necessary services or livelihood through what has to be considered a very unfortunate bit of fate.

If this tunnel means so much to so many people why not tackle the problem in the only way left: cooperation.

When a neighbor's barn burned down, or some disaster struck a community a physical or econonic blow, it used to be common practice for everyone to pitch in and help the situation. No one sat back and argued about who's fault it was or whether they would be paid for their work or get involved in jurisdictional disputes.

Why not set up a pool of required journeymen and laborers, build up a stock of the necessary materials from the building trades affected, have the railroad furnish necessary transportation and special equipment and engineers; plus whatever other assistance, material or personnel, from whatever other sources or industries that are affected, and get the job done. Even Civil Defense may like to get into the act in the form of governmental support in view of the community shelter this tunnel could provide. A certain amount of tax support could be donated by the county so that every taxpayer could have a hand in this project.

If this is a problem that affects all of us, let's all get in and correct it.

Restoration Of Plane Delayed

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I have just received a copy of "Marin Magazine" for Nov. 4, and hasten to congratulate you on the excellent cover story on Jack Irwin. Dick Steinheimer researched his story very well, and has presented it with equal skill.

The tribute to Mr. Irwin is richly deserved, and I'm sure is deeply appreciated by him. There is, however, an error, the focus of which appears in the middle paragraph of column four on page M7:

"Help has been offered in restoring the plane by several persons at the San Carlos airport, but nothing yet has been done."

The acceptance by the Smithsonian of the Irwin Meteorplane was in fact arranged by us, and we also arranged the transportation offer from United Air Lines (to New York, by the way, not Chicago).

We have also agreed to finance the restoration ourselves, yet allow Mr. Irwin to execute the deed of gift to the Smithsonian. All of these things are of record in our correspondence, and we can send you copies if you have need of them.

There have been, according to Mrs. Irwin, several persons who have tried to buy his airplane for their own collections. We were the first who offered him the full satisfaction of having it preserved for the public.

The lack of progress in the actual mechanics of the restoration has been caused in part by the uncertain status of the San Carlos Airport until very recently, and in part by the simple pressures of other work.

Way To Render Life Tolerable

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I agree with your editorial of Nov. 17 pointing out that the shelter controversy is dividing us at a time when we need to unite if we are to achieve a world in which war is no longer the ultimate solution to political, economic or border disputes.

We embroil ourselves in debates over whether to dig or not to dig when the real debate is over whether to give up war, or give up ourselves.

I think one of Voltaire's remarks is pertinent to our time:

"Let us work without disputing; it is the only way to render life tolerable."

Inaccuracies In Recall Story

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The article in the Independent-Journal of Nov. 16, covering the KTIM broadcast of the same day regarding the Blair recall, contains several glaring inaccuracies.

By way of demonstrating the immaturity of Supervisor Blair's opponent, Albert Bianchi, who spoke for Supervisor Blair, said that Peter Behr had urged the Board of Supervisors to purchase land for "hot rod" addicts and to appropriate $20,000 to build the track and facilities.

The article covers this point as follows:

"Ring (who spoke for Mr. Behr) said that while he was Mill Valley Councilman in 1956, Behr had voted $20,000 for a drag strip."

On the same program, Mr. Behr asked Mr. Bianchi and me whether we were familiar with the current preliminary and final county budget. I replied that I was not but that I was sure Mr. Behr could get prompt replies to any questions he might put to Supervisor Blair on the subject, and that he could undoubtedly get even more adequate answers from Supervisor Blair after the election.

The article: "Ehlen replied that he was not familiar (with the current county budget) but he was sure Behr could get adequate answers from Supervisor Blair after the election."

Incidentally, Supervisor Blair and his supporters are prepared to concede that the votes of all political "hot rodders" will be cast in favor of Mr. Blair's opponent.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A high-ranking member of the British delegation at the U. N. told me of a weekend visit to a home for overworked V.I.P.'s who had suffered nervous breakdowns and were being nursed back slowly to normal. One of these temporarily deranged bigwigs was laboring under the unfortunate delusion that he was the Good Lord himself.

The Britisher, lunching with him, decided to humor him, and remarked, "Am I correct in my assumption that you created the universe in six days, and then rested on the seventh."

The ailing V.I.P. stood up angrily and announced, "I never discuss my business problems while I am eating."

Next month is the time when Wall Street publicists and analysts rush into print with predictions for the coming year's economy. The fact that they may have proved spectacularly wrong on numerous previous occasions doesn't stop them from pontificating with equal certainty again. Bernard Baruch calls this year-end roundup time "The season of excess prophets."

Pershina Can Sell 'Tropic Of Cancer' If He Has The 'Audacity'

Being among the first to eat crow when I have made a mistake, I must admit I did wrong by Roger Garety, our district attorney, when I recently reported in this space that he had forbidden Frank Pershina, San Anselmo bookseller, to sell Henry Miller's controversial "Tropic of Cancer."

All Garety's office did was throw Pershina in jail for selling the book.

He is perfectly free to continue selling the novel until the question of its "obscenity" is decided at a trial, now set for Dec. 5.

MY POINT, made on erroneous information, was that Pershina was not allowed to get on the gravy train and raise his attorney fees through booming sales of the book, brought on by the district attorney's action.

Garety maintains that he did not act as a censor. It is his duty as district attorney, he explained, to prosecute the seller of any book he considers "obscene."

"I AM NOT conducting a campaign of harassment," the district attorney said in answer to my question if Pershina was free to sell the book. "I have arrested him once. That is the end of it, as far as I am concerned, until the issue comes to trial."

The court, not his office, will decide as to the book's obscenity, Garety said.

Adding his blessing to continued sale of the book was San Anselmo Police Chief Raymond Buchignani. "I have never told Pershina he cannot sell the book and I don't intend to," Buchagnini said.

Meanwhile, back at the book store, Pershina was having no part of the kind offers of Garety and Buchignani.

I found Pershina, behind the counter of his Golden Hinde Book Store, a mild man who uses big, clean words, such as "audacity."

"CAN YOU IMAGINE what a jury would say if I went on selling the book after I was arrested for selling it?" Pershina asked.

"'Imagine the audacity of that young man!' That's what they would say," he ventured.

His attorney, Charles W. Pierce, nodded sagely as he stood at his client's elbow, idly browsing through a copy of "Alice in Wonderland."

As much as I hate to see the day approaching when I am told what I can and cannot read, the whole matter has, for me, an even deeper significance.

AS A YOUNGSTER in Tennessee, I took an unmerciful ribbing from civilized peoples everywhere over the famed "Monkey Trial" of the 1920s when Clarence Darrow and William Jennings Bryan squared off on the question of evolution.

In desperation, I moved from the blighted backwoods to the enlightened shores of California, finally settling in the cultural Mecca of Marin.

And all of a sudden I find my friends and relatives in Tennessee laughing at me.

My provincial allegiance is reaching the breaking point.

Common Market Big Step Toward Making Communism Thing Of Past

WASHINGTON— How would you feel if you were to wake up some morning and find that the menace of international Communism was appreciably receding?

Would you think that you were still dreaming, that it was too improbable to be true?

This day is going to come. It is nearer our reach than we realize. The time is at hand to put behind us the feeling of impotence, the feeling that the Communists are the only ones who can make headway.

LET ME SAY at the very outset that the outthrusting reach of the Soviet Union and Red China will not be suddenly paralyzed. Some of the fragile and underdeveloped countries may be allured by the idea that Communism has a quick and easy answer to industrialization.

Obviously we can't afford to let down our guard in any way.

But I am convinced that within this decade we will wonder why we ever permitted ourselves to be brainwashed into believing that the alternative to being "Red" was being "dead."

The report I make is that after taking a firsthand look at the dynamism of Western Europe, there is an economic and political force in the European Common Market capable of changing the whole face of the cold war.

THE SWEEP OF this development is breathtaking in its significance. It means that, instead of the Western Alliance's falling apart, Western nations are coming together in a way which creates an incalculable momentum. I refer to the following:

1—Embracing the six nations of France, West Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium, and Luxembourg, the European Common Market is achieving an economic and political success beyond the hopes of its most ardent advocates.

2—Its success is so great and its future so certain that the British government, despite all the historic pressures of holding aloof from the continent, has decided to cast its lot with the Common Market. The British are joining—not to rescue it from weakness but to reap the benefits of full-bodied membership. To do this, Britain is willing to alter its ties with the Commonwealth, and abandon its traditional balance-of-power policy toward France and Germany.

3—The fact is that the dream of Western European unity and the shape of a United States of Europe have been emerging before our very eyes. It is already well advanced. Its full attainment is decisively in the making.

ALREADY WESTERN Europe is producing a gross national product within 10 per cent of the United States. With Britain and the others, it will soon be exceeding that of the U. S.

The Common Market countries are achieving a rate of economic growth nearly double our own—the most prosperous area anywhere in the world.

The new Europe, along with the U. S., will so clearly demonstrate the vigor of its competitive, free-market, consumer economy that Communism will look, to more and more people, like the wave of the past.

Dist. Atty. Richard M. Sims Jr. expressed the opinion that proposed lease of Angel Island by the Strawberry Recreation District would not be legal.

A Marin County Planning Council was formed by representatives of the county planning commission and five of the cities. Purpose was to aid "orderly and coordinated development of the Marin County community."

Cooperative Effort To Rebuild Tunnel

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I just read the article in this evening's I-J (Nov. 16) wherein the labor unions represented by the Marin County Labor Council voted to protest the abandonment of the Puerto Suello tunnel by NWP Railroad.

I have no personal interest in the tunnel other than the fact that I hate to see anyone deprived of necessary services or livelihood through what has to be considered a very unfortunate bit of fate.

If this tunnel means so much to so many people why not tackle the problem in the only way left: cooperation.

When a neighbor's barn burned down, or some disaster struck a community a physical or econonic blow, it used to be common practice for everyone to pitch in and help the situation. No one sat back and argued about who's fault it was or whether they would be paid for their work or get involved in jurisdictional disputes.

Why not set up a pool of required journeymen and laborers, build up a stock of the necessary materials from the building trades affected, have the railroad furnish necessary transportation and special equipment and engineers; plus whatever other assistance, material or personnel, from whatever other sources or industries that are affected, and get the job done. Even Civil Defense may like to get into the act in the form of governmental support in view of the community shelter this tunnel could provide. A certain amount of tax support could be donated by the county so that every taxpayer could have a hand in this project.

If this is a problem that affects all of us, let's all get in and correct it.

Restoration Of Plane Delayed

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I have just received a copy of "Marin Magazine" for Nov. 4, and hasten to congratulate you on the excellent cover story on Jack Irwin. Dick Steinheimer researched his story very well, and has presented it with equal skill.

The tribute to Mr. Irwin is richly deserved, and I'm sure is deeply appreciated by him. There is, however, an error, the focus of which appears in the middle paragraph of column four on page M7:

"Help has been offered in restoring the plane by several persons at the San Carlos airport, but nothing yet has been done."

The acceptance by the Smithsonian of the Irwin Meteorplane was in fact arranged by us, and we also arranged the transportation offer from United Air Lines (to New York, by the way, not Chicago).

We have also agreed to finance the restoration ourselves, yet allow Mr. Irwin to execute the deed of gift to the Smithsonian. All of these things are of record in our correspondence, and we can send you copies if you have need of them.

There have been, according to Mrs. Irwin, several persons who have tried to buy his airplane for their own collections. We were the first who offered him the full satisfaction of having it preserved for the public.

The lack of progress in the actual mechanics of the restoration has been caused in part by the uncertain status of the San Carlos Airport until very recently, and in part by the simple pressures of other work.

Way To Render Life Tolerable

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I agree with your editorial of Nov. 17 pointing out that the shelter controversy is dividing us at a time when we need to unite if we are to achieve a world in which war is no longer the ultimate solution to political, economic or border disputes.

We embroil ourselves in debates over whether to dig or not to dig when the real debate is over whether to give up war, or give up ourselves.

I think one of Voltaire's remarks is pertinent to our time:

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The article in the Independent-Journal of Nov. 16, covering the KTIM broadcast of the same day regarding the Blair recall, contains several glaring inaccuracies.

By way of demonstrating the immaturity of Supervisor Blair's opponent, Albert Bianchi, who spoke for Supervisor Blair, said that Peter Behr had urged the Board of Supervisors to purchase land for "hot rod" addicts and to appropriate $20,000 to build the track and facilities.

The article covers this point as follows:

"Ring (who spoke for Mr. Behr) said that while he was Mill Valley Councilman in 1956, Behr had voted $20,000 for a drag strip."

On the same program, Mr. Behr asked Mr. Bianchi and me whether we were familiar with the current preliminary and final county budget. I replied that I was not but that I was sure Mr. Behr could get prompt replies to any questions he might put to Supervisor Blair on the subject, and that he could undoubtedly get even more adequate answers from Supervisor Blair after the election.

The article: "Ehlen replied that he was not familiar (with the current county budget) but he was sure Behr could get adequate answers from Supervisor Blair after the election."

Incidentally, Supervisor Blair and his supporters are prepared to concede that the votes of all political "hot rodders" will be cast in favor of Mr. Blair's opponent.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A high-ranking member of the British delegation at the U. N. told me of a weekend visit to a home for overworked V.I.P.'s who had suffered nervous breakdowns and were being nursed back slowly to normal. One of these temporarily deranged bigwigs was laboring under the unfortunate delusion that he was the Good Lord himself.

The Britisher, lunching with him, decided to humor him, and remarked, "Am I correct in my assumption that you created the universe in six days, and then rested on the seventh."

The ailing V.I.P. stood up angrily and announced, "I never discuss my business problems while I am eating."

Next month is the time when Wall Street publicists and analysts rush into print with predictions for the coming year's economy. The fact that they may have proved spectacularly wrong on numerous previous occasions doesn't stop them from pontificating with equal certainty again. Bernard Baruch calls this year-end roundup time "The season of excess prophets."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By CARLETON WILLIAMS

Pershina Can Sell 'Tropic Of Cancer' If He Has The 'Audacity'

Being among the first to eat crow when I have made a mistake, I must admit I did wrong by Roger Garety, our district attorney, when I recently reported in this space that he had forbidden Frank Pershina, San Anselmo bookseller, to sell Henry Miller's controversial "Tropic of Cancer."

All Garety's office did was throw Pershina in jail for selling the book.

He is perfectly free to continue selling the novel until the question of its "obscenity" is decided at a trial, now set for Dec. 5.

MY POINT, made on erroneous information, was that Pershina was not allowed to get on the gravy train and raise his attorney fees through booming sales of the book, brought on by the district attorney's action.

Garety maintains that he did not act as a censor. It is his duty as district attorney, he explained, to prosecute the seller of any book he considers "obscene."

"I AM NOT conducting a campaign of harassment," the district attorney said in answer to my question if Pershina was free to sell the book. "I have arrested him once. That is the end of it, as far as I am concerned, until the issue comes to trial."

The court, not his office, will decide as to the book's obscenity, Garety said.

Adding his blessing to continued sale of the book was San Anselmo Police Chief Raymond Buchignani. "I have never told Pershina he cannot sell the book and I don't intend to," Buchagnini said.

Meanwhile, back at the book store, Pershina was having no part of the kind offers of Garety and Buchignani.

I found Pershina, behind the counter of his Golden Hinde Book Store, a mild man who uses big, clean words, such as "audacity."

"CAN YOU IMAGINE what a jury would say if I went on selling the book after I was arrested for selling it?" Pershina asked.

"'Imagine the audacity of that young man!' That's what they would say," he ventured.

His attorney, Charles W. Pierce, nodded sagely as he stood at his client's elbow, idly browsing through a copy of "Alice in Wonderland."

As much as I hate to see the day approaching when I am told what I can and cannot read, the whole matter has, for me, an even deeper significance.

AS A YOUNGSTER in Tennessee, I took an unmerciful ribbing from civilized peoples everywhere over the famed "Monkey Trial" of the 1920s when Clarence Darrow and William Jennings Bryan squared off on the question of evolution.

In desperation, I moved from the blighted backwoods to the enlightened shores of California, finally settling in the cultural Mecca of Marin.

And all of a sudden I find my friends and relatives in Tennessee laughing at me.

My provincial allegiance is reaching the breaking point.

Common Market Big Step Toward Making Communism Thing Of Past

WASHINGTON— How would you feel if you were to wake up some morning and find that the menace of international Communism was appreciably receding?

Would you think that you were still dreaming, that it was too improbable to be true?

This day is going to come. It is nearer our reach than we realize. The time is at hand to put behind us the feeling of impotence, the feeling that the Communists are the only ones who can make headway.

LET ME SAY at the very outset that the outthrusting reach of the Soviet Union and Red China will not be suddenly paralyzed. Some of the fragile and underdeveloped countries may be allured by the idea that Communism has a quick and easy answer to industrialization.

Obviously we can't afford to let down our guard in any way.

But I am convinced that within this decade we will wonder why we ever permitted ourselves to be brainwashed into believing that the alternative to being "Red" was being "dead."

The report I make is that after taking a firsthand look at the dynamism of Western Europe, there is an economic and political force in the European Common Market capable of changing the whole face of the cold war.

THE SWEEP OF this development is breathtaking in its significance. It means that, instead of the Western Alliance's falling apart, Western nations are coming together in a way which creates an incalculable momentum. I refer to the following:

1—Embracing the six nations of France, West Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium, and Luxembourg, the European Common Market is achieving an economic and political success beyond the hopes of its most ardent advocates.

2—Its success is so great and its future so certain that the British government, despite all the historic pressures of holding aloof from the continent, has decided to cast its lot with the Common Market. The British are joining—not to rescue it from weakness but to reap the benefits of full-bodied membership. To do this, Britain is willing to alter its ties with the Commonwealth, and abandon its traditional balance-of-power policy toward France and Germany.

3—The fact is that the dream of Western European unity and the shape of a United States of Europe have been emerging before our very eyes. It is already well advanced. Its full attainment is decisively in the making.

ALREADY WESTERN Europe is producing a gross national product within 10 per cent of the United States. With Britain and the others, it will soon be exceeding that of the U. S.

The Common Market countries are achieving a rate of economic growth nearly double our own—the most prosperous area anywhere in the world.

The new Europe, along with the U. S., will so clearly demonstrate the vigor of its competitive, free-market, consumer economy that Communism will look, to more and more people, like the wave of the past.

MARIN FILM FARE

An Elegant Soap Opera Opening At Rafael Theater This Sunday

By LES DARD

Here's a quick, capsule look at what's doing around Marin County movie houses this weekend:

RAFAEL THEATER

"Susan Slade," an elegant soap opera with Pebble Beach as home base, comes Sunday to the Rafael Theater.

The film reunites the stars of "Parrish," Troy Donahue and Connie Stevens in a plot of similar character and with a supporting cast of equal strength. Dorothy McGuire, Lloyd Nolan and Brian Aherne have principal roles.

Susan Slade, played by Miss Stevens, is a young girl who finds maturity after complicating her life. Troy Donahue is her true-blue suitor.

The plot, simply: Traveling aboard ship with her geologist father and mother, Susan falls in love with a dashing mountain climber (Grant Williams), who is later killed. The family lands in San Francisco, then goes back to Guatemala. Her father dies in Guatemala and mother and daughter return home to Monterey.

For a time everything is fine, then a new crisis enters their life. There is trouble with blue-nosed neighbors, but Donahue's love is unshaken.

The settings are casually sumptuous, the costumes fashionable.

This is not a movie for the youngsters.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

A slam-bang, blood-and-thunder Western of the kind that has kept John Wayne on top of the heap these many years, opens Sunday at the Tamalpais.

In "The Commancheros" Wayne plays a Texas Ranger who's on the trail of a killer and incidentally manages to clean up a marauding band of Commancheros. These were white men who used Commanches as raiders in exchange for giving them whiskey and rifles.

Stuart Whitman plays Wayne's quarry, a riverboat gambler who killed a man in a New Orleans duel. Whitman manages to good-naturedly elude Wayne most of the time, fall in love with Ina Babin, the daughter of the Commanchero leader, and eventually finds himself sworn into the Rangers as a reward for services rendered.

Nehemiah Persoff of TV fame plays the Commanchero leader and another TV personality, Lee Marvin (star of "M Squad") plays a repulsive gunrunner also polished off by Wayne. Bruce Cabot is the leader of the Rangers and you will also see Wayne's daughter, Aissa, and son, Pat, in minor roles following Daddy's great big footsteps.

You'll find the CinemaScope color photography beautiful and imaginative.

If you're an honest-to-goodness, dyed-in-the-saddle Western lover, mount up and head for San Anselmo Sunday.

SEQUOIA THEATER

Audrey Hepburn plays the delightfully dizzy Manhattan playgirl Holly Golightly in "Breakfast at Tiffany's," the screen version of Truman Capote's novella, starting Sunday at the Sequoia.

It's a gay, sophisticated and somewhat odd-ball love story in which the star leads a fast life, but somehow keeps us convinced that beneath it all she's a good girl.

Holly takes another look at life when she gets to know George Peppard, her East Side neighbor and a writer whose rent is paid by wealthy Patricia Neal.

There are many moments here to delight you.

LARK THEATER

"Dentist in the Chair" remains a second week at the Lark, another light-hearted view of crime from the British.

The story concerns a thief who steals dental equipment by mistake, then tries to unload it on students at a dental college.

There's the usual bumbling and misunderstanding and the comedy takes an awful whack at every kind of authority.

Robert Monkhouse, Peggy Cummins and Kenneth Connor star.

FAIRFAX, TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

"Pepe" is playing at both theaters this weekend. It's a comic potpourri built around the amiable antics of Cantinflas, whom you may remember as David Niven's lovable manservant in "Around the World in 80 Days."

Some 25 famous faces crowd the screen in brief cameos, including Debbie Reynolds, Jimmy Durante, Bing Crosby, Maurice Chevalier and on and on.

The story deals with Cantinflas and his beloved horse. When the stallion winds up in possession of Dan Dailey, a down and out Hollywood director, the comic tags happily along, just to be near the animal.

In Las Vegas, Cantinflas wins a bundle, which Dailey appropriates to finance a movie. Shirley Jones, an actress dowr on her luck, winds up in the picture and in Dailey's arms. Pepe winds up with the horse.

"Gidget Goes Hawaiian" is co-featured at the Fairfax; the truly funny "Honeymoon Machine" shares the bill at the Tiburon Playhouse.

MOTOR MOVIES

"Return to Peyton Place" and "The Last Sunset" offer a double bill at Motor Movies.

In this sequel to the highly successful "Peyton Place," Grace Metalious tells the impact of her first book on the small New Hampshire community it dissected so thoroughly. Carol Lynley plays Allison, a young beauty who writes a novel about her home town and the lives of its inhabitants. Also starring are Jeff Chandler, Eleanor Parker and Mary Astor.

"The Last Sunset" stars Rock Hudson, Kirk Douglas, Dorothy Malone and Joseph Cotten in a big, big Western that is short of nothing. We see stampedes, a prairie storm, Indian fights, gun slinging and fist swinging, with a couple of romances thrown in for very good measure.

NOVATO THEATER

Ten big name stars, 45,000 extras, full color and wide screen bring Leon Uris' best selling novel, "Exodus," to the screen Sunday at the Novato.

It is the story of Israel's painful birth, as told through the anguished love story of a Jewish fighter and an American nurse.

A fine screenplay by Dalton Trumbo, expertly produced by Otto Preminger, casts Paul Newman as Ari Ben Cannan, heroic Hagannah leader. Eva Marie Saint is Kitty Fremont, the widowed American nurse swept up in Israel's troubles. Sal Mineo plays Dov Landau, deranged survivor of Auschwitz. Other big names are Lee J. Cobb, Ralph Richardson, Peter Lawford, Gregory Ratoff, John Derek, Hugh Griffith and Felix Aylmer.

A notable achievement in film-making.

Goodwill Units Seeks Unwanted Articles

More than 1,000 residents of San Rafael contributed their unwanted articles to Goodwill Industries during the last four weeks, Kenneth G. Foster, executive director, reported today.

Each bag donated created approximately five hours employment for the 10 handicapped Marinites employed in the sheltered workshop, he said. However, Goodwill is currently operating on a day to day basis. This could result in a work shortage, Foster said, should donations lag. Furniture and household appliances are especially needed.

San Rafael Youth Re-Enlists In Navy

Dana Theron Reagan, 22, of Santa Venetia has decided he'd like six more years of the Navy.

Reagan, an aviation electronics technician second class, reenlisted for a six-year term at the Marin Navy Recruiting Station at 1116 Fourth Street, San Rafael, this week. He will report to Treasure Island on Dec. 7 to await orders for permanent duty assignment, said Bosuns Mate R. B. Hill, recruiter. Reagan is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Warren Reagan of 294 North San Pedro Road.

General Dean To Speak At Scout Dinner

Maj. Gen. William F. Dean will be keynote speaker at the annual recognition dinner of Miwok District, Marin Boy Scout Council, on Dec. 14 at the Hamilton Air Force Base NCO Club.

The 6:30 p.m. dinner will honor scouters in the district which includes San Rafael and the northern portion of Marin County.

General Dean is holder of a Congressional Medal of Honor. He was captured by the Korean Communists in the Korean War.

Charles L. Convis, Miwok District chairman, said reservations for the dinner may be made at the Marin Council office at 739 A Street, San Rafael.

News Of Restaurants Over Marin —Their Foods And Remodelings

Most people in Novato have visited Cloud 5. Others know about it, too — from Sonoma County to Sausalito where they have so many restaurants you'd hardly think they'd notice.

But being in the heart of town on First Street off Grant Avenue — it's natural for it to attract the local crowd. Then Christine Bolton and Archie Sawyer have a lot of friends and it's a place to go for good German cooking as well as the standard menu choices.

Sirloin tips and Swiss steak are the lunch favorites — certainly the tips anyway.

Cloud 5's homey and comfortable. The banquet room's big enough for good-sized parties, though, and they have dancing Saturday nights.

REMODELING of the old Lark Grill in Larkspur by new owners Charles Dulcan and Thomas Harshbarger of Mill Valley isn't quite finished. They don't expect it to be until after Dec. 1. Then it will be known as the Charcoal House.

It's being done over in Victorian style and will be mostly for steaks and chops at one price ($1.85).

COLD DAYS AND NIGHTS like these are reason enough to step inside San Rafael Joe's and warm yourself by the fire in the lounge. And if you get that far you may as well go the rest of the way and let those two Toscani feed you—Hector Rubini and Guido Farina.

BILL MADDOX who took over Moore's candy store and fountain on Fourth Street, San Rafael, and fixed it over has done quite a job of facelifting. More space, more tables, more help — you might say there's Moore of everything.

KENNY SHAFFER, who has taken over the K-C Drive-In on the Miracle Mile, San Rafael, and expects to open it a week from today, says his new name "Justrite Drive-In" was taken from a sandwich he concocted when he was in the business in Iowa. His main reason for taking on the place was just so he could introduce the sandwich here, so it must be good.

"US CALIFORNIANS must stick together."

Last week Angelo and Lou Sabella found themselves committed to providing fresh crabs for a banquet of former U.C. and Stanford students at Sage's restaurant in Chicago — but there were none.

So they took the Sabella fishing boat outside the Golden Gate and made their own catch, then rushed the crabs to the airport where they were rushed to Chicago arriving in time.

PETE LIND'S new place in Sausalito originally was to be named Pete's Pier 16. Pete changed his mind then, but forgot to notify Bob Bohanna of Marin Neon who was working on the sign.

A few days ago the sign went up as ordered and Pete is stuck with what seems logical anyway — Pier 15 in San Rafael and Pier 16 in Sausalito.

Should be open about Dec. 2.

You'll love it if you can find it

Most people, when they partake of the incomparable international cuisine at Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club House, know the sweet serenity of fulfilled self-indulgence.

The only catch is, the Club House is tricky to locate. Even our renowned chef, formerly accustomed to the simple centrality of the Hotel Claridge in Paris, sometimes gets lost wending his way to his Peacock Gap domain.

Actually, all you have to do is go east on Third Street in San Rafael and proceed 4.1 miles on along San Pedro Road until you reach miraculous Marin Bay. There, if it's evening, you trail the tiki torches to your delightful destination. By day, stop at the Marin Bay Display Pavilion and ask for complete clues.

Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club House is open to the public for luncheon, 11 to 3, Tuesday through Sunday. Exceptional dinners are served 6 to 10, Saturdays and Sundays. Closed on Monday. For reservations, call San Rafael, GLenwood 3-4122. Tables for two or twenty.

Marin Team Dominates Bowl Tilt

The Redwood Junior Giants in the wake of their star tailback-captain Danny Salata smothered the Meridian, Ida., Athletic Assn. Pop Warner football team in the Bronco Bowl at Boise, Ida., 51-28, yesterday.

The victory gave the Marin team the National Junior (midget) Championship awarded by the Boise Optimist Club which sponsored the contest.

Tailback Salata score four touchdowns on runs of 4, 2, 45, 78 yards. He gained a total of 180 yards for the Giants on the ground and passed for another 106.

The game was played on a slushy field, the result of two-days of snow and a night of rain. Giant coach John Pagliaro described it as a "well played ball game" by his boys, and the contest as a whole as "good."

The Marin team was scheduled to leave Boise tonight and arrive by bus at the Corte Madera depot tomorrow between 9 and 10 a.m., said Pagliaro in an interview by telephone with KTIM newscaster Karl Barron yesterday.

The Junior Giants held the Meridian team scoreless in the first period, but picked up 13 points themselves. The first TD came on a four-yard run by Salata. The PAT was scored by Tommy Sather. Then later in the same period, right halfback Pete Bricca romped 31 yards for six points.

In the second quarter, Meridian came back for six on a six-yard run and a successful PAT. The Marin team then tallied on a two-yard run by Salata. Meridian scored again, this time on a 19-yard rush. The extra point attempt was good and the score was 19-14, Giants. Bricca widened the margin in the same period, however, with a 56-yard run down the sidelines for a touchdown. The halftime score, as a result, was 25-14, Marin County.

In the third period Salata scored on a 45-yard run, and Sather on a 12-yard drive, and in the final period, Sather threw a 30-yard flyer to Salata for the Giants final touchdown. Salata scored the PAT to make it 51 points. Meridian's only second-half count came in this quarter on a four-yard run and a PAT.

Pagliaro credited the high score not only to fine running, but also to "excellent" downfield blocking. He gave laudets to most of the team and especially the forward wall of the Giants. Playing most of the bowl game were: Salata (captain), quarterback Vic Saulentas, fullback Sather, right half Bricca, right end Chuck Meyers, right tackle Trevor Benedict, left tackle Scott Hewett, right guard Bill Niccolls, center Terry Beadoin, left guard Fred Hines, and left end Roger Heglund.

Only 'A Miracle' Can Stop Green Bay From Pro Title

DETROIT (UPI)—Even Coach George Wilson of the Detroit Lions was ready to concede today that "only a miracle" can stop the Green Bay Packers from clinching the Western Division title in the National Football League.

"They'll have to lose their last three games, and that's not likely," said the dejected Wilson after the Packers' 17-9 victory over the Lions in yesterday's nationally-televised turkey day game.

"But," said Wlison like a man trying to whistle passing the graveyard, "you never know what will happen in pro football."

The Packers took a 2½ game lead over Detroit in the Western Division by yesterday's win and will rest Sunday while the other clubs knock heads.

In Sunday games, Cleveland is picked by 2 over the New York Giants, an outcome that would deadlock the two for first place in the Eastern Division, and Philadelphia could join such a tie by making good as a 14-point kick over Dallas. In other games, it's Baltimore 12 over Washington, Chicago 8 over Los Angeles, Pittsburgh 7 over St. Louis, and San Francisco 15 over Minnesota.

The Packers looked like champions in the decisive final period of yesterday's rain-splattered game, played before a record Detroit Thanksgiving Day crowd of 55,662 which braved the dismal weather to see their heroes go down to defeat.

The Packers were bolstered by the return of their drafted trio—Paul Hornung, Boyd Dowler and Ray Nitschke—but it was the Green Bay defensive backfield and hard-running fullback Jim Taylor who made the difference.

Both coaches admitted Herb Adderley's interception of a Jim Ninowski pass late in the third period, which set up Packers' winning score, made the difference.

With a first down on the Detroit 40 following Adderley's pick-off, the Packers marched in to score in four plays with Taylor bulling his way the final two yards for his second touchdown of the game.

"It took me a whole year to find out where to play Adderly," Lombardi said. "I'm pretty stupid, I guess."

Wilson said the Adderley play was "the key one," but "Taylor was the guy who killed us."

Taylor, held to 35 yards rushing in the first three periods, found running room in the final quarter and picked up 55 yards in 11 carries to spark the Packers' two final scoring drives.

Taylor's plunge put Green Bay ahead, 14-9, and another interception by Willie Wood of a Ninowski throw led to the clincher by Hornung — a 12-yard field goal with only 38 seconds left.

Runner Bruce Kidd Is Talk Of Experts

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Houston's track and field club is still team champion, but Canada's 18-year-old Bruce Kidd is the talk of the experts today after his victory in the National AAU 10,000 meter cross-country run.

Kidd sloshed through mud and a drizzling rain yesterday to beat a field of 120 in the annual event, held on the Bellarmime College campus. His time was 32 minutes, 2.6 seconds. John Gutknecht of the Baltimore Olympic Club was second, about 40 yards back, running the 6⅛ mile course in 32:08.

Houston, in winning the team championship for the third consecutive year, had 35 points, followed by Southern Illinois with 64, Baltimore Olympics, 83, University of Chicago Track Club 87 and New York Athletic Club 98.

Not Many Big Game Week Pranks, But Stanford Pulls A 'Newsy' One

HANLEY

Seems as though this was the quietest Big Game week in years. Could the season records of California (1-7-1) and Stanford (3-6) have been responsible? Perhaps partly. But the main reason was the split holiday week with Thanksgiving sandwiched in the middle.

It started out like any other Big Game week with the rival campuses bedecked in bunting and floral displays, many of which had to be re-done hastily following a steady rain last Sunday night. Nevertheless, Cal's sororities and fraternities had their displays ready for Tuesday's judging due to some overtime work on Monday.

Normally, Monday always could be counted on for a bit if inter-campus raiding but Sunday's rain created Monday's emergency repairs on The Farm and in Berkeley. Everyone was too tired Tuesday for shenanigans. It wasn't until Wednesday that the first prank of the 64th Big Game was staged—and even that was a tame one although it required considerable footwork.

SEVERAL CARLOADS of Stanford students visited the Berkeley campus at 6 a.m. Wednesday and stealthily stripped 16,000 copies of the Daily Californian from every newsstand and doorstep. Yesterday, of course, was Thanksgiving and everyone was busy at the table—and nobody was in a retaliatory mood on a stuffed stomach.

Less than 24 hours now are left for any daring dashes on and off the other fellow's campus. There may be 11th hour efforts to touch off prematurely the bonfires scheduled for lighting tonight at the Big Game rallies on The Farm and the Berkeley campus. Such efforts seldom succeed due to 24-hour guards who face sentences worse than death if they fail in their solemn duties.

JUST IN case Cal's bonfire should be ignited before the scheduled hour tonight, the Golden Bear rally committee has imported a most acceptable substitute in Ella Fitzgerald whose singing will warm any crowd.

So don't blame Cal's or Stanford's season record for this quiet Big Game week. And their records, incidentally, should be viewed in the light of the teams they met this year. They certainly didn't pick on creampuffs, despite thin benches.

Even Napoleon lost a big one at Waterloo because he had no bench.

Injury-Riddled Cal, Stanford Clash In Big Game Tomorrow

STANFORD (AP)—Saturday is the 64th Big Game between football forces of Stanford and California, both battered and bruised. A crowd of 80,000 is expected to see the battle for salvation of losing seasons.

Rated a toss-up, the game should be just that with both Coach Marv Levy of California and Jack Curtice of Stanford patching together lineups for the finale.

"Boys you never heard of could be the stars on both sides," declared Curtice. Many players have been elevated into key positions because of injuries to experienced personnel.

Stanford has lost second string quarterback Chuck Butler and end Steve Pursell. Both big tackles Al Hildebrand and Frank Atkinson are ailing. Sophomore quarterback star Steve Thurlow went out with mononucleosis early in the season.

That leaves Red Sears and Jim Smith to handle the quarterback assignments. Smith is hampered by a shoulder injury.

Center Chris Cottle will start but he has an injured ankle.

California's No. 1 quarterback Larry Balliett, and also its best defensive back, is out with an eye injury. Randy Gold will play but his passing may not be up to par because of a right shoulder injury.

California has a 1-7-1 record and Stanford 3-6. Both have lost their last five outings.

"It's been a long, hard season," Levy commented, "but the Big Game is traditional and in a traditional game teams tend to overcome a lot of handicaps."

Levy listed a probable lineup of ends Dave Muga and Bob Wills, tackles Lauren Bock and either Norm McLean or Manuel Penaflor, guards Roger Stull and Sam Stassi, center Tom Burke, Gold, halfbacks Jerry Scattini and Rudy Carvajal and fullback George Pierovich. Each of the starting backs is nursing an injury.

For Stanford, Curtice expects to start Frank Patitucci and George Honore at the ends, Chuck Buehler and C. B. Simons at tackles, Errol Scott and Tom Walsh at guards, Cottle at center, Sears at quarterback, Gary Craig and Danny Spence at the halves and Ken Babajian at fullback.

In weight, the two starting teams are even at 201 pounds. Stanford's line averages 212 and the backfield 182. California has a line averaging 205 and backfield at 195.

Marin Team Dominates Bowl Tilt

The Redwood Junior Giants in the wake of their star tailback-captain Danny Salata smothered the Meridian, Ida., Athletic Assn. Pop Warner football team in the Bronco Bowl at Boise, Ida., 51-28, yesterday.

The victory gave the Marin team the National Junior (midget) Championship awarded by the Boise Optimist Club which sponsored the contest.

Tailback Salata score four touchdowns on runs of 4, 2, 45, 78 yards. He gained a total of 180 yards for the Giants on the ground and passed for another 106.

The game was played on a slushy field, the result of two-days of snow and a night of rain. Giant coach John Pagliaro described it as a "well played ball game" by his boys, and the contest as a whole as "good."

The Marin team was scheduled to leave Boise tonight and arrive by bus at the Corte Madera depot tomorrow between 9 and 10 a.m., said Pagliaro in an interview by telephone with KTIM newscaster Karl Barron yesterday.

The Junior Giants held the Meridian team scoreless in the first period, but picked up 13 points themselves. The first TD came on a four-yard run by Salata. The PAT was scored by Tommy Sather. Then later in the same period, right halfback Pete Bricca romped 31 yards for six points.

In the second quarter, Meridian came back for six on a six-yard run and a successful PAT. The Marin team then tallied on a two-yard run by Salata. Meridian scored again, this time on a 19-yard rush. The extra point attempt was good and the score was 19-14, Giants. Bricca widened the margin in the same period, however, with a 56-yard run down the sidelines for a touchdown. The halftime score, as a result, was 25-14, Marin County.

In the third period Salata scored on a 45-yard run, and Sather on a 12-yard drive, and in the final period, Sather threw a 30-yard flyer to Salata for the Giants final touchdown. Salata scored the PAT to make it 51 points. Meridian's only second-half count came in this quarter on a four-yard run and a PAT.

Pagliaro credited the high score not only to fine running, but also to "excellent" downfield blocking. He gave laudets to most of the team and especially the forward wall of the Giants. Playing most of the bowl game were: Salata (captain), quarterback Vic Saulentas, fullback Sather, right half Bricca, right end Chuck Meyers, right tackle Trevor Benedict, left tackle Scott Hewett, right guard Bill Niccolls, center Terry Beadoin, left guard Fred Hines, and left end Roger Heglund.

Only 'A Miracle' Can Stop Green Bay From Pro Title

DETROIT (UPI)—Even Coach George Wilson of the Detroit Lions was ready to concede today that "only a miracle" can stop the Green Bay Packers from clinching the Western Division title in the National Football League.

"They'll have to lose their last three games, and that's not likely," said the dejected Wilson after the Packers' 17-9 victory over the Lions in yesterday's nationally-televised turkey day game.

Both coaches admitted Herb Adderley's interception of a Jim Ninowski pass late in the third period, which set up Packers' winning score, made the difference.

With a first down on the Detroit 40 following Adderley's pick-off, the Packers marched in to score in four plays with Taylor bulling his way the final two yards for his second touchdown of the game.

"It took me a whole year to find out where to play Adderly," Lombardi said. "I'm pretty stupid, I guess."

Wilson said the Adderley play was "the key one," but "Taylor was the guy who killed us."

Taylor, held to 35 yards rushing in the first three periods, found running room in the final quarter and picked up 55 yards in 11 carries to spark the Packers' two final scoring drives.

Taylor's plunge put Green Bay ahead, 14-9, and another interception by Willie Wood of a Ninowski throw led to the clincher by Hornung — a 12-yard field goal with only 38 seconds left.

Brodie Will Start Against Minnesota

John Brodie will be the San Francisco 49ers' quarterback Sunday when they meet the Minnesota Vikings at Kezar Stadium.

Rookie Bill Kilmer, who scored four touchdowns against the Vikings in a 38-24 49er victory last month, will be on the bench.

"If Brodie moves the ball the way he did Sunday against the Bears, John will stay in there," says Hickey.

Brodie moved the ball against the Bears in spectacular fashion. With Brodie at the controls all the way, the 49ers netted 536 yards. He hit on 11 of 19 passes for 322 yards.

It was lanky John's best game since opening day, when he threw four touchdown passes against the Washington Redskins.

The 49ers have been established as 16-point favorites over the Vikings, who have just two wins in their initial National Football League season.

Fran Tarkenton, the snappy rookie from Georgie, is scheduled to start at quarterback for Minnesota but veteran George Shaw probably will get plenty of work too. Shaw has recovered from injuries while Tarkenton, just classified 4F by his Athens, Ga., draft board because of asthma, missed two days of practice while taking physicals.

Tarkenton will have three veterans with him in the Viking backfield, including Hugh McElhenny, the long-time San Francisco favorite who scored two touchdowns against the 49ers last month. Mac will be at left half, Jerry Reichow at flanker back and burly Mel Triplett at fullback.

C. R. Roberts, who rambled for 107 yards in 15 carries against the Bears, will be at full for the 49ers with J. D. Smith at left half and R. C. Owens at flanker. Rookie Aaron Thomas, who nabbed two long touchdown passes last week, and Monty Stickles, who grabbed another, will be the 49ers ends.

The 49ers still are in the midst of the battle for second place in the NFL's Western Conference but Norm Van Brocklin, the Vikings' coach, has had a hand in disappointing 49er fans in the past. Hickey isn't taking the game lightly, despite the 49ers being heavy favorites.

The 49ers still have a long injury list. Leo Nomellini, who has never missed a game in 12 seasons with the 49ers, is expected to go at defensive tackle. Monte Clark, Leo's regular running mate, and offensive tackle Bob St. Clair still are questionable.

Marine, Titan Chief Battle On Draft Hill

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Marine ace Joe Foss, quipping that "it's like having an audience with Khrushchev," prepared today for a showdown meeting with Harry Wismer over the New York Titan president's challenge to his authority as commissioner of the American Football League.

"It (the meeting) may come today, it may come later," Foss said. "I'm looking into certain things, very carefully. When it happens depends on how fast things move. I'm taking my time. We've had discussions before. It's like having an audience with Khrushchev."

Foss declined to explain what "things" meant but he balked at discussing little else in the sizzling feud that followed revelations that the young professional league had conducted a premature draft of college players in violation of an agreement with college officials.

SECRET DRAFT

Foss, claiming no knowledge of the owners' secret draft that came two weeks before the agreed upon Dec. 2 date, ordered it canceled Wednesday. Wismer openly defied the cancellation; said he would continue to try to sign the six college players, including Syracuse halfback Ernie Davis, he had picked in the draft.

Now each is threatening to oust the other and Foss is convinced he has the support of the other seven owners.

"The other owners realize you must have a commissioner, someone running the show," the World War II Marine pilot and former governor of South Dakota told the Associated Press.

COAST FOOTBALL

UCLA Favored To Win Big 5 Title

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southern California's Trojans and the Bruins of UCLA battle tomorrow for the football championship of the Big Five Conference and the right to play in the Rose Bowl.

For most of the West Coast teams, the day is the season finale with traditional battles. Washington hosts Washington State, California plays at Stanford, and Oregon at Oregon State.

Coach Bill Barnes of UCLA says, "We're going into this game in the weakest physical condition of any UCLA team in a long time."

John McKay of Southern California reported his Trojans will be in fair shape.

Still the Bruins, who lost to Washington last week in a Big Five upset, are slightly favored.

Both Washington and Washington State enter their traditional with victories—the Huskies 17-13 over the Bruins and the Cougars 30-0 over Stanford.

Washington Coach Jim Owens moved Ray Mansfield up to starting center and Tony Kopay to fullback.

AERIAL THREAT

Washington State QB Mel Melin, with the nation's leading receiver, Hugh Campbell, probably will take to the air frequently.

Although Oregon lost to Ohio State 22-12, that game increased the respect Oregon State has for the Ducks. If halfback Mel Renfro can go at near top form, Oregon will present a tough-to-stop running attack.

UCLA's Barnes indicated he'll depend largely on his running game again spearheaded by tailbacks Bobby Smith and Mike Haffner. Although the club finally gained through the air against Washington, the coach said, "we threw into too many interceptions."

USC's sophomore passing combine of quarterback Pete Beathard and end Hal Bedsole could provide McKay with his best weapon. He also has powerful fullback Ben Wilson to keep the defenses honest.

S.R. Little League Meeting Monday To Tell '62 Plans

The San Rafael American Legion Little League's 1962 Board of Directors will meet Monday at 8 p.m. at the city hall, anneunced president Mark Brown.

"The meeting is not intended to draft parents for jobs," he said, "but to inform them of plans for next year's season. By their presence at the meeting parents and friends of the league can indicate their interest and cooperation."

Players eligible for the San Rafael league are boys 8 to those who will be 12 until the last day of next July, and who reside west of Lincoln Avenue, north of Irwin Street.

MARIN TEAMS PLAY IN BOWL TOMORROW

Two Marin Pop Warner football teams will participate in a Fiesta Bowl twin bill at Sequoia High School in Redwood City tomorrow evening.

At 6 p.m., the San Rafael Rangers will clash with the San Carlos Lions. Two hours later, Mill Valley will meet Redwood City.

Bowl Bid Between Gophers, Buckeyes

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Now that the Texas Longhorns have clinched a berth in the Cotton Bowl, the rest of college football's bowl contenders seek to nail down berths this weekend with Miami (Fla.) starting the scramble for post-season activity tonight.

The Hurricanes will try to put on their best show for the Liberty Bowl officials who are expected to be on hand when Miami tangles with Northwestern in the Orange Bowl. The contest will mark the first trip to the southeast for the Big Ten Wildcats, who are a 4-point underdog.

Texas tucked away the Cotton Bowl host berth by routing Texas A.&M., 25-0, in a nationally televised game that topped the Thanksgiving Day action. The Longhorns, however, must await the outcome of the Arkansas-Texas Tech game on Saturday to see whether they finish first or tie for the Southwest championship with the Razorbacks.

Texas, which suffered its first loss of the season against Texas Christian last week, rebounded after a lethargic first half. The Longhorns held a 6-0 halftime lead but then they sprung a surprise play with halfback James Saxton throwing his first pass of the season for a touchdown to ignite the Texas attack.

It was a 46-yard play from Saxton to Jack Collins that caught the Aggies off guard. Other Longhorn scores came on touchdowns by Tommy Ford, Jerry Cook and Eldon Moritz's pair of first half field goals.

Arkansas is a 17-point choice to win Saturday and a win would tie them with Texas for the Southwest Conference title. But the Longhorns gained the bowl bid since they whipped Arkansas earlier this year.

Traditional rivalries with many conference titles are also up for grabs as well as bowl berths.

Minnesota and Ohio State will be crowned co-champions of the Big Ten if they can get by Wisconsin and Michigan, respectively. A Rose Bowl invitation may also be in store for either team.

In other leading games, Iowa is favored by 2 points over Notre Dame, Louisiana State is picked by 25 points over Tulane, North Carolina is 5 over Wake Forest, Oregon 1 over Oregon State and Tennessee and Kentucky are rated even.

The Orange Bowl representative is expected to be either Colorado or Kansas depending on which looks better next Saturday. The Buffaloes are an 8-point choice over Iowa State while the Jayhawkers are picked by 13 over Missouri. Colorado holds a full game lead over Kansas in the big eight race, the winner of which won't necessarily go to the Orange Bowl.

Top-ranked Alabama is idle this weekend.

Basketball League Deadline Dec. 14

Dec. 14 is the deadline for entering the annual San Rafael Recreation Department's Christmas basketball tournament, announced Joseph Rodota, director.

Last year some 24 teams participated in the contest for age groupings 12-and-under, 14-and-under, and 16-and-under.

The San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce will provide trophies for first and second place finishers in each division.

Rodota also announced the department's youth basketball will begin play early in January with games to be played in San Rafael High School and Davidson School gyms Saturdays. Entry deadline for the league is also Dec. 14. That night at 7 o'clock a league meeting will be held at Albert Park.

Final Minute Run Gives City College Win

SALINAS (AP) — A 13-yard touchdown run by Ron Coleman in the final minute and a half of play gave City College of San Francisco a 22-14 victory over Monterey Peninsula College Thursday in the first annual Lettuce Bowl game.

Neil Wheelwright and Harold Haines, former Springfield College athletes, are on Coach Howdy Myers' football staff at Hofstra College, Hempstead, N. Y.

Fresno Scores Huge Upset At Mercy Bowl

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Mercy Bowl football game went into the annals of the game today as a stunning win for under-rated Fresno State, a loss for Bowling Green and a success for its cause—victims of the Cal Poly plane crash a year ago.

Quarterback Beau Carter, end Jan Barrett and the Fresno Bulldogs broke the contest wide open in the third quarter with a three touchdown, 20-point explosion and went on to win, 36-6.

Said Bowling Green coach Doyt Perry, who had never in seven years with the Falcons had so many points scored against him:

"We were just beaten by a better team. I didn't think anybody could beat us that bad."

Bowling Green is champion of the Mid-American Conference. Fresno State is the kingpin of the California Collegiate Athletic Association.

10TH VICTORY

"We just wanted to let them know that somebody out here wanted to hit. I'm tired of hearing that West Coast teams don't want to hit," said Fresno coach Cecil Coleman as the team celebrated its 10th win of the year and 21st victory in the last 22 games.

Carter threw touchdown strikes of 45 and 23 to Barrett and scored two touchdowns personally on runs of four and eight yards to lead the attack.

Fullback Ray Bell plunged two yards to end a 51-yard drive for Bowling Green's only score.

There were 33,145 spectators in Memorial Coliseum.

Dr. Ferron C. Losee of Los Angeles State, the game director and originator of the benefit, said the game was a financial success.

GILES VS. CRONIN

Big Squabble Looms Over Spitball Issue

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Put down Warren Giles as flatly opposed to legalizing the spitball pitch, a proposal expected to provoke a big battle among baseball men next month.

Giles, National League chief, said today he believes revival of the spitter might cut down scoring and curtail home runs.

He said: "The home run is the most exciting play in baseball, comparable to the long touchdown in football and the field goal from far out in basketball.

"It is my firm belief that the long ball, particularly the home run, is what the fans come out to see."

Giles' opposite number in the American League, Joe Cronin, is already on record favoring return of the spitter.

He contended two weeks ago that "it's quite possible some pitchers could add three, four or even five years to their careers if they can use the spitball."

The big tussle is to come early next month when the major leagues rules committee must decide at its winter meeting in Tampa, Fla., whether to legalize the spitball again.

Managers and players in the big leagues want a firm decision on the matter, partly because, they say, some pitchers have been using the outlawed spitter to good advantage.

In its legal days, the spitter came when a pitcher put saliva, or some other foreign substance on the ball, or roughed up one side of the ball and served up a pitch with great spin that veered in an eccentric and unpredictable way.

It was outlawed in 1920, but pitchers who were using it were allowed to continue until their playing days were over.

Giles, long known as an expert on modern baseball rules, said, "Some of the arguments that pitchers need help simply are not borne out by fact.

"It's true that more home runs are being hit today than were hit a few decades ago, but what's so terrible about that?"

Giles said homeer hitters "Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle packed them in all over the American League this year," while Yankee pitcher Whitey Ford compiled a sensational 25-4 record.

Giles said of Ford: "Can anyone say he was a gate attraction comparable to Maris or Mantle?"

Taking the lead on the 103rd lap, Foyt led the rest of the way

Parnelli Jones, Torrance, was second and Jimmy Davies, Montecello, Ind., finished third.

Jim Hurtubise, Lennox, who held the lead until Foyt moved into first position, dropped back in the late laps and finished fourth.

Seals Wish To Better 1-1 Record Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Seals, seeking to better their 1-1 home record, host the Calgary Stampeders tonight in a Western Hockey League match at the Cow Palace.

The two squads, each in third place in their divisions, split a pair at Calgary.

The Stampeders 7-7-2 whiped Los Angeles twice in their last outings. The Seals 5-11-0 divided two games with league-leading Edmonton in their home debut.

Hard Has Fall But Hardly Hurt

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — U.S. tennis champion Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., fell down the concrete stairs in the main stand at Memorial Drive today while reading a letter from home.

Limping and with her knee grazed she immediately went on to the court with her partner, Roger Taylor of Britain and defeated Rodney Brent and Gwen Toohey of Australia 6-1, 6-3 in the mixed doubles semifinals of the South Australian Championship.

Tournament officials were worried over the fall as Miss Hard is one of the main attractions of this tourney, but the American girl soon showed that the fall had not impaired her play.

Saturday Miss Hard meets Australian champion Margaret Smith in the women's singles finals, after which Australian Davis Cuppers Neale Fraser and Roy Emerson fight it out in the men's singles title.

Brodie Will Start Against Minnesota

John Brodie will be the San Francisco 49ers' quarterback Sunday when they meet the Minnesota Vikings at Kezar Stadium.

Rookie Bill Kilmer, who scored four touchdowns against the Vikings in a 38-24 49er victory last month, will be on the bench.

"If Brodie moves the ball the way he did Sunday against the Bears, John will stay in there," says Hickey.

Brodie moved the ball against the Bears in spectacular fashion. With Brodie at the controls all the way, the 49ers netted 536 yards. He hit on 11 of 19 passes for 322 yards.

It was lanky John's best game since opening day, when he threw four touchdown passes against the Washington Redskins.

The 49ers have been established as 16-point favorites over the Vikings, who have just two wins in their initial National Football League season.

Fran Tarkenton, the snappy rookie from Georgie, is scheduled to start at quarterback for Minnesota but veteran George Shaw probably will get plenty of work too. Shaw has recovered from injuries while Tarkenton, just classified 4F by his Athens, Ga., draft board because of asthma, missed two days of practice while taking physicals.

Tarkenton will have three veterans with him in the Viking backfield, including Hugh McElhenny, the long-time San Francisco favorite who scored two touchdowns against the 49ers last month. Mac will be at left half, Jerry Reichow at flanker back and burly Mel Triplett at fullback.

C. R. Roberts, who rambled for 107 yards in 15 carries against the Bears, will be at full for the 49ers with J. D. Smith at left half and R. C. Owens at flanker. Rookie Aaron Thomas, who nabbed two long touchdown passes last week, and Monty Stickles, who grabbed another, will be the 49ers ends.

The 49ers still are in the midst of the battle for second place in the NFL's Western Conference but Norm Van Brocklin, the Vikings' coach, has had a hand in disappointing 49er fans in the past. Hickey isn't taking the game lightly, despite the 49ers being heavy favorites.

The 49ers still have a long injury list. Leo Nomellini, who has never missed a game in 12 seasons with the 49ers, is expected to go at defensive tackle. Monte Clark, Leo's regular running mate, and offensive tackle Bob St. Clair still are questionable.

Marine, Titan Chief Battle On Draft Hill

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Marine ace Joe Foss, quipping that "it's like having an audience with Khrushchev," prepared today for a showdown meeting with Harry Wismer over the New York Titan president's challenge to his authority as commissioner of the American Football League.

"It (the meeting) may come today, it may come later," Foss said. "I'm looking into certain things, very carefully. When it happens depends on how fast things move. I'm taking my time. We've had discussions before. It's like having an audience with Khrushchev."

Foss declined to explain what "things" meant but he balked at discussing little else in the sizzling feud that followed revelations that the young professional league had conducted a premature draft of college players in violation of an agreement with college officials.

SECRET DRAFT

Foss, claiming no knowledge of the owners' secret draft that came two weeks before the agreed upon Dec. 2 date, ordered it canceled Wednesday. Wismer openly defied the cancellation; said he would continue to try to sign the six college players, including Syracuse halfback Ernie Davis, he had picked in the draft.

Now each is threatening to oust the other and Foss is convinced he has the support of the other seven owners.

"The other owners realize you must have a commissioner, someone running the show," the World War II Marine pilot and former governor of South Dakota told the Associated Press.

COAST FOOTBALL

UCLA Favored To Win Big 5 Title

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southern California's Trojans and the Bruins of UCLA battle tomorrow for the football championship of the Big Five Conference and the right to play in the Rose Bowl.

For most of the West Coast teams, the day is the season finale with traditional battles. Washington hosts Washington State, California plays at Stanford, and Oregon at Oregon State.

Coach Bill Barnes of UCLA says, "We're going into this game in the weakest physical condition of any UCLA team in a long time."

John McKay of Southern California reported his Trojans will be in fair shape.

Still the Bruins, who lost to Washington last week in a Big Five upset, are slightly favored.

Both Washington and Washington State enter their traditional with victories—the Huskies 17-13 over the Bruins and the Cougars 30-0 over Stanford.

Washington Coach Jim Owens moved Ray Mansfield up to starting center and Tony Kopay to fullback.

AERIAL THREAT

Washington State QB Mel Melin, with the nation's leading receiver, Hugh Campbell, probably will take to the air frequently.

Although Oregon lost to Ohio State 22-12, that game increased the respect Oregon State has for the Ducks. If halfback Mel Renfro can go at near top form, Oregon will present a tough-to-stop running attack.

UCLA's Barnes indicated he'll depend largely on his running game again spearheaded by tailbacks Bobby Smith and Mike Haffner. Although the club finally gained through the air against Washington, the coach said, "we threw into too many interceptions."

USC's sophomore passing combine of quarterback Pete Beathard and end Hal Bedsole could provide McKay with his best weapon. He also has powerful fullback Ben Wilson to keep the defenses honest.

S.R. Little League Meeting Monday To Tell '62 Plans

The San Rafael American Legion Little League's 1962 Board of Directors will meet Monday at 8 p.m. at the city hall, announced president Mark Brown.

"The meeting is not intended to draft parents for jobs," he said, "but to inform them of plans for next year's season. By their presence at the meeting parents and friends of the league can indicate their interest and cooperation."

Players eligible for the San Rafael league are boys 8 to those who will be 12 until the last day of next July, and who reside west of Lincoln Avenue, north of Irwin Street.

MARIN TEAMS PLAY IN BOWL TOMORROW

Two Marin Pop Warner football teams will participate in a Fiesta Bowl twin bill at Sequoia High School in Redwood City tomorrow evening.

At 6 p.m., the San Rafael Rangers will clash with the San Carlos Lions. Two hours later, Mill Valley will meet Redwood City.

Bowl Bid Between Gophers, Buckeyes

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Now that the Texas Longhorns have clinched a berth in the Cotton Bowl, the rest of college football's bowl contenders seek to nail down berths this weekend with Miami (Fla.) starting the scramble for post-season activity tonight.

The Hurricanes will try to put on their best show for the Liberty Bowl officials who are expected to be on hand when Miami tangles with Northwestern in the Orange Bowl. The contest will mark the first trip to the southeast for the Big Ten Wildcats, who are a 4-point underdog.

Texas tucked away the Cotton Bowl host berth by routing Texas A.&M., 25-0, in a nationally televised game that topped the Thanksgiving Day action. The Longhorns, however, must await the outcome of the Arkansas-Texas Tech game on Saturday to see whether they finish first or tie for the Southwest championship with the Razorbacks.

Texas, which suffered its first loss of the season against Texas Christian last week, rebounded after a lethargic first half. The Longhorns held a 6-0 halftime lead but then they sprung a surprise play with halfback James Saxton throwing his first pass of the season for a touchdown to ignite the Texas attack.

It was a 46-yard play from Saxton to Jack Collins that caught the Aggies off guard. Other Longhorn scores came on touchdowns by Tommy Ford, Jerry Cook and Eldon Moritz's pair of first half field goals.

Arkansas is a 17-point choice to win Saturday and a win would tie them with Texas for the Southwest Conference title. But the Longhorns gained the bowl bid since they whipped Arkansas earlier this year.

Traditional rivalries with many conference titles are also up for grabs as well as bowl berths.

Minnesota and Ohio State will be crowned co-champions of the Big Ten if they can get by Wisconsin and Michigan, respectively. A Rose Bowl invitation may also be in store for either team.

In other leading games, Iowa is favored by 2 points over Notre Dame, Louisiana State is picked by 25 points over Tulane, North Carolina is 5 over Wake Forest, Oregon 1 over Oregon State and Tennessee and Kentucky are rated even.

The Orange Bowl representative is expected to be either Colorado or Kansas depending on which looks better next Saturday. The Buffaloes are an 8-point choice over Iowa State while the Jayhawkers are picked by 13 over Missouri. Colorado holds a full game lead over Kansas in the big eight race, the winner of which won't necessarily go to the Orange Bowl.

Top-ranked Alabama is idle this weekend.

Basketball League Deadline Dec. 14

The San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce will provide trophies for first and second place finishers in each division.

Rodota also announced the department's youth basketball will begin play early in January with games to be played in San Rafael High School and Davidson School gyms Saturdays. Entry deadline for the league is also Dec. 14. That night at 7 o'clock a league meeting will be held at Albert Park.

MARIN COUNTY BOWLING HIGHLIGHTS

Tam Students Get Bowling Diplomas; Big Series At Nave Lanes, Greenbrae

Some 75 Tamalpais High School students have received their diplomas — in bowling that is.

The certificates of completion were presented the students by San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa after they attended a two-day "School of Bowling at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael.

The school was conducted by Ed Posusney, American Junior Bowling Congress regional supervisor and bowling instructor. He was assisted by his wife, Shirley, also a certified AJBC instructor, and Lois Polanchek, Tam High teacher responsible for organizing the Tam program.

BOB MILLER of Nave Lanes and Ken Carlton of Greenbrae Lanes threw out some hot series last week. Miller, bowling in the Marin Masters league, ripped off a sensational 654 with games of 202, 221, and 231. At Greenbrae Carlton was hot on Miller's trail with a 652 in the 910 Classic League. His games were 234, 174, and 244.

Also at the same bowling house, a 639-216-226-197 was rolled by R. J. Galli in the Two of Each Kind League, and in the 770 Limited Handicap Frank Marsden had a 245 single game.

Other high scores from around Marin:

NAVE LANES

Marin Masters—Bud Dodd, 575-223; Clay Anderson, 541-204; Dan Mullrath, 604-233-200; John Parsons, 586-210; Bud Stiveson, 619-205-223; Ja. Reinhardt, 559-214; Frank Wilson, 589-222; Floyd Thurman, 613-256; J. Doherty, 575-235; Joe Filippo, 550-224; Paul Gottlieb, 554.

MARIN COUNTY BOWLING HIGHLIGHTS

Tam Students Get Bowling Diplomas; Big Series At Nave Lanes, Greenbrae

Some 75 Tamalpais High School students have received their diplomas — in bowling that is.

The certificates of completion were presented the students by San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa after they attended a two-day "School of Bowling at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael.

The school was conducted by Ed Posusney, American Junior Bowling Congress regional supervisor and bowling instructor. He was assisted by his wife, Shirley, also a certified AJBC instructor, and Lois Polanchek, Tam High teacher responsible for organizing the Tam program.

BOB MILLER of Nave Lanes and Ken Carlton of Greenbrae Lanes threw out some hot series last week. Miller, bowling in the Marin Masters league, ripped off a sensational 654 with games of 202, 221, and 231. At Greenbrae Carlton was hot on Miller's trail with a 652 in the 910 Classic League. His games were 234, 174, and 244.

Also at the same bowling house, a 639-216-226-197 was rolled by R. J. Galli in the Two of Each Kind League, and in the 770 Limited Handicap Frank Marsden had a 245 single game.

Try Always To Use Mildest Punishment That Will Teach

Q. "Motherhood is an awful struggle. We have three children, 4, 5 and 7. They're no worse than other kids, but they drive me wild. I can't keep up with the work. I'm forever yelling at them and spanking them. Afterward I feel ashamed. My only consolation is that I'm no more irritable than the other mothers on our block. Will I ever be able to live like a human being again?"—Mrs. D.N.

A. You're living like a very human being right now. Things will be a bit more peaceful soon. Problems usually taper off while children are in elementary school. Then they get worse again during their early teens.

Set up clear rules and be consistent in enforcing them. Don't ever play favorites. Try always to use the mildest punishments that will teach the needed lessons. Bring your husband in on the job of guiding your children. Don't stint on love. As you say, motherhood is a struggle. But you'll find it the most rewarding struggle of your life. When your children leave home you'll long for the good old days. Wait and see.

Q. "Our twins are 18 months old. Last year they were too tiny to understand Christmas. Now they're asking us about Santa Claus. Should we tell them the truth? What did you tell your children, Dr. Barbour?"—R.S.

A. We told our children the truth. Then we found they felt cheated. Their friends all believed the Santa legend, but they didn't. One of our daughters announced firmly during her fourth Christmas season that from then on she was going to believe in Santa. She tried, but it didn't work. My conclusion is that it doesn't make much difference which way you present the Santa story. The children who believe in Santa are not too much upset when they learn the truth. They adjust quickly. I'm prejudiced in favor of giving honest answers to all the questions our children ask. But in this one case it doesn't seem too important.

Give Yourself One Minute Skin Freshener Treatment

Call it self-preservation, but every woman owes herself a fresh, restored - looking skin and a mirror to admire it in. Even with a crowded schedule and a juggled budget this debt can be disposed of for very little in the way of time and money.

Sixty seconds make a treatment — a minute-sized facial that deep cleanses, mosturizes and softens the skin in one efficient application. Simply "wash" your face with cream before you go to bed at night. Dip a washcloth into hot water, wring it out and press it against your face (6 seconds). Remove the cloth, apply a generous coat of cream (8 seconds). Massage it into your warm, moist skin with firm upward-upward motions of your palms and fingertips (34 seconds). Remove the cream with tissues (12 seconds).

To get a fairly exact measure of a second, count as you go—adding a thousand to each digit, like so: one - thousand, two-thousand, three-thousand, etc.

Work under an overhead light that will contribute toward a clean, unshadowed view of your face. Use a portable mirror that can be moved beneath the brightest bulb in your bedroom.

The new eyebrow pencil with a built-in sharpener eliminates the annoying task of sharpening your eyebrow pencil by hand.

It works just like a regular pencil sharpener and is an integral part of the cap. The cap is composed of two fit-together sections—the dark part is the sharpener, the white end is the receptacle for shavings. To sharpen the point, hold the cap steady and turn the pencil three or four times. Remove the cap and the pencil is ready for use. To clean out the shavings, just unscrew the white end and tap it.

The pencils come in black, brown, light brown and charcoal.

Modern Women Need Engineering Degree To Be Housewives

By CLAIRE COX

NEW YORK (UPI) — Modern woman needs not so much a home economics degree as a solid major in engineering to prepare for a career as a housewife.

Someone has been spreading the rumor that kitchens—even whole households — are automated, leaving women to spend their days at leisure.

While it is true that a glimpse at the monthly electricity bill might confirm such a belief, anyone who studied the array of mixers, blenders, slicers, openers, refrigerators, freezers, ranges and appliance center gadgets that surround today's housewife would come to the conclusion that it takes not only the culinary skill of an Escoffier but the mechanical aptitude of an aeronautical engineer to run a mechanical kitchen.

In other words, anyone who has ever wondered how a jet pilot can keep track of all those dials and gauges ought to drop into Mrs. America's kitchen sometime and watch her dashing from dail to dial and gadget to gadget.

At our house, for instance, every evening since our new electric range arrived, we have been crashing through the sound barrier at '425 degrees on the automatic rotisserie. The dash board on this flashing tourquoise giant looks like it was borrowed from a Boeing 707 jet. It provides for a wide range of cooking processes, including:

—Four burners that are not just burners. One is equipped with a thermostat so any pan can be converted to an automatic electric cooker or fryer. Another heats up so fast it rattles the pan resting upon it. The others are normal burners, but in two different sizes, to accommodate pans of various sizes.

—Two ovens, one large, one small, each equipped to broil or bake and each with its own dial on the control panel. The larger one is fitted also with a rotisserie and automatic controls that turn it off and on on schedule—if you figure out how to set the two dials correctly.

—The larger oven also is equipped with a meat thermometer. One end of the thermometer is inserted into the meat and the other is plugged into the side of the oven. Another dial is on the control panel, this one with two hands, is set to the kind of meat and the degree of doneness required. The automatic on and off dials then are set and the housewife goes out to worry all afternoon about whether she has set the right wheels in motion.

—There is a plug on the control panel to accommodate a small appliance. The appliance can be operated either the moment it is plugged in or, if the oven is not in use, be set for automatic starting and stopping.

—Still another dial is an automatic timer, which makes a rather rude noise when its time is up.

—And then, of course, there is the clock, without which one simply could not cook.

The range weighed in at nearly 400 pounds—uncrated. It takes a mighty shove to budge it even a quarter of an inch. The men who brought it arrived huffing and puffing, but they rolled out the antique fully-non-automatic range it replaced without straining a muscle.

The company that made the new stove reports that all manner of computers, super-sensitive test devices and mechanized production techniques were used to assemble this complicated and highly efficient "gadget."

Maybe when people talk about automated cookery they mean factories that turn out the appliances are automated. I've figured out how to boil water in a hurry and to roast a chicken to a turn.

If I don't get my kitchen mechanic's license in 100 hours, I'm going out to Idlewild Airport and enroll in a jet pilot's training school.

Backstairs At The White House— When First Lady 'Bought Land'

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Backstairs at the White House:

A cultured and wise matron of the horse and fox hunting country around Middleburg, Va., remarked to a friend the other day, "Fox hunting is like having a baby—they can't expect you to do anything else that day."

Such was her appraisel of Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy's recent fall while riding with the Piedmont Hunt not far from Glen Ora, the estate she and the President have rented since last winter.

Mrs. Kennedy loves to ride, but the hunt country folks who have known her, since long before her marriage to John F. Kennedy eight years ago, say she has been falling from horses ever since they first saw her. They do not blame this on lack of basic riding ability, but the fact that she does not hunt often enough to have the confidence and finely cultivated sense of balance to stay in the saddle at some difficult jumps.

What happened at the hunt last weekend was this: a photographer, Marshall Hawkins, was waiting at a jump to snap virtually anyone who came over. This is the way Hawkins makes his living. He was there with the knowledge of the Piedmont Hunt members. He has been making horse pictures for years. And for years, he has been startling horses occasionally as they take jumps. Uusually, however, the horse shies slightly, the rider is a bit disconcerted and the hunt continues.

STOPS SUDDENLY

Mrs. Kennedy's horse, however, refused to take the jump and stopped suddenly when he spied the photographer. The First Lady, however, cleared the jump handily, minus the horse. This, in hunt country parlance, is known as "Buying Land." Mrs. Kennedy "bought land" as she has on many other occasions, but now being wife of the President made this particular purchase out of the ordinary.

She was not injured beyond the jolt of a rather awkward landing on earth that was moderately soft. Any injury was to dignity and not body.

She fell almost at the start of the hunt, at about 11 a.m., but quickly remounted and continued the chase. At about 1:30 p.m., she joined members of the hunt and their guests at a traditional "breakfast." She remained at this affair for about an hour, chatting gaily and seemingly without a care in the world. Because falls are so commonplace in fox hunting, little was said at the breakfast about her mishap.

She went straight from riding to the breakfast without changing clothes, as did most of the other hunt members. There were several who had not fallen, but who were far muddier than the First Lady.

Some of the hunt country people who own estates close to the Kennedy place were utterly amazed when they heard and read news accounts saying the First Lady was hurt. As one longtime hunt country resident said, "When she used to hunt down here a lot more than she does now that her husband is President, she was forever falling off a horse—a lot of people do when they don't stay at this sport all the time. Jumping takes lots of practice."

A Middleburg lady said, "When you hunt, you can't have anything else on your mind." She reasoned that with having to think about where her husband was (at the time, he was in Phoenix, Ariz.), what to serve a visiting potentate for dinner and other details of being a First Lady, Mrs. Kennedy probably was and will continue to be a solid bet for an occasional fall.

OFFERED $3,500

The photographer was offered $3,500 by Life Magazine for his picture. A quick and admittedly superficial check of some Middleburg authorities on fox hunting brought this general reaction: "Good for him." The hunt country people know Hawkins and several other photographers who live in the area. These particular cameramen are accepted because they know the sport—and because the hunt members frequently purchase pictures from them at $3 a copy.

Thus the presence of a local photographer at one of the major hunts is ordinary, expected and accepted. This is something the presence of the Kennedy family at Middleburg is not likely to change. Members of the various hunts would be horrified, however, if their beloved fields were invaded by masses of regular news cameramen.

Buffet Planned To Form Junior Theater Unit

A buffet luncheon will be held at the home of Mrs. Howard L. Carlson in Northbridge on Nov. 30, to launch a North Marin unit of the Junior Theater of Marin.

Assisting hostesses will be Mesdames Vincent deNevers, Jack Wood, Stanley George, Robert Dinsmore, Frederick Mehrten and Yves Lamarche. Special guest will be Mrs. Wallace C. Painter, president of the county Junior Theater organization.

At this first unit meeting, officers will be elected and by-laws discussed. The purpose of such a group is to provide a four-to six-week summer workshop for children of elementary school age. The program will include creative art classes in theater leading to production and acting in plays.

Talk On Toys To Be Given At Nursery School Meeting

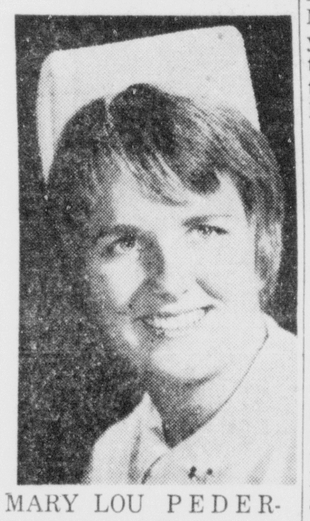
Are you wondering what to give all those children on your Christmas list—how to choose a satisfactory gift that neither frustrates nor bores the child?

The public is invited to an open meeting in the Mill Valley Cooperative Nursery School at Almonte Hall, Mill Valley, on Monday at 8 p.m. to hear Mrs. Elizabeth Whitney speak on toys.

Mrs. Whitney will stress the kind of toy that is most appropriate for each age group and suggest simple child-pleasers which are sometimes overlooked. Having many years of teaching in nursery, kindergarten and grade schools Mrs. Whitney will recommend toys that are sturdy as well as stimulate creative play.

The talk by Mrs. Whitney is one of a series on understanding children and their needs, says Mrs. Jerome Jacobson, who is in charge of evening programs. Refreshments will be served.

Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Paul Haugland, 27 Apollo Road, Belvedere-Tiburon.



MARY LOU PEDERSON, above, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pederson of Woodacre, was graduated on Nov. 17 from the Dental Nurses College of California in San Francisco.

Backstairs At The White House— When First Lady 'Bought Land'

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Backstairs at the White House:

A cultured and wise matron of the horse and fox hunting country around Middleburg, Va., remarked to a friend the other day, "Fox hunting is like having a baby—they can't expect you to do anything else that day."

Such was her appraisel of Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy's recent fall while riding with the Piedmont Hunt not far from Glen Ora, the estate she and the President have rented since last winter.

Mrs. Kennedy loves to ride, but the hunt country folks who have known her, since long before her marriage to John F. Kennedy eight years ago, say she has been falling from horses ever since they first saw her. They do not blame this on lack of basic riding ability, but the fact that she does not hunt often enough to have the confidence and finely cultivated sense of balance to stay in the saddle at some difficult jumps.

What happened at the hunt last weekend was this: a photographer, Marshall Hawkins, was waiting at a jump to snap virtually anyone who came over. This is the way Hawkins makes his living. He was there with the knowledge of the Piedmont Hunt members. He has been making horse pictures for years. And for years, he has been startling horses occasionally as they take jumps. Uusually, however, the horse shies slightly, the rider is a bit disconcerted and the hunt continues.

STOPS SUDDENLY

Mrs. Kennedy's horse, however, refused to take the jump and stopped suddenly when he spied the photographer. The First Lady, however, cleared the jump handily, minus the horse. This, in hunt country parlance, is known as "Buying Land." Mrs. Kennedy "bought land" as she has on many other occasions, but now being wife of the President made this particular purchase out of the ordinary.

She was not injured beyond the jolt of a rather awkward landing on earth that was moderately soft. Any injury was to dignity and not body.

She fell almost at the start of the hunt, at about 11 a.m., but quickly remounted and continued the chase. At about 1:30 p.m., she joined members of the hunt and their guests at a traditional "breakfast." She remained at this affair for about an hour, chatting gaily and seemingly without a care in the world. Because falls are so commonplace in fox hunting, little was said at the breakfast about her mishap.

She went straight from riding to the breakfast without changing clothes, as did most of the other hunt members. There were several who had not fallen, but who were far muddier than the First Lady.

Some of the hunt country people who own estates close to the Kennedy place were utterly amazed when they heard and read news accounts saying the First Lady was hurt. As one longtime hunt country resident said, "When she used to hunt down here a lot more than she does now that her husband is President, she was forever falling off a horse—a lot of people do when they don't stay at this sport all the time. Jumping takes lots of practice."

A Middleburg lady said, "When you hunt, you can't have anything else on your mind." She reasoned that with having to think about where her husband was (at the time, he was in Phoenix, Ariz.), what to serve a visiting potentate for dinner and other details of being a First Lady, Mrs. Kennedy probably was and will continue to be a solid bet for an occasional fall.

OFFERED $3,500

The photographer was offered $3,500 by Life Magazine for his picture. A quick and admittedly superficial check of some Middleburg authorities on fox hunting brought this general reaction: "Good for him." The hunt country people know Hawkins and several other photographers who live in the area. These particular cameramen are accepted because they know the sport—and because the hunt members frequently purchase pictures from them at $3 a copy.

Thus the presence of a local photographer at one of the major hunts is ordinary, expected and accepted. This is something the presence of the Kennedy family at Middleburg is not likely to change. Members of the various hunts would be horrified, however, if their beloved fields were invaded by masses of regular news cameramen.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

There Are Two Main Ways To Play Any Suit In Hand

There are two main ways to play any suit. You can furrow your brow until you work out the right play; or you can go at it slapdash, with a convincing excuse in reserve if your attempt fails.

South dealer

South	West	North	East
1 NT	Pass	3 NT	All Pass

Opening lead — ♡ 2

Put yourself in the South seat and imagine that you can't see the East-West cards. All you know is that West's opening lead is from a four-card suit. You have my word for that, so don't worry about a smart-alecky lead from a five-card suit.

You need two diamond tricks to make your contract. Distribute the five missing diamonds whichever way you like: there is still a right way to play the suit.

Work it out for yourself before you read on.

HOW TO START: Start the diamonds by cashing the ace. Then lead a low diamond from dummy.

This will work even if the suit breaks 5-0. If West has all the diamonds, your ten will force out the queen. Later you will lead from the South hand toward dummy's jack.

If East has all the diamonds, he must put up the queen to prevent you from winning a second trick at once. Then you can easily develop a second trick for the ten or jack.

Much the same is true if the diamonds break 4-0. In this case, however, the play of the ace wins immediately if you drop the singleton king or queen.

Any play at all will win if the diamonds break 3-2.

Did you work it out correctly? Or did you invent a brand new excuse for making the wrong play? Both types of activity enrich the game. The correct play may win more points, but the imaginative excuse wins more admiration.

DAILY QUESTION: Dealer, at your right, bids one diamond. You hold:

♠ K 8 5
♥ A K 6
♦ 10 5 3 2
♣ A K J

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one notrump. This shows the same value as the opening bid of one notrump. You are supposed to have a sure stopper in the opponent's suit as well, but the notrump overcall will probably cause less difficulty for you than any other action.

Pair Guilty In Forged Bonds Trial

James C. Danielson Jr., 31, of Stinson Beach, and Joe Waugh Jr., 38, of San Francisco, have been found guilty by a jury in U. S. District Court in San Francisco of conspiring to forge and pass $19,300 in stolen government bonds.

The bonds were stolen May 19 from Raymond Ye's drug store by his nephew, Arthur J. Yee, 45, of Sacramento, who had pleaded guilty to forging his uncle's securities on the securities.

Waugh, owner of a printing firm, and Danielson pleaded innocent of conspiring with Arthur J. Yee to sell the bonds. A jury found them guilty after an 11-day trial and five hours of deliberation.

Judge Oliver J. Carter set Dec. 8 for sentencing. The two face possible penalties of five years in prison and $10,000 fines.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

There Are Two Main Ways To Play Any Suit In Hand

There are two main ways to play any suit. You can furrow your brow until you work out the right play; or you can go at it slapdash, with a convincing excuse in reserve if your attempt fails.

South	West	North	East
1 NT	Pass	3 NT	All Pass

Opening lead — ♡ 2

Put yourself in the South seat and imagine that you can't see the East-West cards. All you know is that West's opening lead is from a four-card suit. You have my word for that, so don't worry about a smart-alecky lead from a five-card suit.

You need two diamond tricks to make your contract. Distribute the five missing diamonds whichever way you like: there is still a right way to play the suit.

Work it out for yourself before you read on.

HOW TO START: Start the diamonds by cashing the ace. Then lead a low diamond from dummy.

This will work even if the suit breaks 5-0. If West has all the diamonds, your ten will force out the queen. Later you will lead from the South hand toward dummy's jack.

If East has all the diamonds, he must put up the queen to prevent you from winning a second trick at once. Then you can easily develop a second trick for the ten or jack.

Much the same is true if the diamonds break 4-0. In this case, however, the play of the ace wins immediately if you drop the singleton king or queen.

Any play at all will win if the diamonds break 3-2.

Did you work it out correctly? Or did you invent a brand new excuse for making the wrong play? Both types of activity enrich the game. The correct play may win more points, but the imaginative excuse wins more admiration.

DAILY QUESTION: Dealer, at your right, bids one diamond. You hold:

♠ K 8 5
♥ A K 6
♦ 10 5 3 2
♣ A K J

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one notrump. This shows the same value as the opening bid of one notrump. You are supposed to have a sure stopper in the opponent's suit as well, but the notrump overcall will probably cause less difficulty for you than any other action.

Pair Guilty In Forged Bonds Trial

James C. Danielson Jr., 31, of Stinson Beach, and Joe Waugh Jr., 38, of San Francisco, have been found guilty by a jury in U. S. District Court in San Francisco of conspiring to forge and pass $19,300 in stolen government bonds.

The bonds were stolen May 19 from Raymond Ye's drug store by his nephew, Arthur J. Yee, 45, of Sacramento, who had pleaded guilty to forging his uncle's securities on the securities.

Waugh, owner of a printing firm, and Danielson pleaded innocent of conspiring with Arthur J. Yee to sell the bonds. A jury found them guilty after an 11-day trial and five hours of deliberation.

Judge Oliver J. Carter set Dec. 8 for sentencing. The two face possible penalties of five years in prison and $10,000 fines.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Marinite On Debate Team

David M. Wilson of San Rafael is a member of a Philodemic Debating Society team at Georgetown University, Washington, D.C., that won the trophy as the best team at the recent South Carolina Debate Tournament in Columbia.

Wilson's team won eight of 10 debates.

He is a son of Alfred S. Wilson of 56 Laura Lane, Fairfax, and a 1959 graduate of Marin Catholic High School.

Theater Group Putting On First Show

Giraffe, a new Sausalito theater group producing experimental theater, will present its first show at 8:30 p.m. Sunday at the Gate Playhouse, entitled "61st Year to Heaven."

It is an original one-act play written by San Francisco poet Ruth Weiss and directed by Diane Varsi Hausman of Sausalito. Reservations may be made at the theater.

The evening will also include a musical piece, "Drama for Soprano, Cello and Piano," with an original score by Tita Terrell of New York and a text by Mrs. Hausman.

Initial performance of the show at the Gate will be followed by two presentations in San Francisco on Dec. 9 and 10 at the Lighthouse for the Blind, 745 Buchanan Street.

NROTC Planned At Marin College

The Navy Department informed Dr. Stephen E. Epler, president of College of Marin, that a Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps program for male junior college graduates who plan to work for a bachelor's degree will be started this year.

Under the plan, a College of Marin graduate may attend a special nine-week summer course conducted at the University of California at Berkeley to qualify for the NROTC program at the junior year level. A Navy representative will visit the Marin campus before Dec. 15 to explain the program.

Novato Council Meets (Sort of) At Clubhouse

When the Novato City Council meets next Tuesday, it will convene in the temporary city hall at 826 Grant Avenue, then adjourn to its new quarters in the former Novato Community Clubhouse at 906 Machin Street for the remainder of its meeting.

The council last week introduced an ordinance changing its meeting place. The ordinance will not become effective, however, until 30 days after final passage. Meanwhile, the council will convene on Grant Avenue, then move to the new quarters.

Well, Anyhow, She Can Act

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — MGM taught Eva Marie Saint the wrong skill for her role as a mechanical whiz in "All Fall Down." She was required to learn to repair an auto distributor.

But when her sports car had mechanical trouble recently her attempts to repair it were fruitless. Turned out the carburetor was in bad shape, not the distributor.

Article On Fish

An illustrated article on "An Ancient Method of Fish Mounting" by biology teacher Gordon Chan of Sir Francis Drake High School appears in the current issue of the American Biology Teacher. The same material was published Sept. 16 in the Marin Magazine section of the Independent-Journal.

SLATED FOR DESTRUCTION—This deserted ark, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Clark, who live in another ark two doors away, is one of those to be torn down for filling of the Larkspur marshland property — which may be the prelude to the end of a way of life for ark dwellers on Boardwalk 2.

DAYS NUMBERED?

Two Boardwalk Arks Will Be Torn Down

Story and Photos

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Two of the old arks on the Larkspur Boardwalk will soon be torn down, possibly previewing the fate of many more of the familiar homes built on pilings along Corte Madera Creek.

Scheduled to go are two deserted arks on a section of Boardwalk 2, behind the future Larkspur Plaza. They will be pushed back by huge tractors and then torn up, clearing the way for apartment houses.

One of them is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Clark, who live in the ark two doors away. They have been living there for 15 years. Clark, a San Francisco printer, and the other four owners of property along a stretch of Boardwalk 2 have contracted for fill to be dumped on their marshlands property, with visions of apartment houses taking the place of the arks in the not-too-distant future.

Twelve acres of marshland in front of the present arks has been filled, on which a super market, a shopping center and apartment houses will be built. Contractor for the Larkspur Plaza is Reedland Heights Inc.

Other owners of half-acre lots along this portion of the creek are Joseph A. Warner, a warehouseman for a Richmond Vegetable Oil Co.; Dr. C. V. Lyons, a San Francisco optometrist; Morris Powers, assistant scout executive for the San Francisco Council of Boy Scouts, and Mrs. Lena E. Kelk, a widow.

All shared the cost of having fill placed on the marshlands right up to their arks for future development, but what and when cannot be answered by the ark dwellers.

Decades ago, the property on which the arks now sit was part of Rancho Corte Madera, an old Spanish land grant.

In 1931, the property was bought by an association known as Ark Associates, of which Mrs. Kelk's late husband was a member. Mrs. Kelk lives in San Francisco and comes to the Boardwalk on weekends to care for her ark and garden.

Mrs. Kelk's ark is the last of the group on the portion of the Boardwalk which is being filled. The property line runs through her ark, separating her property from that of Adolph A. Tiscornia, San Francisco attorney who owns considerable land in Larkspur.

"No, I don't have any immediate plans for building on my property," says Mrs. Kelk. "But once it is filled it can be built upon."

Clark said he had hopes of building an apartment house on his two pieces of property. "After all, seven acres out there will be apartments," he said, pointing toward the Larkspur Plaza acreage. "I'll keep living in the ark until I decide to build the apartment house, maybe next year."

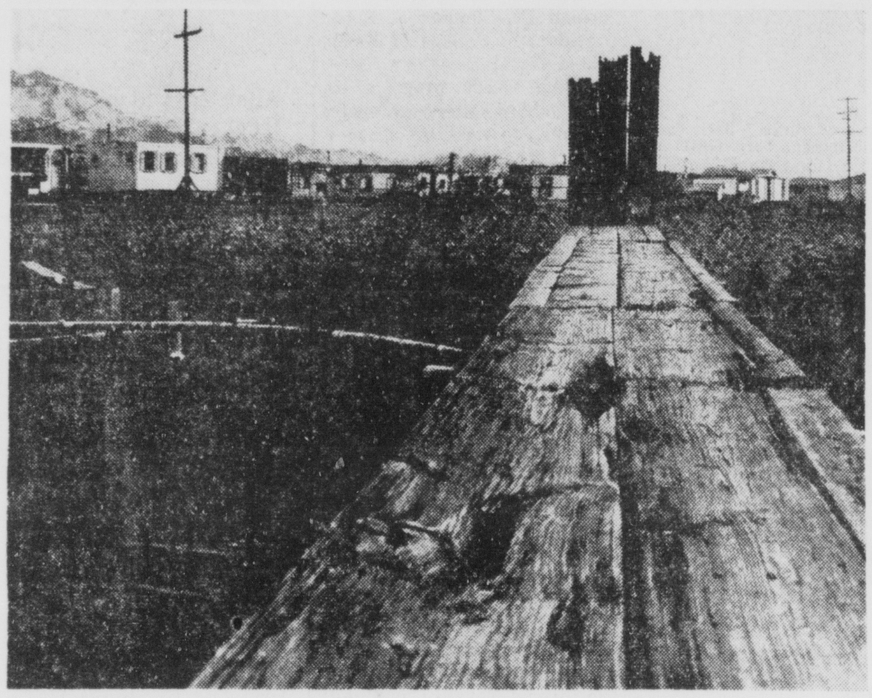
Warner moved into his ark with his parents when he was a young man in 1927. He has lived there since, now with his David, 7, and Mark, 5.

"This may be a new era for the arks," said Warner. "I may build on my property next year."

Dr. Lyons and his wife, Emily, plan to "live here as long as we can," he said. "We are going through with the fill but we are undecided what or when to build on the property." He has lived in the ark since 1941.

The half-acre piece owned by Powers holds an ark which has been deserted for the past 10 years. Powers lives in San Mateo. Although he said he has no immediate plan for building, he has contracted to have the ark removed and the land filled.

The arks' days appear to be numbered.



DEAD-END FOR A WAY OF LIFE?—Larkspur Boardwalk No. 2 dead-ends here on the marshlands. Fill now reaches to the end of the boardwalk as the ground is prepared for Larkspur Plaza, a shopping center and apartment complex. Ark owners have arranged to have their land filled also, envisioning future apartment houses.

Harry Lee, father of Robert E. Lee, was the man who described George Washington as "first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen."

Christmas Decorations To Be Judged

Christmas decorations on yachts and store fronts will be judged by the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce this year in a decoration contest agreed upon by chamber directors.

Contest details will be mailed in a letter to merchants next week, executive secretary Victor E. Hecht said.

Prize for the best merchant display will be a trip for two persons to Las Vegas for three days and two nights. Prizes for best decorated yacht in the harbor will be a three-day, two-night trip to Olympic Village at Squaw Valley for two persons.

Also planned, Hecht said, is a contest for school children to "carry out the Christmas spirit in schools." Details on this are to be worked out with the schools by chamber member Edward Keen.

Oratorio Choir Will Perform At Baptist Seminary

Excerpts from "The Messiah" will be presented by the Oratorio Choir of the Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary at 8 p.m. Dec. 5 in Broadus Hall on campus, under direction of Dr. Carlyle D. Bennett.

Soloists will include Jerry Casey, soprano; Barbara Speaks, contralto; Milton Martin, tenor, and Gordon Green, bass. Mrs. George Suffern will be organist, and Mrs. Duane Barrett, pianist.

Dr. W. A. Carleton, dean and vice president of the seminary, will read a special scripture. The benediction will be by Dr. J. Winston Pearce, professor of preaching.

The Oratorio Choir will also present excerpts from "The Messiah" Nov. 30 with the San Jose Assn. Choir in San Jose's Civic Auditorium at 8 p.m.

$300 Ring Is Stolen From San Rafael Home

Mrs. Aaron said the ring contained 12 stones of diamonds and amethysts. She told Deputy Sheriff John Harris the ring disappeared several weeks ago after she had left it on top of her dresser at her home at 325 San Pedro Road, just outside the San Rafael City limits.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

Credit Enough For All As United Crusade Tops Goal

The people of Marin County and the workers in the Marin United Crusade can well take a bow for being the first county in the five Bay Area counties to go over the top in the 1961 campaign. We hope that all other counties go over too, something that hasn't happened in the crusade's history.

But while we're patting ourselves on the back, it might be well to take a look at some of the things that happened to make the reaching of the goal even more spectacular.

First, the campaign chairman, Byron W. Leydecker, was transferred away by his bank just as the campaign got under way.

Douglas Horton stepped into Leydecker's shoes to carry on, but only until his firm transferred him to San Jose for three months.

Finally Carroll Walker took the reins for the final spurt toward the goal.

But just about then, Aubry Burns, longtime executive director of the United Fund in Marin, was hospitalized and counted out of the entire last part of the drive.

So with their third boss in charge and their full time director on the sidelines, the staff, the leaders and the workers all rolled up their sleeves and did a job.

We're sure that Carroll Walker would be the first to give credit to the staff and workers for the job they've done. Likewise, we're sure the staff and workers are loud in their praise of the leadership that Walker gave in a time of confusion and organizational upset.

Happily, there's more than enough credit for all. The victory of going over the top is large enough to include the chairman, the Crusade leaders, workers, staff and the contributing public of Marin, who, in the final sense, are the ones who put the total over the 100 per cent mark.

Life With A Calypso

Lovely, really beautiful things—perfect for decoration around Thanksgiving.

However, when we think of gourds, we are always reminded of a West Indian calypso, sung by the other islanders to make fun of the poor people of St. Lucia, whose daily lives are dependent upon the calabash gourd.

We forget the exact words, but it went something like this—"They eats from a calabash, they drinks from a calabash, they washes in a calabash, and when they gets up in the night . . . in a calabash." Calypso lyrics are inclined to be on the colorful side.

Whenever we see a bunch of gourds, we have to smile and think of St. Lucia's all purpose calabash.

The names of the gourds, such as dipper, dishcloth and sugar trough, are also expressive and interesting.

Bouquets And Brickbats

A BOUQUET to Charles H. Bellin of Sleepy Hollow who just celebrated his 100th birthday anniversary, and for his advice on advice: "Keep all advice to yourself."

A BRICKBAT for Northwestern Pacific for leaving Marin County no option but a court effort to collect costs of repairing Ranchitos Road, damaged by the railroad tunnel cave-in.

A BOUQUET to the weatherman for that clean looking, fresh smelling, badly needed rain. We'll take some more, but how about making the storms convenient, like only at night?

TWO BOUQUETS to Sheriff Mountanos and Harvey Teague, head of the sheriff's new juvenile bureau, for cutting the number of youngsters sent to juvenile hall through the sheriff's office from 144 between February and September of last year to 42 for that period this year.

A BIG BOUQUET to William G. McBride, Corte Madera building inspector, whose work beyond the call of duty has resulted in refunds of money to at least four bilked Corte Madera residents enmeshed in Holland Furnace Company's machinations.

THINK THINGS THROUGH

Recent school examinations in France produced a few results that were anything but pearls of wisdom.

Here are some samples:

"The highest form of animal life is the giraffe."

"To prevent forest fires, trees should be planted in the shade."

"Hedgehogs and swallows are the animals who help gardeners eat the insects."

"The moon is believed to be inhabited because of the light that comes from there."

"Living things found in polar places include lichen moss, penguins and explorers."

Scrambled thinking may be a bit amusing when it comes from adolescents. But it is no laughing matter if young people are allowed continually to shirk their responsibility to think clearly and logically.

God endows each of us with an intelligence. He expects us to develop it and put it to good use, not to abuse it by neglect or faulty thinking.

"Blessed is the man that finds wisdom and is rich in prudence."

(Proverbs 3:13)

Thanks, O Lord, for the blessings of intelligence. Let me show You that I appreciate it.

HOW OFTEN SOLONS VOTED

Kuchel, Engle, Miller Vote Above Average

By Congressional Quarterly

WASHINGTON—These are the scores our Congressmen got in 1961 on Voting Participation—the nearest thing to an attendance record in Congress:

Sen. Thomas Kuchel (R) voted "yea" or "nay" on 97 per cent of the 204 roll-call votes taken in the Senate in 1961, tying for the third highest Senate voting record.

Sen. Clair Engle (D) scored 92 per cent.

Rep. Clem Miller (D) voted "yea" or "nay" on 91 per cent of the 116 roll-call votes cast in the House in 1961.

Of the three, only Kuchel improved his voting participation as compared with the 86th Congress. In that session Kuchel had a 95 per cent voting record, while Engle had the same 95 per cent and Miller had 94 per cent.

According to the Congressional Quarterly study, the average member of Congress voted "yea" or "nay" on 88 per cent of the 1961 roll calls.

In the Senate, the average Democrat scored 88 per cent and the average Republican 86 per cent in 1961.

In the House, the average Democrat's participation score was 88 per cent and the average Republican's 89 per cent.

Congressional Quarterly keeps another score on members' disclosure of where they stand on roll call votes. If he does not vote, CQ records his stands, pairs or answers to a CQ "poll" — sent to every member whose stand is unknown on a roll-call vote—to develop an "On the Record" score. CQ received 2,345 replies to its roll-call polls in 1961.

Since 1954, when CQ first started measuring "On the Record" percentages, the average member's score has risen from 89 per cent to 97 per cent this year.

Senator Kuchel's On the Record score this year was 99 per cent.

Senator Engle's was 100 per cent.

Representative Miller's was 100 per cent.

Clue To How Kennedy Sees California Election

By CHAPIN A. DAY

'CHIP' DAY

First solid indication of just how far the Kennedy administration will enter the California election next year should come as soon as Mrs. Elizabeth R. "Libby" Smith, treasurer of the United States, returns to Washington. Libby has been quite specific that she'd like to resign as treasurer and that she intends to, unless President Kennedy himself says he wants her to stay on the job.

She accepted the post in the first place only after a personal appeal from the President. Now if Kennedy is willing to give her up, it will be a strong indication he will go all out to eliminate Richard M. Nixon from the political scene. Because that's the real issue. Does the President want to beat Nixon bad enough to give up one of his most effective aides?

Just because she's from Marin County is not the reason we say Kennedy will have to look a long, long way before he can get anyone who can come even close to Libby. He knows it, too.

WHILE WE'RE talking about the treasurer:

She hasn't completely given up the idea of having the different denominations of paper money different colors. Even though her attempt to introduce the system this year failed, she hopes to talk with Treasury Secretary C. Douglas Dillon in detail about it.

Then, if all else fails, there are several solons, including California Sen. Clair Engle, who are interested in introducing legislation which would bring about more colorful cash. Mrs. Smith would be happy to turn over to any such a legislator the facts and information she has gathered showing importance and feasibility of multi-colored currency.

ANOTHER MARIN WOMAN, Mrs. Vivian Hallinan, wife of Vincent Hallinan, who ran for President as the IPP candidate in 1952, is considering running for U. S. Senator.

"Busy with moving" from Ross to Belvedere right now, Mrs. Hallinan will make up her mind before the end of the year whether to seek the Democratic nomination against Republican Senator Thomas Kuchel.

"It's not settled yet what I'll do, but many people have urged me to run," she says. "I would run on a peace and disarmament program. People are sick of living on the razor's edge. If the Democrats come up with a candidate who will really be for peace and disarmament and do away with all this shelter business, I'll not run. If they don't, I may."

Mrs. Hallinan, who checked with a doctor this week, says she thinks "my physical condition now can take a statewide campaign."

THE TRIP of Republican leaders David Winslow and Gerald Misner to Eureka this week to "put some life" into the Republican First Congressional District Committee, didn't come off. Not enough of the northern county leaders had enough life to make the meeting. It's been reset Dec. 11 or 12.

STATE ATTORNEY GENERAL Stanley Mosk speaks Tuesday night at Sabella's to an organizational meeting of a new Mill Valley Democratic Club. Hadden Roth of Mill Valley will act as chairman for the meeting and Judge Richard M. Sims of Tiburon will introduce Mosk.

Among the organizational committee are Nancy Westberg, who headed the Mill Valley Dollars For Democrats; Mrs. Nancy Swadesh, a member of the State Central Committee; H. Leland Shain, president of Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce, and Mrs. Preble Stolz of Mill Valley.

One problem the attorney general is running into: the existing Mill Valley Democratic Club isn't happy about the new organization.

THE SAME NIGHT a few miles north on Highway 101, the consul general of the Republic of China will be speaking before the Marin Freedom Foundation in Corte Madera Recreation Center.

Patrick Sun will speak in connection with the showing of the film, "Red China—Outlaw." William Henderson of Larkspur, president of the forum, will preside and introduce the speaker.

TWO MARINITES have been named to the new Advisory Commission on Housing Problems created by the legislature this year.

Governor Brown appointed Albin J. Gruhn of San Anselmo, president of the California Labor Federation, AFL-CIO. He was chairman of the state's Commission of Housing from 1959 to '61, having served on the commission since 1956.

The other is Sen. John F. McCarthy of San Rafael, appointed by the Senate to serve as one of two senators on the 15-man body.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Pull Together For Peace

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Your excellent article of last Friday on the shelter controversy is outstanding, and you are so right. There is no need for all the hysteria, fear, and begging for peace at any cost. The main thing is to know what communism really is and face it.

It is far more important to win the cold war than building problematic shelters. When a doctor wants to cure a patient, he needs to know the illness he needs to cure.

Once we all learn what the Reds are, how they work and manipulate their propaganda, we will not need to fear them, because the Russian population does not want war any more than we do. In order not to fall into the traps, we must know what and where they are.

It is easy enough to secure much information from the Government Printing Office, Division of Public Documents, Washington 28, D. C. Anyone asking for it will receive a list on communism matters, and be able to select any pamphlet ranging from 5 cents to $1.25. They are most informative and official.

Of course, there are a great many books available at any book store, where one can find answers to anything he wants to know.

Our teen-agers are eager to find out for themselves what the Communists are and, after all, they are the ones most threatened. Let the boys in the armed forces know their enemy also, so that, God forbid they ever should need to, they may stand any questioning in case they are made prisoners.

Then let us organize ourselves solidly, all together, without calling one another names, and stop being afraid and confused. If we ask for peace, let it be on our own terms. Already, by showing a strong standing at Berlin, Khrushchev is backing out. If we are not careful, the way we are heading is towards some kind of revolt and splitting among ourselves, and that is exactly what the Reds expect and want.

Let us unite, stop strikes and anything harming our industries and commerce. Let us get in touch with our representatives and demand that some spending of our taxes be made for what we want. But let us do it nicely with tact and be sure that we know what we are asking and why.

Reaching the moon, for example, is not half as important as feeding our own hungry and clothing our own poor. If we will forget our pride in reaching that planet and let the Reds get to it, let us hope they all get and stay there. Had everyone read Mein Kampf of Hitler and believed it, the last war never would have happened.

Gas Meter Lost For Five Years Gives Tam District $2,872 Bill

During these cold nights our gas bills can get pretty expensive but I challenge anyone to match the last bill received by the Tamalpais Union High School District — $2,872.55 for just one high school.

Well, you see, the bill was not for last month. It was for gas used since Dec. 11, 1956. The reason it was so large was that the meter was not found until March 9, 1961.

HERE'S HOW it happened: In December of 1956, the fine arts building at Drake High School in San Anselmo was constructed. Workers from Pacific Gas and Electric Co. came out and installed the gas facilities, but did not turn on the gas, for construction was not yet completed.

When construction was finished, the meter was not left in the open and someone else, not the P. G. and E., turned it on, so the downtown office did not have any record of the meter operating.

THE FIRST TIME that anybody at the Tam district office knew about the huge bill was on Nov. 15 when Frank A. Cassou, director of business for the Tam district, received a letter from C. J. Pec of the San Rafael PG&E office. Let us quote from the letter:

"Billing was not to commence until final inspection had been completed and until we were requested to turn on the gas meter.

"Apparently the plumber or contractor turned on the gas meter to start the appliances in operation without our knowledge. On March 9, 1961, our meter reader first discovered that this meter was operating and regular billing was initiated . . ."

REVIEW: The meter man followed a pipe to a little enclosed area and found the lost meter on March 9, 1961. The Tam district office was notified more than nine months later.

Why wasn't the meter found until after almost five years?

E. H. Alwes, PG&E office supervisor, said it is not uncommon for contractors to hook up the gas lines and turn on the meters themselves. The contractors then can notify the user, in this case the school district, who in turn can notify PG&E that the meter is running, said Alwes.

The bills looked all right, for all the other meters at Drake High School were being checked each month and the district was receiving the gas bill.

THE TAM district trustees, when they heard the letter read at the meeting Monday, had the right idea. They referred the matter to the county counsel for advice on statute of limitation.

That's a lotta gas. It comes to 48,620 cubic feet, which adds up to a lotta money.

PG&E are being considerate about the $2,872.55 bill. They have agreed to allow the district to make monthly installments on the payments.

Now isn't that nice of them.

10 YEARS AGO

A multi-million dollar bond issue for financing of a major Marin County highway construction program was discussed by county supervisors for possible submission to the electorate next June.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

What about the incomprehensible gibberish often handed out by government bigwigs and business tycoons? Is it unintentional or deliberate? Critic Granville Hicks thinks it usually is deliberate.

"Evasion of clarity," writes Hicks, "is a trait of bureaucrats, whether they are in government, business, or the professions. Evasion of clarity is tantamount to the evasion of responsibility, and responsibility is what the average bureaucrat wants as little as possible of. Evasion becomes a habit, and obscuring, imprecise words often seem to issue automatically from the lips of most bureaucrats, even when clarity could do no harm!"

In Hollywood, notes Mike Connolly, a studio head summoned his assistant, embraced him warmly, and told him, "Mac, old boy, this new project of ours calls for ingenuity, imagination, clear thinking, and hard work. That's why I called you in on it: I want you to resign."

Reaching the moon, for example, is not half as important as feeding our own hungry and clothing our own poor. If we will forget our pride in reaching that planet and let the Reds get to it, let us hope they all get and stay there. Had everyone read Mein Kampf of Hitler and believed it, the last war never would have happened.

Gas Meter Lost For Five Years Gives Tam District $2,872 Bill

During these cold nights our gas bills can get pretty expensive but I challenge anyone to match the last bill received by the Tamalpais Union High School District — $2,872.55 for just one high school.

Well, you see, the bill was not for last month. It was for gas used since Dec. 11, 1956. The reason it was so large was that the meter was not found until March 9, 1961.

HERE'S HOW it happened: In December of 1956, the fine arts building at Drake High School in San Anselmo was constructed. Workers from Pacific Gas and Electric Co. came out and installed the gas facilities, but did not turn on the gas, for construction was not yet completed.

When construction was finished, the meter was not left in the open and someone else, not the P. G. and E., turned it on, so the downtown office did not have any record of the meter operating.

THE FIRST TIME that anybody at the Tam district office knew about the huge bill was on Nov. 15 when Frank A. Cassou, director of business for the Tam district, received a letter from C. J. Pec of the San Rafael PG&E office. Let us quote from the letter:

"Billing was not to commence until final inspection had been completed and until we were requested to turn on the gas meter.

"Apparently the plumber or contractor turned on the gas meter to start the appliances in operation without our knowledge. On March 9, 1961, our meter reader first discovered that this meter was operating and regular billing was initiated . . ."

REVIEW: The meter man followed a pipe to a little enclosed area and found the lost meter on March 9, 1961. The Tam district office was notified more than nine months later.

Why wasn't the meter found until after almost five years?

E. H. Alwes, PG&E office supervisor, said it is not uncommon for contractors to hook up the gas lines and turn on the meters themselves. The contractors then can notify the user, in this case the school district, who in turn can notify PG&E that the meter is running, said Alwes.

The bills looked all right, for all the other meters at Drake High School were being checked each month and the district was receiving the gas bill.

THE TAM district trustees, when they heard the letter read at the meeting Monday, had the right idea. They referred the matter to the county counsel for advice on statute of limitation.

That's a lotta gas. It comes to 48,620 cubic feet, which adds up to a lotta money.

PG&E are being considerate about the $2,872.55 bill. They have agreed to allow the district to make monthly installments on the payments.

Now isn't that nice of them.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

What about the incomprehensible gibberish often handed out by government bigwigs and business tycoons? Is it unintentional or deliberate? Critic Granville Hicks thinks it usually is deliberate.

"Evasion of clarity," writes Hicks, "is a trait of bureaucrats, whether they are in government, business, or the professions. Evasion of clarity is tantamount to the evasion of responsibility, and responsibility is what the average bureaucrat wants as little as possible of. Evasion becomes a habit, and obscuring, imprecise words often seem to issue automatically from the lips of most bureaucrats, even when clarity could do no harm!"

In Hollywood, notes Mike Connolly, a studio head summoned his assistant, embraced him warmly, and told him, "Mac, old boy, this new project of ours calls for ingenuity, imagination, clear thinking, and hard work. That's why I called you in on it: I want you to resign."

For Girls, Nothing Beats Pearls

Pearls have always been a very special gift not only for their simple, elegant beauty but because a pearl necklace is always in good taste.

This season the traditional pearl necklaces assume high fashion importance because of their new designs and the important place pearls hold in the current fashion picture.

There are new multi-strand necklaces that feature a beautiful clasp in all the "true jewel" tones of jade, sapphire, emerald, ruby and topaz. The clasps, lovely enough to be pins in themselves, are worn to the side and matched to earrings to provide one of the most pleasing gifts of the season.

Seed pearl necklaces have become increasingly popular strung in multiple strands to twist and drape to the mood of fashion's eased bodices and dropped waistlines.

For the smartest look of all, a single strand of pearls combines with two strands of jade or lapis. The jade or lapis adds a lovely note of contrast to the pearls and provides dramatic color accent to fashions.

Shopping Tip On Granddad

When selecting Christmas gifts for granddad, you will do well to remember that his tastes may be younger than his years would indicate.

Today's younger and "younger-thinking" grandpas as apt to be more interested in a golf jacket for wear to the links than a lap robe to use in the rocker near the fireside. He may even be apt to sneer at his sons and grandsons for the pretentious conservatism they show in their choice of colors.

Sports jackets and slacks, well-styled business and sports shirts, colorful accessories, good quality ties, TV or smoking jackets, handsome robes, colorful belts, or one of the new country coats that provide warmth without weight, are some good gift suggestions for the elder statesman of the family.

Of course, with gramps, as with the other males on your list, try to determine his tastes and preferences first.

Robes, slippers, lounging pajamas and gloves are additional possibilities or he may be able to use a sweater vest or cardigan to wear under his sports jacket. Or would he like a gift certificate for a smart hat, handsome shoes or a warmly lined raincoat?

In any event, don't underestimate granddad's interest in new and good fashion. He probably still has some very young ideas!

Bikes Still Delight All Youngsters

Bicycles are expected to retain their position as a favorite Christmas gift for both young and old. Youngsters are delighted to receive bikes at Christmas, for their fun value. Young adults enjoy the low-cost transportation afforded while adult men and women use the bike for fun and fitness.

More bikes are given at Christmas than at any other time, surveys have shown, mostly by grandparents who present the youngster of the family with his first two-wheeler.

Of the 27 million bikes in use in America, some five million are used by persons above the age of 21.

Bikes are being used for dating, in revenue-producing activities such as newspaper and package delivery, and for campus transportation when classes are scheduled in widely separated buildings.

At high schools, too, bike use is soaring and many graduates-to-be will be placing an order with Santa for a new bike, in the colors of their future alma mater.

At the other end of the scale, children are riding two-wheelers at a more tender age than ever before because of the fine safety record rolled up by cyclists. Partially responsible are the safety programs sponsored each year in hundreds of communities in conjunction with the Bicycle Institute of America.

If your favorite person already owns a two-wheeler, there are a variety of handsome accessories to please the bike owner at Christmas.

Holiday Cards Available In Many Languages

Foreign-language greeting cards, once available only on a limited basis, now are available for a number of foreign countries.

For example, if you wish, you can send holiday greeting cards in respective languages to such countries as Norway, France, Germany, Italy, Spain, Lithuania, Sweden, Hungary, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

The cards are available in many colorful designs ranging from religious motifs to Christmas such as holly leaves and candles, Church scenes, angels, bells and Christmas decorations — all familiar scenes on American cards— are prominently featured on these foreign counterparts.

Whether the message on the card says "Smagui Kaledu," "En God Jul," or "Buon Natale," it is a universal wish, "Merry Christmas to You."

Stuffed Animals: Real Or Fantasy

Both fantasy and realism are significant trends in the stuffed animal section of Toyland. Youngsters may fondle pedigreed pooches or felines, or cuddle up to fantastic animals inspired by cartoon characters or sheer imagination on the part of designers.

MARIN POETS' CORNER

JETS

Like sentinels of doom
they ride September sky,
and grumbling sonic boom,
they stifle eagles' cry.

Like stallions of the commonplace
their weighted hoofs resound,
as though a thundering weapon-race
were scuffing up the ground.

They heel our trembling to reverse
when they are near,
like watchdogs of the universe
who only bark at fear.

Tips on Purchase and Home Care of Your Wardrobe

By Bert Brown, Marin Cleaners of San Rafael, Bel Aire, & Fairfax, GL 4-4792
Member, Textile Maintenance Committee, University of California

"WHY DID MY LINEN SUIT DEVELOP HOLES?"

You state that your linen suit came back from the cleaners and simply hung in the closet for a season. When you wanted to wear it, there were holes in the shoulders. It is natural that you think that your cleaner had something to do with it. However, this was not the case.

Your linen suit hung in a tightly-closed closet, without air circulation. The villain in the case is the plastic hanger on which your suit was hung. Celluloid can damage garments in confined spaces, because it contains cellulose nitrate and decomposes, when there is no circulation of air. As it disintegrates, nitric acid fumes eat into the garment and weaken it. The holes may not show at once, but following cleaning or laundering they may appear as the weakened fabric is cleaned.

Not only will celluloid coat hangers cause this damage, but pocket combs, knitting needles and anything of that plastic nature left in contact with cotton, linen and rayon fabrics will act the same way.

When storing garments, make certain that they are not on plastic hangers and that the storage closet has some ventilation. Be certain, too, that you haven't left any articles in pockets or clips or pins on dresses or suits. They can cause damage, too.

MARIN POETS' CORNER

JETS

Like sentinels of doom
they ride September sky,
and grumbling sonic boom,
they stifle eagles' cry.

Like stallions of the commonplace
their weighted hoofs resound,
as though a thundering weapon-race
were scuffing up the ground.

They heel our trembling to reverse
when they are near,
like watchdogs of the universe
who only bark at fear.

Tips on Purchase and Home Care of Your Wardrobe

By Bert Brown, Marin Cleaners of San Rafael, Bel Aire, & Fairfax, GL 4-4792

"WHY DID MY LINEN SUIT DEVELOP HOLES?"

You state that your linen suit came back from the cleaners and simply hung in the closet for a season. When you wanted to wear it, there were holes in the shoulders. It is natural that you think that your cleaner had something to do with it. However, this was not the case.

Your linen suit hung in a tightly-closed closet, without air circulation. The villain in the case is the plastic hanger on which your suit was hung. Celluloid can damage garments in confined spaces, because it contains cellulose nitrate and decomposes, when there is no circulation of air. As it disintegrates, nitric acid fumes eat into the garment and weaken it. The holes may not show at once, but following cleaning or laundering they may appear as the weakened fabric is cleaned.

Not only will celluloid coat hangers cause this damage, but pocket combs, knitting needles and anything of that plastic nature left in contact with cotton, linen and rayon fabrics will act the same way.

When storing garments, make certain that they are not on plastic hangers and that the storage closet has some ventilation. Be certain, too, that you haven't left any articles in pockets or clips or pins on dresses or suits. They can cause damage, too.

More And More Marinites Are Joining The Square Dance Fun

Throughout The County, They're Swinging Their Partners And Promenading

Did you ever puzzle over those items in your Independent-Journal about such strangely named organizations as the Buzzin' Boots, the Cornhuskers, the Circle O Promenaders or the Mill Wheelers?

Perhaps you read far enough to realize that they were square dancing groups, and then you skipped along to something else with the thought that you weren't interested in anything as raffish as that. If you did, you overlooked a fast-growing social activity that is claiming thousands of new devotees in California every year—people in all walks of life, united in the common bond that they enjoy the challenge of unison pattern dancing.

AND NOWHERE is it more popular than in Marin.

The Marin County Square Dance Assn. will tell you that the afore-mentioned Buzzin Boots, Cornhuskers, Circle O Promenaders and Mill Wheelers are the four oldest square dance clubs in Marin. Yet, all are less than 10 years old. Clubs come and go, but their number in Marin hovers around 10, and they are spread throughout Marin from Novato to Mill Valley.

Square dancing is an outgrowth of the quadrille (note the Latin prefix "quad" meaning four and indicating the four-sided nature of the dancers' grouping on the floor). That pattern still persists in the square, four-sided box formed by the four couples at the beginning of each square. And quadrille patterns are still used occasionally in square dancing.

During the 1930s, square dancing dropped to its lowest ebb. Occasionally it was taught in school to recreation groups. Informally at social gatherings, someone might "walk" a group through a few simple squares. A few devotees might gather in a small club, often with folk dancing sharing their interest and energy. They would memorize a few recorded dances and soon everyone could do all the known square dances. Just announce the name of the dance, start the music and the dancers needed little help from the caller. Not so today.

THE DEVELOPMENT of good recording and portable phonograph equipment after the war did more than any other one thing to change the nature of square dancing.

Now the caller was freed of the limitations of memorized dances, since he could be plainly heard by everyone in the biggest hall. Calls could be more melodious, and the soft-voiced but clever improviser could be a success without the help of electronics.

NEW ELECTRONIC equipment has been a big boon to the square dance callers. Here Gordon Collins of Terra Linda makes use of it as he calls a square for a Marin group.

THE CORNHUSKERS of Larkspur, one of Marin's flourishing square dancing clubs, have themselves a great time as they follow the instructions of the caller to "allamande thar." The Cornhuskers meet every Wednesday night at the American Legion Hall in Larkspur. The club will soon be observing its ninth anniversary, making it one of the senior groups among Marin's square dancing organizations.

YOUNGSTERS FROM Novato's Lu Sutton School get a briefing on what a first aid kit contains and just how the contents are used from Robert Parker, co-owner of the Marin Ambulance Service. "A first aid kit seems to frighten youngsters and adults alike," explains Parker. "But if they know what's in it and how to use it, loss of vital time during an emergency is avoided." A Teacher Prepares Her Class

Students Learn What Occurs In An Emergency

By DAN WHITE

What to do in an emergency?

There's the story about the Navy man who during the war was assigned the task of instructing people on just what to do in the event of an emergency. But, the story continues, when he himself faced such an emergency, he, having had no actual experience, panicked and ran head-on into a brick wall, killing himself instantly.

This seems to prove the old adage that goes "there's no teacher like experience." The saying is said to continue: " . . . but sometimes the teacher is late for school."

One Marin teacher has given this adage some thought. She decided that experience wouldn't come too late for the young members of her class. She is Mrs. Jan de La Fontaine, teacher of a special class at Novato's Lu Sutton School.

"ONE OF MY students came to class and told about being horrified when he was involved in an accident and rushed down the highway in an ambulance," related Mrs. de La Fontaine.

Mrs. de La Fontaine, or "Miss Fontaine" as her students know her, explained that, with all the stress on civil defense and "preparedness" for emergencies, she felt it more important than ever before that youngsters have practical experience in what to do in an emergency.

With this thought in mind, Mrs. de La Fontaine immediately set to work to "prepare" her students by offering them, not only instruction, but all-important practical experience. The instruction seemed relatively easy to prepare, but the opportunity of offering experience seemed to offer somewhat of a problem. Her young pupil who had spoken of being frightened by his ride in an ambulance led Mrs. de La Fontaine to contact John A. Raggio, co-owner of Marin Ambulance Service and explain her ideas to him. Raggio, along with his partner, Robert R. Parker, immediately set to work to arrange some "experience" for the youngsters.

"We feel that this training is so valuable to youngsters and adults alike," said Parker, "that we are now making this service available to any school or organization desiring such instruction."

THE FIRST step on the road to "being prepared" came about two weeks before the big day when the youngsters would study the ambulance first hand. The students made emergency phone number cards for their homes.

"The children come from all over Marin to attend this special class," the teacher explained, "and so we put each youngster's local police de-

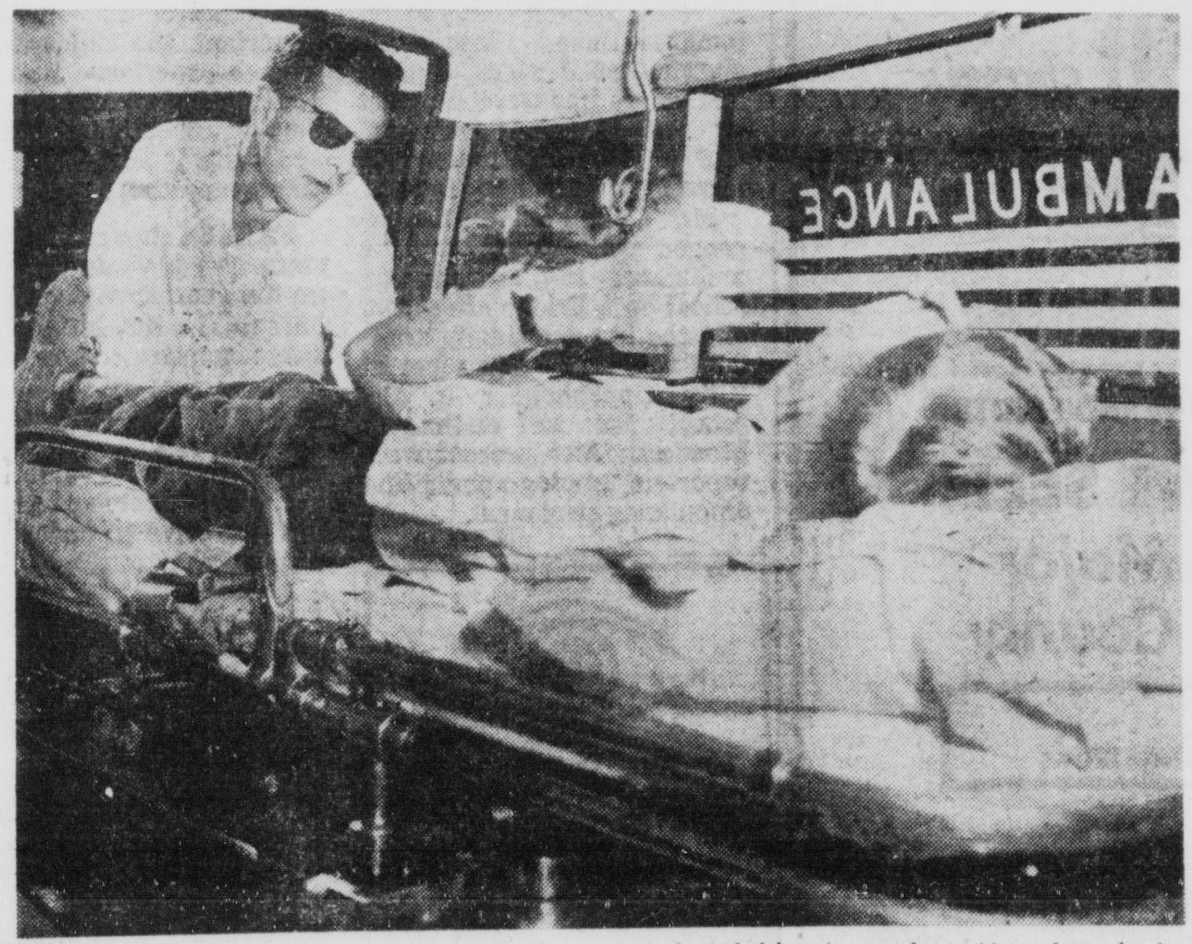
ONE STUDENT decided to try out the comfortable guerney, and immediately found himself in the role of guinea pig for the demonstration of ambulance procedure that followed. Above the "patient" tells radio KTIM's Kitty Oppenheimer about a previous experience with an ambulance during a lull in the demonstration.

"HEY, WHAT GOES ON here?" asks the youngster, "I'm not hurt." But his fellow students are being given a demonstration on how the guerney is collapsed and loaded into the ambulance. The "patient" shades his eyes against the strong rays of the sun.



INSIDE THE ambulance, the guerney is locked into place, and all is ready for the trip to the hospital. Such a "dry run," according to the children's teacher, Mrs. Jan de La Fontaine, is an excellent way of eliminating fear should a real emergency develop in the future.

CARE OF THE PATIENT continues inside the ambulance while the emergency vehicle speeds him to the hospital. partment and fire department phone numbers and the ambulance number on the card."

Then every day the students were drilled on the numbers in class, helping them to remember them. Flash cards showing road signs, signals and safety tips were supplied by the California Highway Patrol to aid the students in learning these safety factors.

Mrs. de La Fontaine had arranged with Parker for the ambulance to come to the school on a Friday afternoon, and the big day finally arrived. Radio KTIM sent reporter Kitty Oppenheimer to the school for an on-the-spot broadcast. Also present were reporters, photographers and ambulance personnel.

The youngsters, up to 12 years old, spent over an hour receiving instruction from Parker and Mrs. de La Fontaine on the functions of an ambulance and general emergency procedures. But more important, the children were able to experience first-hand emergency conditions thus helping to eliminate fright and panic if and when a real emergency should arise.

PARKER showed the youngsters how a victim is placed on the guerney and cared for enroute to the hospital. He also demonstrated how an ambulance steward splints an arm or leg and the reason for doing so, and one of the braver students even volunteered to sniff an ammonia capsule used to revive an unconscious person. "It burns" was his only reaction.

Climaxing the study was a ride in the ambulance complete with flashing red lights and siren.

"We were 100 per cent pleased with the whole thing," stated Mrs. de La Fontaine, "and I know the children benefited tremendously from this experience."

"Naturally we all hope nothing ever happens," the teacher commented, "but if it should we want our youngsters to know what to do and who to call".

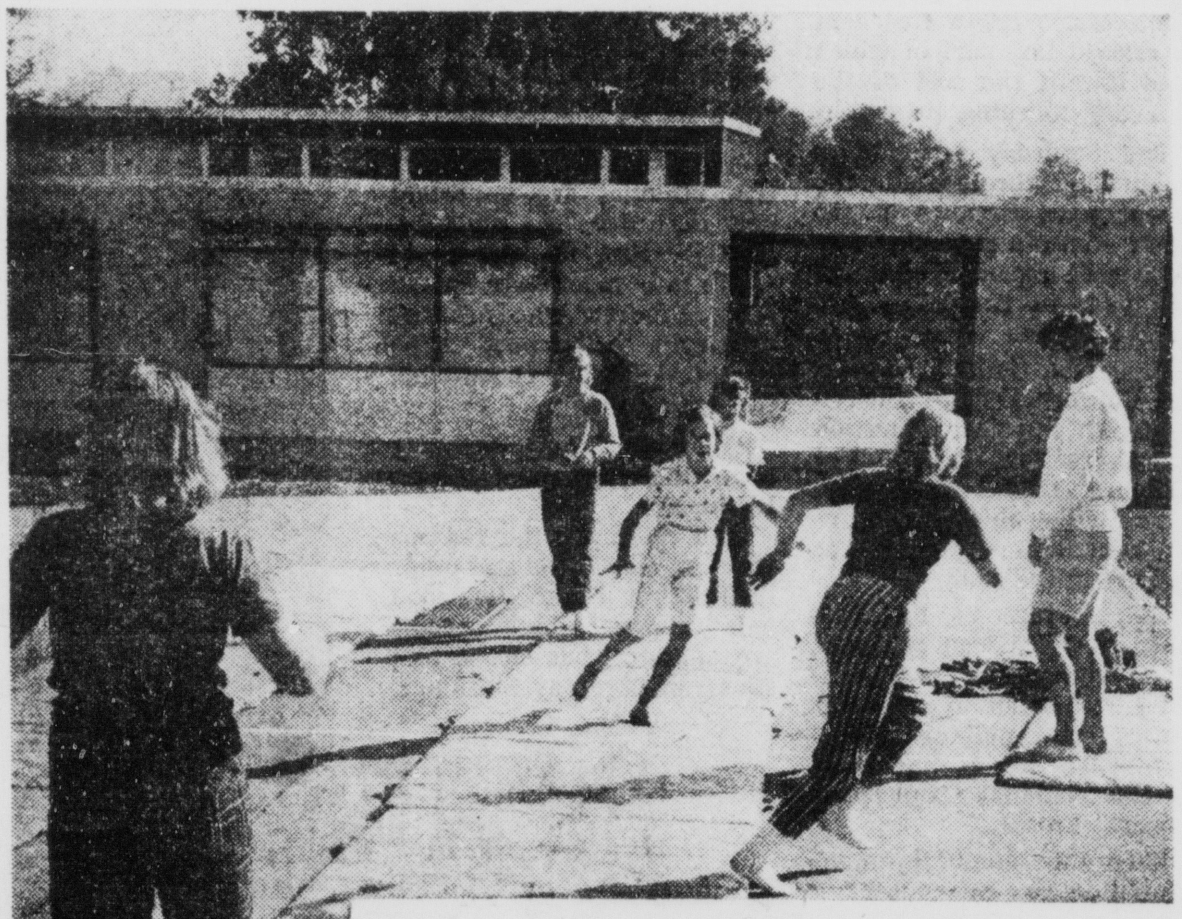
PHYSICAL FITNESS is broader than just the competitive sports, believes the Tamalpais High School District. And so in their Saturday morning recreation programs for grade school youngsters, the district's physical education departments see that all kinds of physical skills are utilized. For instance at Sir Francis Drake in San Anselmo, where more than 800 boys and girls take part in the Saturday a. m. program, tumbling is a popular pastime. In photo above young Julie Mensing learns the headstand with the assistance of instructor Jan Catey and some of her playmates. And in photo below some of the girls enjoy a spirited game of "Red Rover." (Independent-Journal photos)



NO LULL ON SATURDAYS AT DRAKE PLAY FIELDS

By DON KEOWN

Some schools close their doors on Friday afternoons and do not open them again until Monday morning. Not so, the schools of the Tamalpais High School District.

It is the policy of Tam District trustees to encourage maximum community use of school facilities and grounds.

AS PART OF that policy, the district conducts recreation programs on Saturday mornings for grade school boys and girls on its high school campuses.

It is a program that has grown and become more varied through the years. Typical is the program at Sir Francis Drake High School in San Anselmo.

Eight years ago two mothers, Mrs. R. P. Gatterdam and

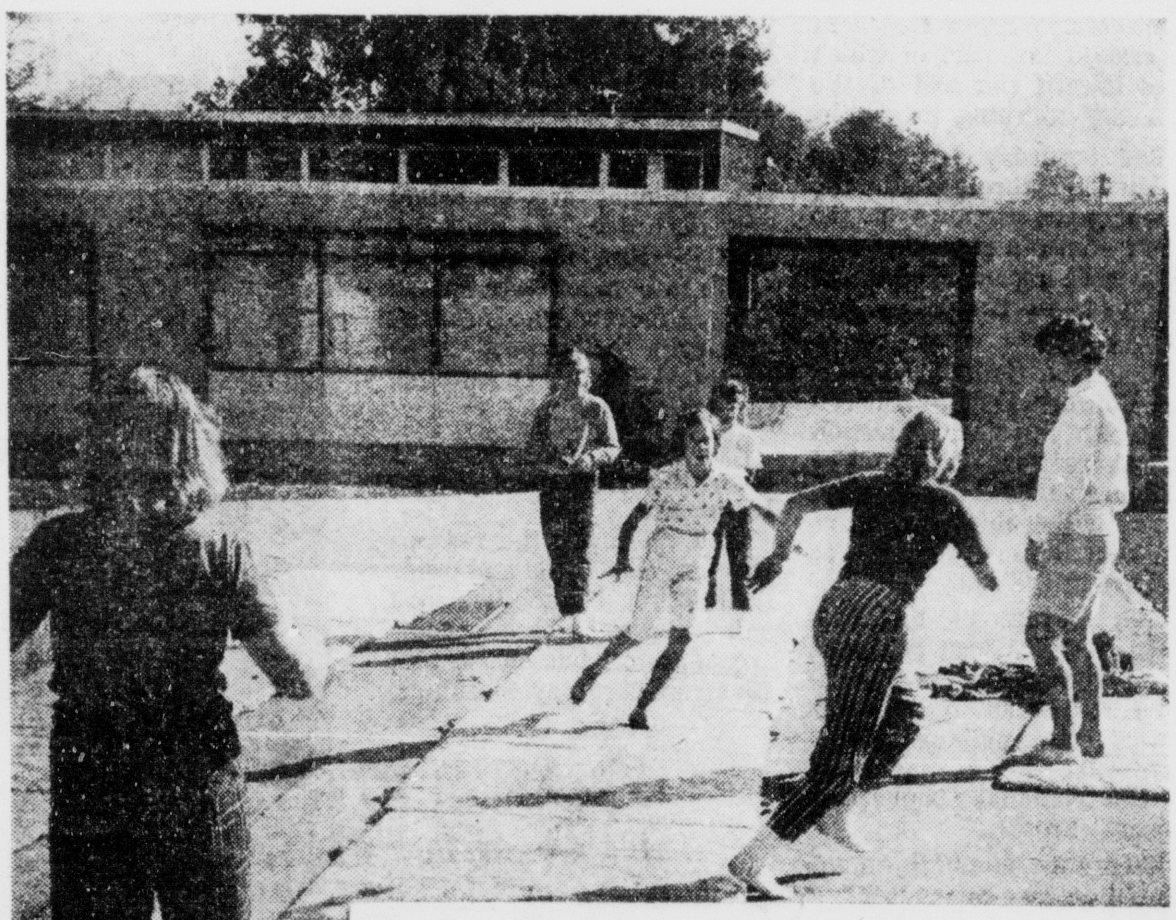
PHYSICAL FITNESS is broader than just the competitive sports, believes the Tamalpais High School District. And so in their Saturday morning recreation programs for grade school youngsters, the district's physical education departments see that all kinds of physical skills are utilized. For instance at Sir Francis Drake in San Anselmo, where more than 800 boys and girls take part in the Saturday a. m. program, tumbling is a popular pastime. In photo above young Julie Mensing learns the headstand with the assistance of instructor Jan Catey and some of her playmates. And in photo below some of the girls enjoy a spirited game of "Red Rover." (Independent-Journal photos)



NO LULL ON SATURDAYS AT DRAKE PLAY FIELDS

By DON KEOWN

Some schools close their doors on Friday afternoons and do not open them again until Monday morning. Not so, the schools of the Tamalpais High School District.

It is the policy of Tam District trustees to encourage maximum community use of school facilities and grounds.

AS PART OF that policy, the district conducts recreation programs on Saturday mornings for grade school boys and girls on its high school campuses.

It is a program that has grown and become more varied through the years. Typical is the program at Sir Francis Drake High School in San Anselmo.

Eight years ago two mothers, Mrs. R. P. Gatterdam and

THE MAN WHO keeps a close watch on the Saturday morning recreation program at Sir Francis Drake High School in San Anselmo is Bob Fitzhenry, Drake's recreation director and physical education department head. Fitzhenry has been with Drake since the school opened in 1951.

IT'S HARD TO BEAT swimming as recreation, both from the standpoint of enjoyment and healthful exercise. And so Sir Francis Drake High uses its fine swimming pool in San Anselmo extensively as part of its Saturday morning recreation program for grade school children. Here some of the youngsters enjoy a workout and get some tips from instructor Beth Kaufman.

Building Strong Young Bodies

Mrs. John Elliot, asked about the possibility of starting a Saturday morning recreation class for some boys in their neighborhood. That first recreation group opened with 20 boys in attendance. From this beginning has developed today's program which attracts some 800 boys and girls to the Drake High School grounds on Saturday mornings.

These youngsters, ages 7 through 14, take part in such physical education and fitness activities as trampoline and tumbling, team sports, dance (for girls), team lead-up games, tennis, badminton, ping pong, diving and swimming.

DRAKE'S music teacher, Perry Smith, has classes in wind, percussion and string instruments for beginners, intermediate and advanced students.

As more of the youngsters join the advanced group, a band or orchestra will be formed.

Heading up the overall recreation program is Bob Fitzhenry, Drake's recreation director and physical education department chairman. Carl Brown, the Pirates' varsity basketball coach; Nancy Lemon, girls' physical education teacher; Beth Kaufman, nationally-recognized swimming instructor, and Bob Peterson, an eighth grade teacher in Mill Valley, make up the remainder of the adult staff.

They are backed up by four college students and 16 high school youths selected for their sports knowledge, understanding of children and interest in a future in teaching.

The program is partially financed by a $1 registration fee which each participating family pays per school year. In addition, there is a 50 cents per child per month fee.

The Tamalpais High School District also has a five cent recreation tax, part of which goes toward the cost of the Saturday morning programs.

The Saturday program is conducted throughout the school year. Because of the heavy enrollment, the sessions were expanded at Drake this year to run from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

C. Carson Conrad, chief of the California State Bureau of Health, Physical Education and Recreation, was a recent visitor at Drake. He praised the activities there as one of the outstanding programs of its kind in the state.

One feature of the program is the special attention given boys and girls who cannot pass a minimum physical fitness test of pull-ups, sit-ups and squat thrusts published by the National Council on Physical Fitness.

Why this emphasis upon recreation for our youth?

Fitzhenry provides these answers:

"The years during which the physical skills essential for successful sports participation about those last points, adds years between 7 and 17. During these '10 skill years' our boys and girls learn more than 80 per cent of the physical activity skills which an individual acquires in a lifetime. It follows, then, that programs of physical education and sports participation are particularly important during those vital 10 years.

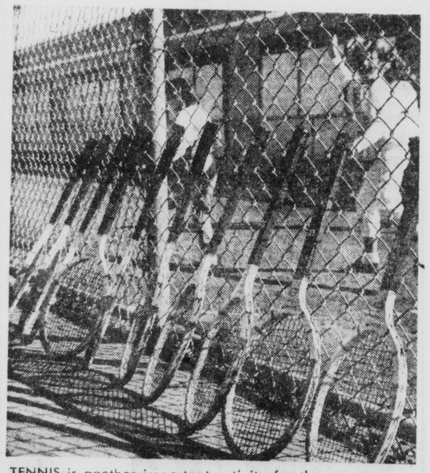
"One comprehensive study found that delinquent children had fewer skills than the non-delinquent ones.

"A STUDY showed that 40 to 50 per cent of the Army Air Force trainees in World War II did not have a sufficient degree of skill in any sport to desire to compete. Recognizing the values of sports in increasing fitness, coordination, strength and quick reactions, the Army Air Force program placed heavy stress on the teaching of sports, skills and intramural participation.

"Although we all believe that athletics are important and desirable, we must remember that the fitness of youth is broader than sports. Also, children who are not physically gifted need to be taught skills and encouraged to participate."

"I FEEL very strongly about those last points," adds Fitzhenry.

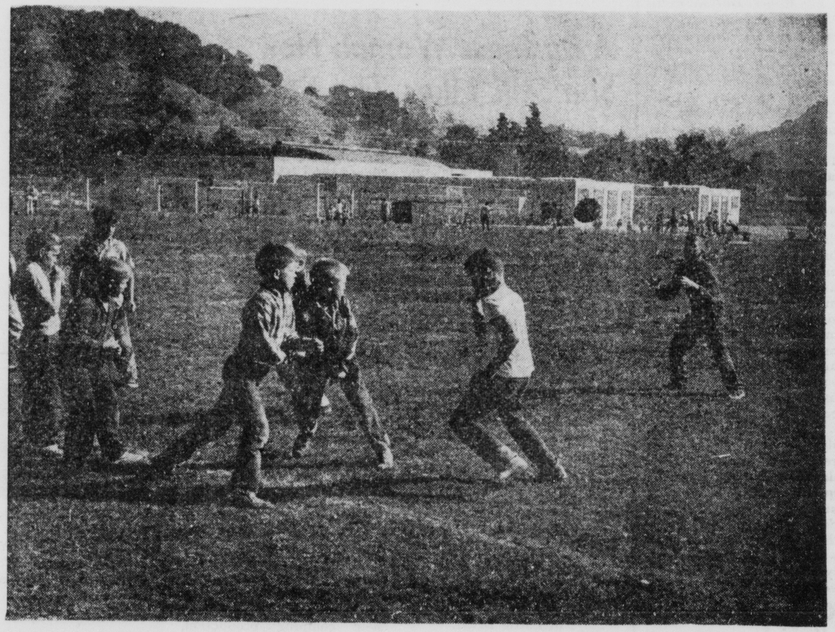
And those are the reasons why the play fields and other facilities at Drake, Redwood and Tamalpais high schools are anything but closed and silent on Saturday mornings.



TENNIS is another important activity for the young participants in the Saturday morning recreation prgoram at Sir Francis Drake High School. Here rackets are lined up along the court, waiting for the young enthusiasts for the net sport.

THESE BOYS develop strong young arms while at the same time working off some of their energy and exuberance during this Saturday morning recreation session at Drake High On hand to give them advice, encouragement and assistance is instructor Walt Klenz. (Independent-Journal photos by Joe DeNarie and Dick Steinheimer)

ENJOYING AN INVIGORATING romp on the trampoline at the Drake High grounds is Kelly Starrett while other girls await their turn. Trampoline is combined with tumbling as one of the chief attractions at the Saturday recreation sessions. The trampoline instructor is Kathy Poganski.



IF COMPETITIVE SPORTS do not dominate the Drake recreation program on Saturday mornings, neither are they totally ignored. Here some boys take part in a hotly contested game of touch football as one of them gets off a pass. Such activities are closely supervised, and the boys pick up some of the finer points of the sports while at the same time having a lot of fun.

Having expressed our feelings of Thanksgiving, we now enter the holiday period of warmth and friendship. We prepare for the greatest of all celebrations, the birthday of Christ the Lord. The feeling of peace and good will spreads over us and warms our souls. During this holiday period, the importance of Music is brought forth most strikingly. Christmas carols will ring forth from every radio and TV station and from background music systems in markets, stores, and restaurants.

Mr. Robert Burton, in his "Anatomy of Melancholy" (1621) said, "Musick is a roaring-meg against melancholy, to rear and revive the languishing soul; affecting not only the ears, but the very arteries, the vital and animal spirits, it erects the mind and makes it nimble. This it will effect in the most dull, severe, and sorrowful souls, expell grief with mirth; and, if there bee any cloudes, dust or dreggs of cares yet lurking in our thoughts, most powerfully it wipes them all away . . . —Many men are melancholy by hearing musick; but it is a pleasing melancholy that it causeth; and therefore, to such as are discontent, in wo, fear, sorry or dejected, it is a most present remedy; it easeth in an instant."

To insure that your family can enjoy the priceless relaxation of music every day of the year, choose a quality system made from audio components. Visit our Sound Room and let us demonstrate the wonderful world of music and especially stereophonic sound for your home.

From Rene's Scrapbook

DEAR TO THE HEART of any entertainer is her scrapbook. Rene MacDonald lost most of her pictures in the World War II bombings of London. Above are some she still has. At top, as she appeared just after World War II prior to beginning a tour of Nigeria. Below, at left, out of uniform, but very much in the British Army and with some of her service friends. And at right, aboard the cruise ship Florida where she served as a cruise director and entertainer.

A Business Woman Now, But She Still Likes The Stage

Here Rene MacDonald is a business woman, a partner in Marin Ambulance Service. But in her native England, before coming to the U.S., she led a different kind of life. There she was part of the entertainment world.

She was born in Liverpool, England. Her grandfather, who was both a stockbroker and a tatooist, taught her to dance when she could barely walk. At the age of 12 she played her first starring role with a company that presented "Puss-In-Boots" in pantomime as a Christmas production and toured England for several weeks.

Soon afterwards, with her grandmother as her companion, she joined the circus as a trainee. World War II's outbreak in 1939 found them in Ireland. And they hastened home where Rene, then 17, joined the British Army for three and a half years of service.

Much of her enlistment time was spent performing in "Stars in Battle Dress."

After the war she rejoined the Christmas show troupe as captain of the line for "Mother Goose." This was followed by a tour of Nigeria.

It was in 1953 that she and her husband bought a golf club in the USA at Shorthills, N.J. There she was active in little theater and benefit shows for hospitals and churches. Florida was her next stop where she and a dancing partner served as cruise directors and entertainers aboard the Florida, a ship that sailed between Miami and Nassau and Havana.

She arrived in Marin in February and became a partner in Marin Ambulance Service in April. She lives in an apartment at the back of the ambulance garage, and a constant companion is the switchboard which cannot be left unattended for a single second.

After a few months of 24-hour duty on the switchboard it isn't surprising that Rene developed a yearning for at least a partial return to her old way of life. Consequently, she has joined the Twin Cities Troupers and will appear in their comping production, "Suds in Your Eyes." Her role: That of Connie, the vamp.

The play will open next Friday night and will run Friday and Saturday evenings at 8 o'clock for two weekends in the Henry C. Hall School auditorium in Larkspur. The Troupers are sponsored by the Larkspur-Corte Madera Recreation Commission.

Dos-A-Dos And Away They Go

Any rhythmic music could now be used for square dancing, freeing it from the narrow confines of the style known as "country music." But, say the devotees, you haven't lived until you have square danced to the tune of "The Battle of New Orleans" or "Making Whoopee."

Starting in the southwestern part of the country in about 1946, the tempo of square dancing began to increase in the U. S.

Many new movements and dance figures were added to make for greater variety. The faster tempo and the larger number of patterns elevated the caller to a new role — that of the unquestioned and absolutely essential leader of the dancers. Now everyone had to "listen to the call." It was no longer possible to remember the hundreds of long and intricate dances which became popular and which are called today.

SOME CALLERS "ad lib" as they go along. But most calls are memorized by that hard-working fellow (or gal).

The dancer's role is to learn all the 20 or 25 basic figures of square dancing, and to be able to twist and spin and turn instantly to the rapid-fire command of the caller.

The authors of the calls work out their compositions with the aid of small mechanical devices that look like a checkerboard with magnetic checkers. On these, they can duplicate the movements of the dancers so that when an "Allemande Left" is finally reached, every dancer's position is correct for that call.

Marin has such a dance composer in Madeleine Allen, wife of Larkspur City Councilman Dan Allen. The Allens are nationally known for their work in promoting square dancing.

At the present time five Marin clubs are teaching beginners how to square dance. After these novices have had seven or more lessons at weekly sessions, the Marin Square Dance Assn. invites them to attend one of its monthly square dance jamborees.

Each Marin caller, in turn, acts as "emcee" for these parties, calling at progressively advanced levels as the dancers themselves become more proficient.

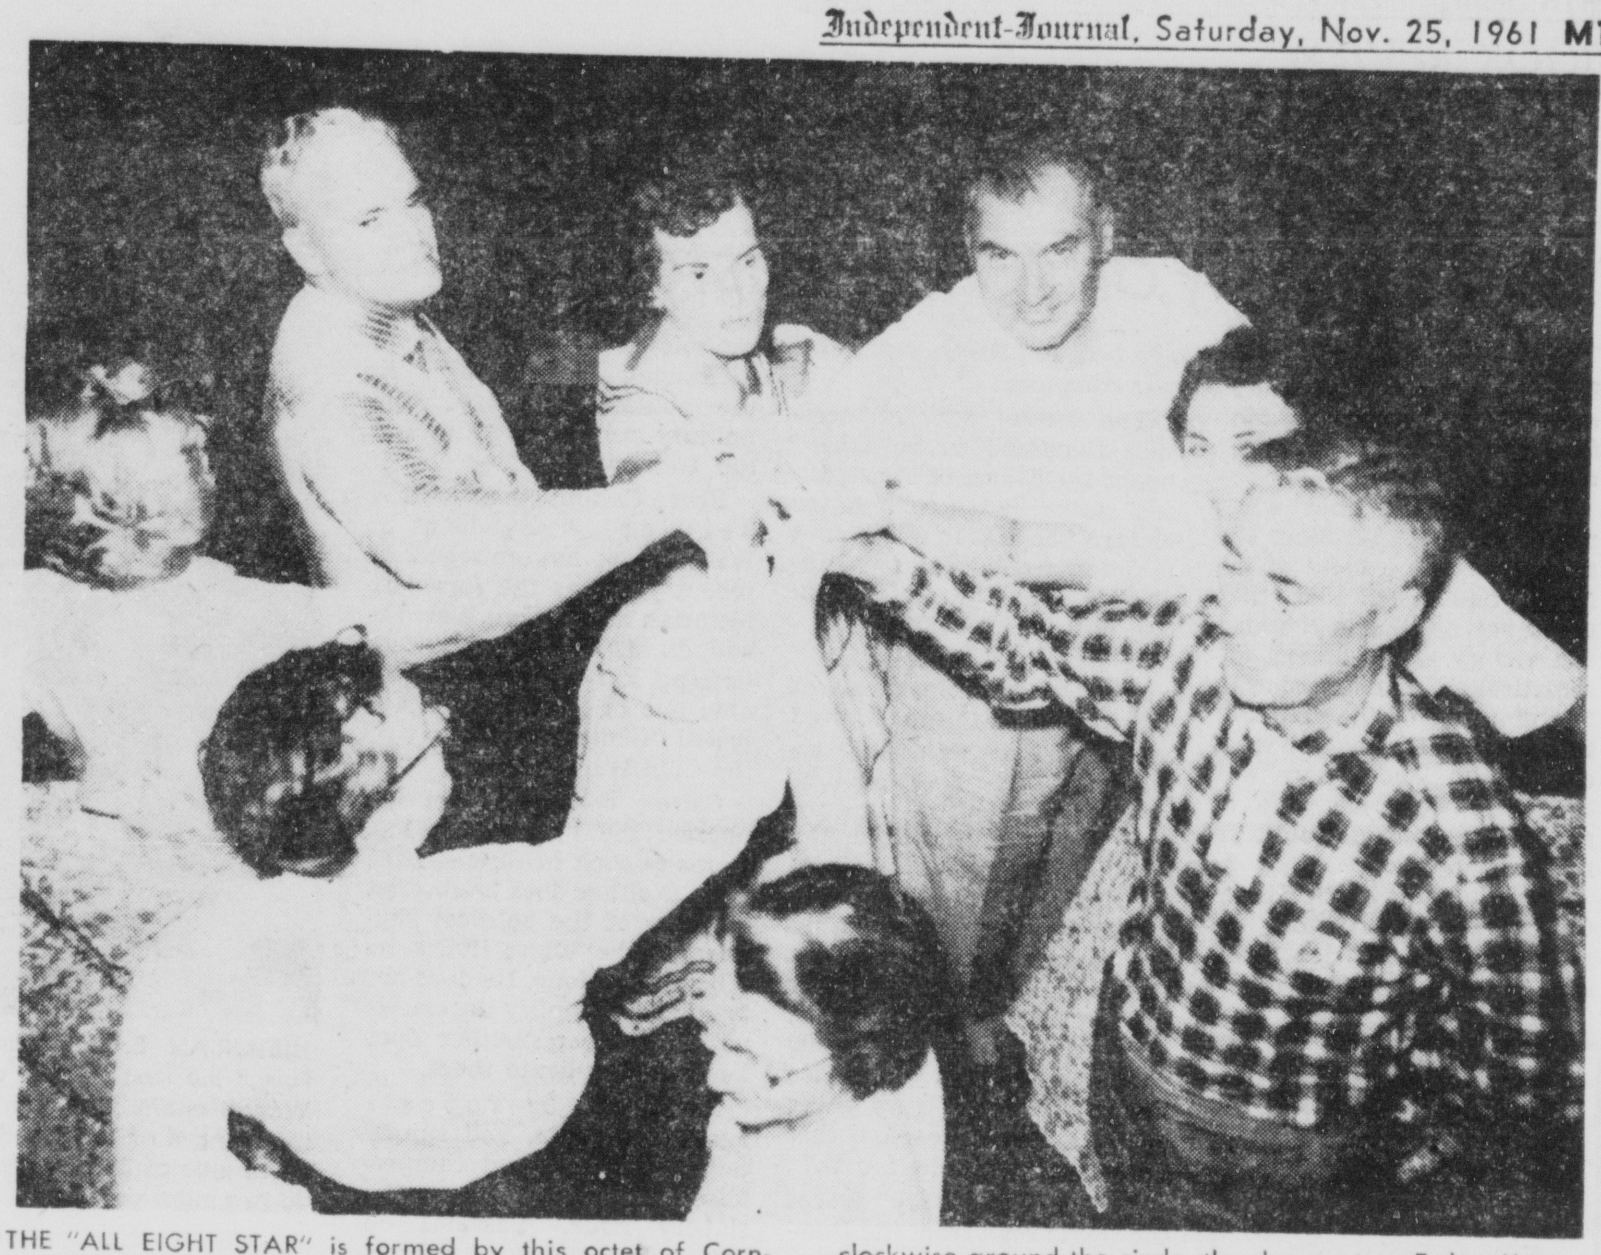
SO THAT ALL sections of the county can have their turn, the jamborees are held alternately at the IDESI Hall in Novato and the Adeline Kent School in Kentfield.

Making up the Marin Square Dance Assn. club roster are the Buzzin' Boots of San Anselmo, the Circle O Promenaders of Mill Valley, the Cornhuskers of Larkspur, the Hay Balers of San Anselmo, the Mill Wheelers of Mill Valley, the Fiddle Footers of Novato, the Novato Squares of Novato, the Stump Jumpers of Novato and the Tumbleweeds of San Anselmo.

One round dance group, the Merry-Go-Rounders of San Rafael, also belongs to the association. The tie is a natural one, it is explained, because "unison ballroom dancing is an integral part of a modern square dance evening."

For those who would like to join the growing ranks of Marinites who enjoy an evening of promenading and swinging their partners, association officers have this advice:

"Watch your Independent-Journal closely after the first of the year. A number of new beginners' classes will be starting up throughout the county. And they will be announced in the newspaper."



THE "ALL EIGHT STAR" is formed by this octet of Cornhusker square dancers. Starting at far left and moving clockwise around the circle, the dancers are Esther Hanger, Ollie Hanger, Arnesta Degard, Joe Degard, Merrie During, Bill During, Alice Murphy and Ed Russell.

WITH THE AID of a device resembling a checkerboard with magnetized "checkers," Mrs. Madeleine Allen of Larkspur composes a square dance. She and her husband, Dan, are nationally known for their work in promoting square dancing.

THE COMING FURY, by Bruce Catton, Doubleday and Co., 473 pages, $7.50. Reviewed by Bryce W. Anderson.

"This was a time when most men were purblind. The tragedy of the leaders of the North had been that they could not see that a Republican victory would almost automatically mean secession of one or many of the states of the deep South; and the tragedy of the Southerners was that they were not able to see that secession would finally mean war."

The time of which Bruce Catton speaks was 1860. Abraham Lincoln had just been elected president. The cleavage between North and South was complete.

The formal acts of secession remained to be taken; but at least some of the southern states had gone too far to turn back. War was bound to follow secessions, for neither side could grant the concessions to prevent it.

"Beyond any question," writes Catton, "almost all of the people in the United States in 1860 wanted to remain at peace. Wanting this, they kept drifting toward war, and as they drifted, the power to make the final, irrevocable decision—the ability to say or to leave unsaid the words that would start the guns firing—got farther and farther out of their hands. This meant that 600,000 young men who otherwise might have lived were going to die, but it seemed that there was no help for it."

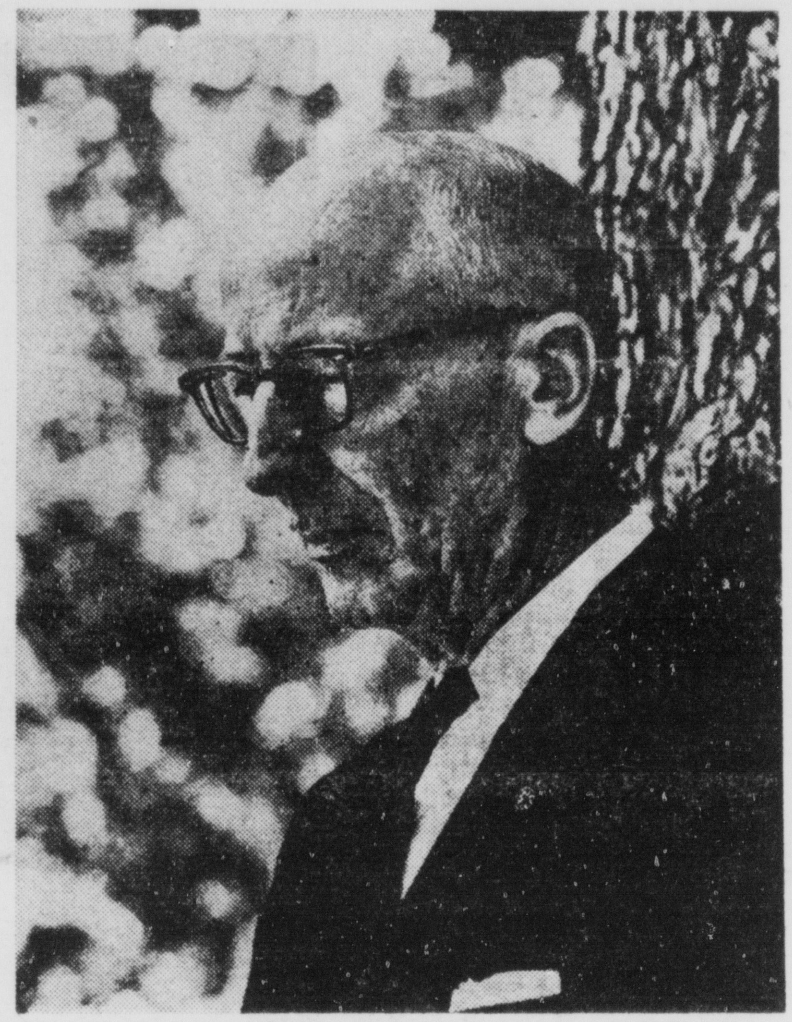
"The Coming Fury" traces the tragic road from the Democratic nominating convention at Charleston in April, 1860, to the Battle of Bull Run on July 21, 1861. It traces it in detail, in the various state statehouses, the capitols at Washington, and Richmond, Montgomery, in the political hustlings, the military camps, the cities and the countryside.

Bruce Catton, onetime NEA Service correspondent in Washington, has emerged in recent years as the foremost historian of the Civil War. He adds to his stature with "The Coming Fury," which is volume one of Doubleday's projected "Centennial History of the Civil War."

Catton does not over-emphasize the military aspects as many such historians have done. Neither does he restrict his view of the political situation to the White House, as others have done. He does not try to over-simplify the causes of the conflict; neither does he over-complicate them.

Americans, he repeats again and again, had simply talked too long and compromised too many times on the slavery issue. Passions on both sides had risen too high. Reason was dethroned. And tragedy must follow.

If subsequent volumes of Doubleday's "Centennial History" match up to this first one, it will stand as the greatest history yet written of the most dramatic and devastating years of our republic.



HISTORIAN Bruce Catton's latest book is "The Coming Fury," the first volume of a centennial history of the Civil War. It opens with the Democratic convention in Charleston in April of 1860 and closes with the nation split by the first battle of Bull Run in July of the next year. Catton will do two more volumes.

THEY CAME TO KILL by Eugene Rachlis, Random House, 306 pages, $4.95. Reviewed by Don Keown.

This is the true story of one of World War II's most bizarre episodes, the landing of eight German saboteurs from submarines on the Atlantic Coast of the United States in June of 1942.

Author Rachlis has made heavy use of the court records of the secret trial of the saboteurs, only recently made public, and supplemented that with other research. As a result, his story is rich in detail. Add to this lively and professional writing style and you have some very interesting reading.

One of the most absorbing aspects of Rachlis' story is the knockout blow it hands not only the Nazis' own belief in their superiority as supermen but also the opinion long held by much of the rest of the world that Hitler and his cohorts were masters of espionage and sabotage. The record of their attempt to throttle wartime production in the U.S. is one of almost unbelievable blunders and ineptness.

To begin with, the men selected for the vital mission were, with one or two possible exceptions, totally unfit for the task. That, at the start, doomed the project to failure. The three weeks of training these blunderers were then given was far too scanty considering the scope of their assignment. And the very outset of the misison was marked by a stupid error in which the Nazi masterminds provided their would-be agents with U.S. money that was in itself a dead give-away.

Another sidelight of Rachlis' narrative is the insight it gives into the operation of American justice under some most unusual wartime conditions. Some of the questions on procedure which arose then still have not been answered to the satisfaction of all.

The sabotage plot and its foiling is a story which has deserved to be told with a completeness that was not possible at the time the incidents occurred because of security considerations. Rachlis has performed the task well.

HERE'S ONE WAY you can start your indoor African Violet garden: Leaves, rooted in water and left there until small plantlets appeared at the base of the leaf stem, are now being transplanted to two-inch clay pots of soil. The pots can then be placed in a waterproof tray to facilitate watering. Simply pour water into the tray and let the porous pots soak up the moisture until the top soil feels damp to a dry finger tip. You will actually hear the pots drink up the water if you put your ear at tray level.

Begin Indoor Garden With African Violets

Growing plants in the house —especially those that bloom under normal room conditions —can be a rewarding experience.

For anyone who lives in an apartment, it's the only answer. But even the gardener with space to spare enjoys having plants close by where he can putter with them day or night.

Indoor plants are the hobbyist's delight, and the person who buys his first African Violet or his first Orchid often launches himself into a new way of life. Before you know it, he's added another and still another companion to his first purchase—usually the same type of plant, for hobbyists are specialists, too.

If you like the idea, but don't know where to start, an African Violet or two or three will provide the ideal launching point. These dainty little plants are easily grown when given the right light, and so varied are they in color and form that growing them is a constant new experience.

African Violets like temperatures that stay above 60 degrees and about as much light every day as they would derive from growing in an east window. This means that any east window inside the house proper will do nicely. Chances are the temperatures won't fall below 60 degrees even in winter—especially with thermostatically controlled heat.

Water frequently but not so often that the soil becomes soggy. If you let the surface soil in the pot dry to the touch before watering again, you should have no trouble.

Feeding should be an infrequent part of African Violet culture, but don't overlook it entirely. Use a liquid fish fertilizer for best results.

Two other possible starting points for the budding house plant hobbyist might be with Orchids, especially the exotic Catteleyas, with Cyclamen. These latter are at their finest in the winter months, but when you've gained some experience in growing them, you'll find they can be forced into bloom at almost any season. And since they grow outdoors, too, they are desirable "house" plants, indeed.

A CHECKLIST FOR GARDENERS OF MARIN

Here is the Marin gardener's checklist for the coming week:

- Camellias should be bought during their bloom season so you can see what you're getting. Check nurseries for the different varieties as they come to bloom.
- Spring blooming bulbs are still to be found, but you should plant them without further delay.
- Snails and slugs are active during cool weather. Scatter snail bait around your garden and keep a fresh supply on hand. Rain will wash out the pellet's effectiveness.
- Crabgrass control can start now. Ask your nurseryman about commercially prepared controls for use on areas where the pesky invader caused trouble last summer.

Rhododendrons

The collector is always on the alert for outstanding varieties to add to his or her collection. Several new introductions were named during 1960-61. Among them were CAROLYN GRACE, which received an Award of Excellence, the color is chartreuse-green with deep green foliage, a heavy bloomer, growing equally well in sun or shade, COTTON CANDY, is a large flowered pink with an unusual large truss; the truss being a bouquet of blooms, PINK PARFAIT, a very showy large vivid pink azaleadendron, heavy bloomer, compact and will take full sun, FINE FEATHERS, is a dainty primrose yellow the name implies foliage of plumage effect, GOLD BUG, a new American hybrid, buds open scarlet red, changing to orange and then to light yellow, ETHEL, grows like a tiny weeping tree not over a foot tall in ten years with waxy, glistening bright red blooms. We have these varieties on display and all of the varieties listed in the Sunset Western Garden Book, revised, with the exception of specie dalhousiae, which apparently is unavailable. Most varieties are scarce, in short supply and subject to be sold out.

THE EXTERIOR DECK of the Frank McCabe home in San Rafael's Country Club area fits in well with the home's wooded setting and the verdant hillside. Aralias and a tangerine tree soften the deck itself. It's Contemporary, And It's Charming

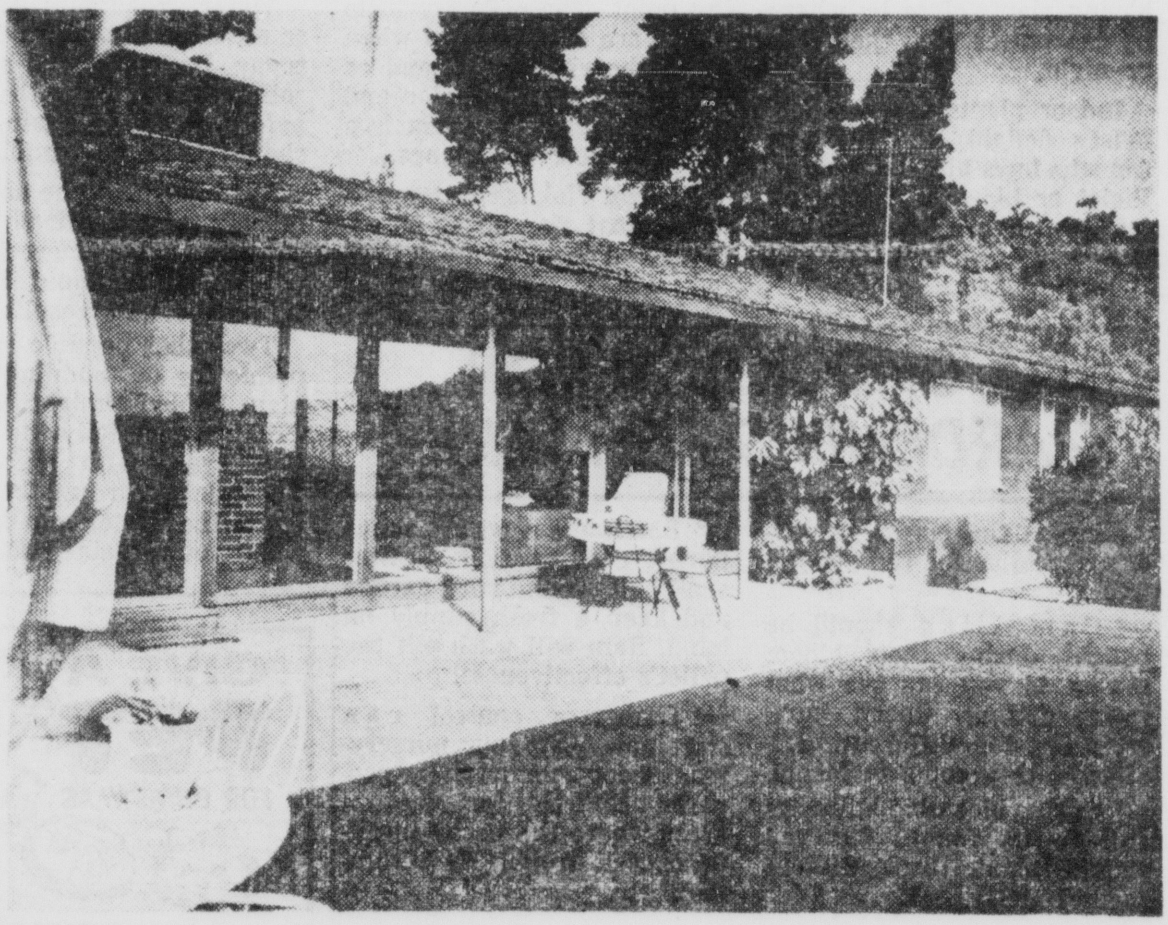
The home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCabe, 330 Summit Ave.,San Rafael, in the Country Club area, is a shining example of good design, sound construction and imaginative landscaping.

Planned and built by the William H. McDevitt Co. of San Rafael, the home has all of the contemporary charm so much in demand today. The McCabe home, built on a hillside lot, looks out over a vast panoramic view of Mount Diablo, the valley and the entire bay.

Its formal living room is divided from the family room by a free stand fireplace. Both rooms have easy access to a large entertainment deck.

The exterior of the redwood home is stained in natural tones to blend in with the lush verdant greenery. The only accent tone on the exterior of the home is the pale green front door. Poplar trees and acacia form a dramatic background and the use of various ice plants adds color to the terrain.

The house itself, built in 1956, sits on a bench, fitting aptly into the hillside. The McCabes feel it provides restful solitude, a pleasant place to entertain, and, most of all, a real feeling of home.



HERE YOU LOOK into the family room of the McCabe residence from the entrance deck. Note the use of heavy shingles on the roof to complement the weightiness of the trees in the background. Sliding doors provide easy access from inside to outside.

Smothers Brothers Poke More Fun At Folk Music

By JOHN SUNIER

THE SONGS AND COMEDY OF THE SMOTHERS BROTHERS AT THE PURPLE ONION—Mercury Stereo SR 60611. Classed as folk music satirists, the Smothers are very funny Brothers. And heaven knows there's plenty satireable in folk music today.

They're fresh, innocent (oh, yeah?) and never pretentious or artificial in their fast-moving act. One of a string of recent "recorded at the so-and-so in San Francisco" albums which have met with success, this album is further San Franciscanized by the fact that the boys live here.

Dick is married, and the straight-man of the partnership. Tom is the impish-looking, characteristically nervous introducer of the numbers, a non-confirmed bachelor who sounds on stage like a high school freshman making his first class speech. Examples: "Tzena, Tzena" is music from a one-humped-camel race; "They Call the Wind Maria," is from "the Israeli section of Holland," and "Tom Dooley" is sung in its "original virgin."
